Q. C. K. WORKS Southern Pacific to Electrify at Once if Given Franchise.

COMMON-USER CLAUSE HIT General Superintendent Campbell Says Company Could Not Operate Satisfactorily if This Feature Is Demanded.

If the City Council is prompt in passing a franchise granting the Southern Pacific Company a franchise for a double track electric line on Fourth street, motor cars will be operating between Portland and McMinnville over both the West Side and Yamhill divisions before October 1, said D. W. Campbell, general superintendent of the city limits and operate with Southern Pacific Company a franchise for a double track electric line on Fourth street...

Mr. Campbell is ready to defend the proposed franchise which will be presented to the Council next Wednesday, and declares that the common user privilege which some of the Councilmen threaten to insert into the measure will not be accepted by the railroad under any circumstances.

Objection Insists on. "If the Council insists on the common user feature on Fourth street," said Mr. Campbell, "it will mean simply that we will continue our steam service to the city limits and operate with electricity inside the city."

Congestion Is Feared. "Should a common user law be thrust upon us in the event that we double-track Fourth street, it would again bring about congestion in the business district by placing the cars of another concern on those tracks."

Corvallis Extension Probable. "It will be only a question of time until this electrification extends all the way to Corvallis, and perhaps beyond. It means something to Portland which the city limits will not get out of an electric car in front of their doors."

Orders for new equipment, including a number of passenger coaches, were placed. The construction of the line between Salem and Fir was authorized by the Board of Directors.
