

MRS. TINGLEY RAGE AT WITNESS

Theosophist Angrily Accuses Woman Dermatologist of Telling Untruths.

TESTIMONY IS SENSATION

Manicurist Who Said She Also Dyed Madame's Hair Quotes ex-Employer as Plotting for Aged Mrs. Thurston's Fortune.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Jan. 30.—Mrs. Marretta Dixon, a dermatologist, created the first thrill in three weeks in the Thurston-Tingley will contest day. Her appearance on the stand was a surprise to the defense, and the line of testimony seemed for several minutes to completely unnerve Mrs. Katherine Tingley, head of the Universal Brotherhood and Theosophical Society.

With tears in her eyes, Mrs. Tingley sprang to her feet, faced the judge and jury, and, despite the protests of her attorneys and the admonition of the magistrate, said: "Judge, I want to say to the judge and jury that this woman is deliberately lying and falsifying."

Woman Dragged to Seat. Before she could continue, her attorneys dragged her to her seat.

Mrs. Dixon had testified to a conversation Mrs. Tingley is alleged to have had with Mrs. Ethelind Dunn, in which Mrs. Tingley is alleged to have said: "Come here, Ethelind dear, I want to speak with you. Well, we have the old girl (meaning Mrs. Thurston) coming our way, but you know, Ethelind dear, we must play our cards smoothly."

FEWER NEWSPAPERS EXIST

Total Listed in American Annual 13 Less Than Year Ago.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 30.—That there are fewer newspapers in the United States than there were a year ago is revealed by figures presented in the American Newspaper Annual, published today. A year ago the number of daily papers was 3,472; the 1912 annual lists 3,459.

WALSH'S WILL IS BARRED

Belief Late Banker Suffered Hallucinations Causes Court's Act.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—The will of John E. Walsh, former banker, was refused admittance to probate today by John W. Rainey, assistant to Probate Judge Catling. The widow, Mrs. Walsh, was left the entire estate and will not be affected by the ruling of the court.

HAZZARD WITNESS SIGNALS

(Continued From First Page.) ly offered by the defense. She did testify, however, that the defendant had protested against her action as nurse in providing more food than she thought best.

Cross-Examination Is Critical. It was at a point where she had declared Miss Williamson had been furnished with cooked eggs, tomato soup, spinach and asparagus and cream that Mr. Merford interposed with a protest. The cross-examination was critical, the witness being required to answer in detail every article she had served the patient during the 13 days she was engaged as a nurse.

Supporting the state's implied contention that Miss Williamson was under the mental power of Mrs. Hazzard, the witness said: "Claire's faith and confidence in Dr. Hazzard was such that she would obey her implicitly, in everything."

Codici to Will Witnessed. Miss Robinson also told of having witnessed the signature of Claire to a codicil to her will under which Mrs. Hazzard became a beneficiary. She declared the proceedings were entirely regular and that the papers were prepared at the instigation of Samuel C. Hazzard, husband of the defendant.

Defense May Rest Tomorrow. The defense probably will rest its case Thursday, when the state will begin the introduction of witnesses in rebuttal. Miss Robinson was the only witness at the morning session. She was asked: "Was everything you saw done at the sanitarium, was everything you heard said by everyone there, was every action you saw there above reproach?" and replied: "Yes, Miss Robinson's account of the farewell interview between Dorothea and her dying sister contradicted Dorothea's story. She said that Mrs. Hazzard did not ask Claire if she wished a treatment, did not press her abdomen, and did not interfere in the conversation so that the sisters could not communicate. Witness told how Claire drew Dorothea down to the bed, put her arms about her and sobbed. Witness left the room then, but Mrs. Hazzard remained.

On cross-examination, Miss Robinson said that nothing at Olalla caused her uneasiness except the appearance of suspicion and unfriendliness between Dorothea and Mrs. Hazzard. Witness did not believe in the Hazzard dieting and fasting treatment, and told Mrs. Hazzard said saying the patients should have meat juices. Mrs. Hazzard replied: "They are the best judges, and they are vegetarians."

Witness believed the patients should have had the services of a medical doctor. At the time of Claire's death she weighed much less than 75 pounds, but more than 50 pounds, witness said. This testimony contradicted that of Mrs. Hazzard's earlier witness, a Seattle eye and ear specialist who assisted Mrs. Hazzard in performing an autopsy upon the dead woman's body.

Mrs. Hazzard had testified, in answer to a hypothetical question from his examination at the autopsy Dr. Olmstead stated that death might have been caused by organic trouble as well as by starvation. His judgment, he said, prompted the decision that organic trouble was the true cause.

CHILD BUREAU OPPOSED

SENATOR BAILEY HAS FLING AT VIEWS OF WOMAN.

More She Knows Than She Ought to Know, Says Texan, the Less She Knows of Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30.—The proposal for a children's bureau in the Department of Commerce and Labor to investigate and report in all matters affecting the welfare of children, was debated in the Senate today without action and will be voted upon tomorrow.

Because of the many Senators who wished to speak and the agreement previously reached on this legislative day, the Senate after a running fire of constitutional attacks on the measure, took a recess at 5 o'clock tonight until noon tomorrow.

Senator Gallinger opposed the bill, contemplating an unwarranted intrusion into private affairs. He discussed criticisms of the reports made by a child labor bureau a few years ago, and said that these reports revealed nothing worse than the "turkey trot" dance in vogue in Washington City.

Mr. Hayburn attacked the bill as a discrimination against the poor and Senator Overman branded it as unnecessary. Senator Smith, of Georgia, made his maiden speech in support of the bill. He said it would be of vast benefit to children, without interfering with state rights.

