nectators at New Orleans Ringide Believe New Jersey Lad Should Have Had Draw. Both Fighting Hard at Bell.

NEW ORLEANS, Peb. 18.—John Coulon, of Chicago, was still the ban-tantweight champion of the world at the cod of his 50-round fight with Frankle Forms, of Jersey City, here this after-

The fight was fast and clever from the first to the last round, Coulon carrying the fighting to Burns. He was net with such an onslaught, however, hat a number of Burns' supporters hought he should have had a draw. The crowd which packed the arena was teath to leave after Referee Harry Stout had raised Conlon's giove. The willing was deafening, but the decision stood and the crowd finally filtered shrough the exits.

Coulon was credited with only one knockdown, which came in the first minute of the last round. The champion landed a left hook to the law just as Burns' foot slipped. Burns dropped but was up in an instant and fighting hard.

Coulon Is Confident. Coulon was confident and started the fight with a rush after feeling his man out in the first round, which was mostly sparring. The champion, according to the sport writers, was credited with

ENTIRE TEAM LOOKS GOOD

Portland to Carry Six Twirlers. Only Two of 1910 Champions, Krueger and Rapps, to Be With the 1912 Pennant Chasers.

BY ROSCOE PAWCETT. Walter McCredie, manager of the Portland Consters, yesterday gave out the news that a deal will be closed within the next two or three days for two new pitchers for the champions. Mac hasn't entirely settled the details and shuns publicity in the meantime, but did vouchsafe that both are young fellows of strapping build, and with as good a pitching staff as he had at the close of the 1911 pennant race. Last Spring at the opening of hostilities he had only Koestner, Steen and Seaton of his regulars, Henderson, Harkness and Lamilne being added to the string in mid-season.

"I'll have a 2-to-1 better staff of heavers than a year ago at Spring training time," said Mac. "The fans will be tickied when I announce my prospective newcomers: Both are youngsters in their prime and that's the brand I want. None of your ma-jor veterans—Dolly Grays and that sort-for Portland.

Six Pitchers to Be Carried. "This year I expect to carry six tchers. I now have Henderson, pitchers. I now have Henderson, Koestner, Lamline, Harkness and Stieger, whom I figure as fixtures, and promising recruits. Byrd, Osborne and the two I mention. Shouldn't have much trouble in rounding out on six from that herd, eh? This Massachusetts from that herd, ch? This Massachusetts man, Greenwell, doesn't want to come West and refuses to answer letters. I don't expect him at the start of the season, anyway, and I don't know as I will be able to use him at all after my sextet gets in working order."

W. W. McCredie, president of the local club, believed that his nephew with the pennant habit will have an even better team this year than the one which copped the flag in 1810 and again in 1811. He points out that the one which copped the flag in 1910 and again in 1911. He points out that the catching staff is about on a par, the pitching staff superior, the outfield stronger if anything, and the infield well supplied. He says Stieger, the new pitcher, is rated as a crack first baseman and batter and, in view of this, he entertains no fears of Bill Rapps kicking over the traces.

SAN MATEO, Cal., Feb. 18.—The Slashers, the San Mateo Polo Club first team, defeated the Canadian team 14% to 3% today in one of the fastest and cleanest games seen on the local field. Only Two of 1910 Team Left. Only Two of 1910 Team Left.

A recapitulation of the Portland lineups for the past two or three seasons backs out the Portland leader's argument for the younger element, for, while it may sound surprising, Mac now has only two of the great coterie of stars who won the pennat for the Beavers in 1910, a little less than 17 months ago—Bill Rapps at first base and Artie Krueger in the outfield. In spite of the kaleidoscopic switching of playing talent, however, the Beavers came back with a second bunting in 1911, so even without the servto 3% today in one of the lastest and cleanest games seen on the local field. Jack Lester, the Northwestern "white hope," has made a dismal showing dur-ing his few months in Australia. He lost to Bill Lang, won one decision over Lang; lost three times to McVey and was also beaten by Dave Smith, the Antipodean middleweight. "Yea, sir, I very nearly landed in a Portland uniform," said Georgie, who is now a realty man at Klamath Falls and out of baseball for keeps. Falls and out of baseball for keeps. I have in my pocket a contract from Barney Dreyfuss, of Pittsburg, who says that there are only five southpaws in the National League. I guess he knows that I can murder the right handers. My wife says no, however, so it's me for the bleachers. I was married in Portland, by the way, and tried to keep it a secret but the papers "I'd rather own an unknown ball player than a dead one," said Cal Ewing, of the Frisco Seals, epigrammatically, the other day, when asked for the loan of a ball player to catch a sphere tossed from an aeroplane at the Oakland aviation meet.

tried to keep it a secret but the papers found it out and her folk nearly had a fit—didn't want her to marry a ball-player, you see."

Capron predicts that his brother. Ralph, the Minnesota quarterback, will some day land in the big league as a shortstep.

McCredie Talks of Trade. Walter McCredie, of the Portland Beavers, believes both Washington and the New York Highlanders benefited by the trade of Jack Knight, of the Yanks, for Catcher Street, whose ad-

"I do not figure this Street a good receiver, but Wolverton needs a second catcher to relieve Sweeney occasionally, so I guess it's all right from both angles," said the Portland expert.
