Principal Allegations Given. The principal allegations in the in dictment, which is one of 32, are: That from San Francisco in January. 1908, Ryan wrote to J. J. McNamara in Indianapolis that he had looked over a job in Ciinton, Ia., and described a new bridge there that was later blown up. That Edward Clark, at Cincinnati, in Pebruary, 1908, wrote to McNamara. saving:

"It would be a foolish thing for me to buy any explosives here, where I am well known. I have sized up the whole job here and know that it can done. If this sounds good to you, let me hear right away."

"Mike" Young Mentioned.

That Webb Wrote to McNamara from New York, telling about jobs that were be blown up in Boston in 1909, and of his having talked to Michael J. Young about these jobs, saying:

"Mike wants to see your friend (meaning McManigal) that was in the East once before. Can you get him to come here to do a job for me? Mike will furnish finances."

That McNamara wrote to Webb in answer that the Boston and New York jobs were being considered.

That Webb wrote McNamara describing the new opera-house in Boston, telling where derricks could be blown up and when guards were on and off

Explosives Negotiated For. That McNamara, in 1909, wrote letters to powder companies negotiating for explosives, the negotiations being imilar to those which resulted in the blowing up of the Los Angeles Times. That McNamara wrote to P. J. Mor-St. Louis, in March, 1910, about buildings that were later blown up

That Charles Beum, at Minneapolis, in April, 1910, wrote McNamara that he had taken photographs of buildings that were being constructed by nonunion labor and would send them to

That Ryan, from New York, wrote to McNamara, in April, 1910, as follows: 'In regard to the McClintle-Marshall jobs, let Legisitner attend to the jobs in his district. Let Butler attend to the jobs in Buffalo and Rochester; Hockin arrange for the Cleveland and Detroit and Cincinnati jobs; Morrin can sitend to Mount Vernon; Webb is now at South Bethlehem; will send him to Vorcenter, Mass., and Davenport, Ia-Peoria can be handled by Hockin, Let Casley work on a bunch at Chalmette. COMMITTEE PLANS REBUKE Fallure to Substantiate "Money Trust" Charges Will Be Followed by Censure That Peerless One Has Invited.

BY HARRY J. BROWN. OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Feb. 15 .- If sentiment among Democratic members of the House of Representatives is any indication of William J. Bryan not only will be out of the running at the Baltimore con vention, but any attempt he may make to dictate the nomination of any particular candidate will be met with stout resistance. For it has been amply demonstrated that Bryan is "in bad" with a large majority of the Democratic members of the House, and they have never hesitated to register their disapproval of his interference. Bryan's first split with the House Democracy came when he denounce Representative Underwood, chairman of the ways and means committee, at the special session for not reporting a steel cratic membership, without a dissenting vote, sustained Underwood and turned down Bryan. And ever since that attack by the Commoner, Underwood has grown in strength and popularity, until today he is one of four leading candidates for the Presidential nomination.

House Wants None of Bryan, Recently, when Bryan undertook to left him helpless. Friends believe that direct the action of the House on the Henry resolution proposing to investi-gate the "money trust" by means of a special committee, he was turned down by a caucus vote of 115 to 66, and the House proceeded to act in conformity with the judgment of a majority of the Democratic membership, and in defiance of the dictates of Bryan. By virtually the same division, the House Democ racy refused to bring in a free wool bill when such a measure was demanded by Bryan. These various incidents indicate clearly that the House of Representa tives does not intend to take dictation from Bryan, but rather will follow its own leaders. Moreover, it is now proposed not only to reject Bryan's dates for the same office may have an tuitous offer of leadership, but to call upon the Peerless One to produce proof gramme, with exactly equal privileges, of his charge that certain House committees are not competent to handle a big investigation. When Bryan urged the Democratic caucus to adopt the emmittee to investigate the "money (Concluded on Page 2.)

TAFT ORDERS SUSPENSION

Adjutant-General Accused of Impugning Motives of Staff and War College-Sensation Caused on Floor of House.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15 .- Major-Genral Fred C. Alnsworth, Adjutant-General of the Army, was stripped of his office today by order of President Taft and will appear before a courtmartial on charges said to embrace conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline and insubordination.

His relief from duty was brought about in a letter to him from the Secretary of War which bristled with sharp criticism.

Contest Is Not New.

General Ainsworth's removal is considered the outcome of many years of struggle for control between the line and the staff of the Army. Major-General Leonard Wood, Chief of Staff, leads a contingent which believes that control should be delegated to these officers actually in touch with the fighting strength. Others, among whom General Ainsworth is a leading figure, had contended that supervision should be vested with the heads of powerful bureaus.

