Lleutenant Griswold Gives Favorable Mention to Oregon Men.

BOSTON IS WELL HANDLED

One Officer Suggests That Amateur Navigators and Executives Be Given Brief Instruction on Regulation Ships.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washngton, Feb. 14 .- The annual report of the chief of division of Naval Militia of the Navy Department contains reports from various officers who made inspections of the Naval Militia of the several states during the past Summer. There are reports from three officers on the Oregon Naval Militia and three on the Washington Militia.

Lieutenant R. M. Griswold, United States Navy, stationed at the Puget Sound Navy-Yard, in his report favorably mentions the Oregon Militia, and after calling attention to the fact that twas first organized late in 1810, savs: several states during the past Sumit was first organized late in 1910, says:

"In view of this, I believe that the spirit shown by bringing the necessary officers and men from Oregon to this Navy-Yard, manning the Boston and taking her to Portland without mishap, is very creditable to the organization. The ship was handled in a seamanlike manner and was carefully navigated. and the commanding officer, navigator and engineer officer form the nucleus of an efficient organization.

Ship Is Well Handled. As regards the permanency of the or-ganization it is difficult to make a statement, but it is believed that the absence of internal friction, which was noticeable during the trip, and the fact that there are in it enough officers with seagoing experience and ability to have manned and taken the Boston from here to Portland without mishap, seems to point toward permanency in the organization. Greater efficiency on the part of the junior officers and enlisted personnel can, of course, only be ex-pected after more experience has been had on board ship,

"In connection with the question of the training of the officers and men, the suggestion by one of the officers who made this trip on the Boston seems to be of value. It appears that in this organization, as in all others which are composed of citizens following widely different vocations in life. it is very difficult for all the members to leave their regular employment at any specified time during the year to attend a regular assembly of the organ-ization for the purpose of drill or cruise, and it is suggested that if any officer or man of the organization ular place in the ship's company and acting in all respects as a member Advantages Pointed Out. "It is recognized that such an arrangement would involve some corresthat it would not always be possible to designate a vessel for any applicant to report to during the period that he was able to do so. Nevertheless, the advantages that would be gained by men of the Naval Militia who were able to make such a cruise on a commission. sioned vessel would be so great as to counterbalance the difficulties in-volved, as it is believed these green men can acquire more information and acquire it more rapidly by actual con-tact with the routine and methods of doing work in the Navy than by any

A similar report is made by Captain J. J. Reynolds of the Oregon Naval Mi-litia, who concludes his report by saying:

"The United States steamship Boston is now permanently and admirably lo-cated for purposes of drill and Port-land divisions, including engineers division, have been assigned as three deck divisions and all hands given stations at fire, and collision quarters. Drills are conducted twice a week and the organization is in a healthy state and growing rapidly." WEATHER CONDITIONS.

A second disturbance probably of no very great energy is approaching Vancouver Island and southeast storm warnings were ordered at a few of the most exposed stations at 6:80 P. M. They will be displayed tonight on Washington Sound, the west portion of the Strait of Fuca at Aberdeen and at the mouth of the Columbia River, pending the receipt of further advices in the morning, when they will either be taken down or extended to other ports as the conditions may warrant. A severe storm is central near Jacksonville, Pla., and high winds and heavy rains have occurred in that state and along the Georgia and South Carolina consts. The rainfall is the North Pacific states since yesterday has as a rule been very light, the heaviest fall being at Tacoma, where it amounted to forty-one hundredths of an inch. Mild temporatures continue in the Pacific and Rocky Mountain states.

The conditions are favorable for rain Thursday in Washington and Western Oregon, probably spreading to Eastern Oregon and Northern Idaho late in the afternoon. The winds will increase along the coast.

PORECASTS:

Hall Praises Officers. A third report by Licutenant W. E. Hall, United States Navy, said:

"The officers and men were all willing and exceptionally intelligent, but with the exception of the captain, navigator, and senior watch officer and some half dozen enlisted men who had served in the Navy they were entirely served in the Navy they were entirely ignorant of their duties. At sea the navigator and the senior watch officer stood all the watches.

"The engineer's department was well run, both engineer officers being men of experience, the chief engineer having served in the Navy as an engineering ensign during the war with Spain."

DAKOTANS TURNED BACK Central Labor Council's Warning

Said to Have Halted Party.

F. C. Borchardt, of Portland, has just received word from his former home in Aberdeen, South Dakota, that a special car of wealthy Dakota farmers have practically backed out of a proposed trip to Oregon because of the Central Labor Council letter discouraging immigration. Mr. Borchardt also received a copy of the Aberdeen Dally News in which is printed the labor letter with lengthy comment by the editor. Mr. Borchardt says 50 well-to-do farmers were in the party of investors who dropped the trip to Oregon. They were coming to Oregon March 7 and intended going over the state in quest of farming investments. They were coming under the direction of the Immigration Land Bureau of South Dakota, which has sent hundreds of farmers to Oregon.

"I know practically all the men in the party," said Mr. Borchardt yesterday. "Any one of them would be good for a $10.000 investment in Oregon.

Some probably would have invested as much as $30.000. The party represented an investment of at least $500.000." F. C. Borchardt, of Portland, has just