ASTORIA, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The barkentine Charles F. Crocker, laden with 400,000 feet of lumber from the Hammond Lumber Company's mill for Ellen, Peru, while lying in the lower harbor just north of Dundeonona light, broke anchor in the strong ebb tide today, and but for the prompt action and good seamanship of Captain Dwarfs, would probably have been lost. At high tide tonight the vessel drifted and was blown toward the beach. At high tide tonight the vessel drifted and was blown toward the beach.

MRS. HOWELL IN COURT

Spokane Woman Seeks Annulment of Marriage in California.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—(Special.)—Simultaneously with the continuation of the hearing in Probate Court this afternoon of the application for letters of guardianship for Mrs. Howell, a woman who lives in Spokane, Wash., there was filed in the County Clerk's office a suit for annulment of Mrs. Howell's marriage to George Howell, the man who, she says, persuaded her into marrying him by a mysterious influence akin to hypnotism.

She also asks that her husband be restrained from molesting or annoying her. Mrs. Howell was on the stand for half an hour, but when Judge Lives said that the ordeal was becoming too severe, he adjourned court.

FIGHT FOR FORTUNE BEGIN BY NEWSBOY

Lad Found on London Streets Claims Heirship to San Francisco Pioneer.

AMERICAN ACCENT CLEW

Chance Meeting With Benefactress Leads to Disclosure of Romantic History—Mother Married Against Father's Will.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 30.—By an action filed in the Superior Court here today, a London newsboy became a contestant for a fortune. The suit, filed by Mrs. Amelia A. Dierks in behalf of Etienne Bulliard, a lad whom she found selling papers in London two years ago, reveals the story of the boy's abandonment in Paris, after the death of his mother and the discovery, according to Mrs. Dierks, that he is the grandson of the late Dennis Hayes, a wealthy pioneer mining man of California, and that he was restored to his relatives by the chance meeting with his benefactress in London.

The boy's claim to a share in the Hayes estate of approximately $100,000 is entered in the suit filed today. Mrs. Dierks found Etienne Bulliard, then 12 years old, selling papers in London two years ago. "You speak like an American," she said. "My mother was an American," replied the boy. "She died and I have almost forgotten her, but she taught me to talk."

I. W. W. SPEAKERS ABUSIVE

Crowd Forms on Sidewalk and Street Traffic Is Blocked.

Every newspaper and a number of the large business houses of the city were the subjects of a night of a speech by E. U. Lewis, a street agitator in the employ of the International Workers of the World. Religion, the municipality, the Y. M. C. A., the militia, the Spanish-American War Veterans, the city employment officers, chauffeurs, the law makers and the police, all fell under his hammer and a large crowd was attracted which completely blocked Sixth street.

DEATH CHEATS OFFICERS

Tuberculosis Claims Fugitive as Police Break Into Room.

CHICAGO, Jan. 30.—While hunting for Antonio Margiello, who it was thought had fled to the city, the police today found the boy's brother, Michael, for whom they have been searching for three weeks, suspecting he had knowledge of an attempt to kidnap him. But Michael will not be arrested. A few minutes before the police showed up the creaking door of the room in which he was hiding had been hidden, death had claimed him. He was tubercular. "His enemies cursed him, and he could have no luck," his widow wailed.

EQUITABLE TREASURE SAFE

Safety Deposit Vaults in Fire Ruins Yield Great Fortunes.

NEW YORK, Jan. 30.—The last, and the most important, of the three big vaults of the Equitable building which have lain buried in the ruins of the Equitable building since the fire of January 9, was opened Saturday. Everything was in good shape, and the contents will be removed within 24 hours. The last vault to yield to the workers was one containing the treasures and securities of the Equitable building, which was for some time the property of the Equitable building.

76,128,000 BUSHELS MOVE

Canadian Pacific Markets Show Much More Gain Than in 1911.

WINNIPEG, Jan. 30.—That 76,128,000 bushels of grain have been marketed on the Canadian Pacific Railway this year against 55,518,000 bushels for the same period last year, is shown by reports just completed. Of the former total 51,740,000 bushels are wheat and 14,388,000 other grains; while of the 55,518,000 bushels, 42,607,000 bushels were wheat and 12,911,000 bushels other grains.

Klamath Falls Paper Sold

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Jan. 30.—(Special.)—The Klamath Publishing Company, publishers of the morning daily Chronicle, which was for some months in the hands of assignee William T. Shive at the instance of creditors, has been sold to Edward J. Murray, a trader having been officially approved by Judge Benson of the County Court. The sale brought $469.80 in cash, which is 40 per cent of a chattel mortgage of $1,174.70 given to Alexander Martin, president of the First National Bank, as trustee for certain creditors, while debts are assumed by Murray. The Chronicle was originally started by the efforts of some of the banks and capitalists, who wished to fight the removal of the courthouse to the Hot Springs Addition.

CATTLE STEALING CHARGED

Six Alleged Rustlers in Jail at Butte Falls, One Confessing.

MEDFORD, Or., Jan. 30.—Six alleged cattle rustlers, who are said to have been conducting their business on a wholesale scale for the past two years, have been rounded up near Butte Falls by deputy sheriffs. One of the number, named McKee, is said to have made a full confession and in consequence the whole crowd is locked up in the Eaglepoint jail. It is claimed by the deputies that the rustlers had a camp in the wilderness east of Butte Falls, and that there they fattened stolen cattle, butchering in season, and selling the meat in Medford and other places.