The suspension of General Ainsworth, the first that has ever occurred in the office of the Adjutant-General, caused a sensation in Army and Congressional circles. It was made the subject of a heated exchange on the floor of the House, where the Army appropriation bill was under considera tion. Neither General Ainsworth nor other Army or department efficers or officials would discuss it.

The action of the President was taken after several conferences with Secretary Stimson. For some time there has been friction between the Adjutant-General's office and that of the Chief of Staff. Clashes were not uncommon and there was almost a total lack of co-operation. The bad feeling culminated when General Ainsworth, in reply to Secretary Stimson's request for some statistical information, made such answer that the Secretary felt constrained to accept it as a reflection upon his own integrity and upon that of other high officials of the department.

Secretary Stimson's letter of suspension, which was delivered to General Ainsworth this morning, took up incidents as far back as October, 1909, in which the Secretary held the Adjutant-

Clyde Harsin, of Enterprise, who shipped the coyote's head, writes that the four children were at play in the pasture when they noticed the pe culiar actions of the family's pet cow. They ran to their mother and the cov pursued them. Mother and children rushed into their small cabin and locked themselves in, while the maddened cow continued its antics outside. For two days the cow remained just outside the door. It dropped dead the third day. One of the children ther went to the home of Harsin and told him of the family's two-day siege. JUNEAU, Alaska, Feb. 15 .- Telegraphic warrants for the arrest of 17 business men, prominent in affairs of Alaska and the Pacific Coast, were issued today on indictments returned by the Federal grand jury that has been investigating the alleged violation of the Sherman anti-trust law in connection with the wharf facilities at Skar-way. The following were indicted: J. C. Ford, president of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company: C. E. Houston, head of the Pacific Coast Coal Company; A. L. Berdoe, formerly vice-president and general manager White Pass & Yukon Railroad Company; Charles E. Peabody, formerly an official of the Alaska Steamship Company; J. Young, president of the Alas-ka Steamship Company; John H. Bunch, traffic manager of Steamship Company; E. C. Ward; superintendent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company; F. F. E. Wurzbacher, C. E. Wynn Johnson, E. E. Bil-linghurst, W. H. Napsen, Ira Bronson, J. W. Smith, F. J. Cushing, W. L. King.

V. I. Hahn and C. H. Highes Competitor Gives Testimony.

The grand jury investigation was egun three weeks ago by District Attorney Rustgard on orders received from Attorney-General Wickersham, The grand jury began to return indictments three days ago, but these were held secret until today, when they were placed on file and telegraph-c warrants issued. The principal witness before the grand jury was Max Kalish, vice-president and general manager of the Humboldt Steamship Company, an independent line, which, it is alleged, has been grossly discriminated against in freight rates and wharf charges at Skagway. Mr. Kalish is now in San Francisco, Unlawful Combine Charged.

It is charged in the indictment that the North Pacific Wharves & Trading Company, the Pacific & Arctic Railway & Navigation Company, the Pacific Coast Coal Company, the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, the Alaska Steamship Company and the Canadian Pacific Railway Company formed a ombination in restraint of trade and in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law to monopolize the transportation facilities at Skagway, the ocean terminus of the White Pass & Yukon Railroad and the principal seaport of Alaska. One indictment charges that the defendants conspired and combined for the purpose of monopolizing the coal business at Skagway by having the Moores Wharf Company, owned by the North Pass Wharves & Trading Company purchase three wharves at Skagway and close all but one. It is also alleged that meanwhile an agreement was made with the Pacific Coast Coal Company's representatives, whereby the latter was to quit the coal business in

Skagway. Roads and Tramways Controlled. It is charged by the grand jury that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, which, with the Pacific Coast Coal Company, is a subsidiary of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company of San Francisco and Seattle, received a royalty on all coal shipped to the Moores

Wharf Company and distributed by it, Another indictment charges that the Pacific & Arctic Railway Company, with the White Pass & Yukon Railroad, engaged in a combination and conspiracy to stifle competition by purhasing three aerial tram lines operated ver Chilkoot Pass between Dyea and Lake Lindaman, later dismantling and closing them. It is also alleged that the Pacific & Arctic purchased the Brackett Wagon Road from Skagway to Lake Bennett and destroyed it, thus compelling shipers to send all their freight over the White Pass & Yukon Railroad, acquiring a monopoly of the transportation business between Skagway and the interior of Alaska and the Yukan terri-
