CAMPAIGN PLANS

The Portland Women's Club yesterday authorized its equal suffrage cam-paign committee to establish head-quarters for its work in the business center of the city and appropriated a monthly sum for the maintenance of the work during the remaining months of the campaign. Much interest is be-ing shown in this undertaking and many outside contributions are being received. In charge will be a compet-ent executive secretary whose duty it will be to promote the work under the guidance of the campaign committee of the Women's Club. It is intended that these headquarters shall be a clearing-house for all other clubs, societies or leagues that are working to obtain equal suffrage for Oregon. One of the first functions of this bureau will be to circulate suf-frage literature throughout the state.

A register will be kept of all women who are willing to work, and the kind of work each is willing to do. In this PRINCIPAL GIVES VERSION way it is hoped to have a list of avail-able speakers, who, at short notice, can be sent to present the cause at every Teacher Tells of Controversy With
