JURY - GETTING DRAGS

NO PROGRESS MADE IN TRIAL OF BURT HICKS.

One Excused Who Expresses Favor for Non-Union Man Accused of Murdering Picket.

No progress was made in Judge Gatens' court yesterday in obtaining a jury to try Bert Hicks, the owner of a nonunion machine shop, who is accused of the murder of W. A. Workman.

C. S. Sawyer was excused because he declared he has a fixed opinion in favor of the defendant. Theodore Eberle formerly belonged to a beerdrivers' union and E. B. Palmer has been an organizer of labor unions, working under a commission direct from Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Mr. Davis also objected when the judge sustained a challenge of the defense as to J. W. Lakin, who testified that he is a member of the carpenters' union. Mr. Lakin believed that he could give the accused a fair trial.

Mr. Eberle was excused by mutual consent on account of his age. He is 87 years old. Mr. Eckler was a Circuit Court bailiff when Judge George was on the bench. Judge Halverson said he is unalterably opposed to capital punishment and was allowed to leave the box.

WOODS GIRL REARRESTED

Victim of Garrard Taken to Jail at Brother-in-Law's Request.

Rearrested at the request of her brother-in-law, Bessie May Woods, whose complaint to the District Attorney caused the arrest of A. J. Garrard, a commodities merchant of San Francisco, a month ago, was taken to the County Jail Tuesday night. Garrard, who was released when Deputy District Attorney Hennessey recommended that the indictment against him be quashed, is reported to have left for San Francisco.

As a ward of the Juvenile Court Bessie May Woods was released "on parole" when Garrard was released by the representations of Hennessey that the case was without sufficient proof. Garrard had confessed the statutory crime lodged against him, but the Deputy District Attorney advised Judge Gatens that the friends of the 17-year-old girl did not wish to prosecute.

Garrard, after several flights from the police and sleazes when he barricaded himself in his room at the St. Clair Apartments, was taken by patrolmen Gill and Griffith two days after the information against him was filed, two months ago. He confessed having made the girl drunk and forced her to stay in his apartments.

BRIDGE LIGHTS FAVORED

Committee to Recommend $15,000 for Purpose.

Recommending an appropriation of $15,000 for illuminating the three bridges crossing the Willamette River, the ways and means committee of the council yesterday made it certain that the spans will appear very beautiful during the Rose Festival, Elks' convention and other gala occasions.

Councilman Maguire, however, said he felt that it was bad business for the council to "spend the people's money on lighting bridges and refer to appropriate anything for a public market."

MRS. HAWKS HEARD

Charge That She Mismanaged School Affair Denied.

MRS. TAYLOR EXONERATED

E. H. Whitney Declares He Did Not Accuse Woman of Ticket Shortage—Child Welfare Head Makes Statement.

Mrs. Frances M. Hawks, president of the Child Welfare League, yesterday replied to the charges of E. H. Whitney, ex-principal of the Ladd school, that the finances of the Ladd school pupils' entertainment at the Heilig Theater last December had been carelessly handled. Mrs. Hawks enters a vigorous denial that there was any mismanagement of the affair or juggling of the funds.

Mr. Whitney last night made a statement in which he exonerated Mrs. Amelia Taylor from any blame in connection with the management of the affair, saying that he had no intention of accusing her of any shortage.

Accusation Not Intended. "I did not accuse Mrs. Taylor of being short in her accounts in the Ladd school entertainment held last December and had no intention of doing so," said Mr. Whitney. "Furthermore, I have nothing further to say, as I made my statement to the teachers' committee Tuesday afternoon."

Mrs. Hawks last night issued the following statement of her side of the controversy: "The article in your paper relative to the meeting of the School Board committee with the committee of the Child Welfare League of the Ladd school, consisting of Dr. Benjamin Young, Dr. T. H. Walker, Mrs. A. Taylor, secretary, and myself to ask for the opening of the school building for social purposes is certainly misleading and if some explanation is not given will not only create a false impression of our league, but of its officers, myself included."

Fellow-Workers Praised. "Permit me to make a brief statement in the endeavor to free my fellow-workers from censure. For myself, I am free to admit that being overloaded with responsibility I may have neglected some details, but I certainly claim the integrity which the article would seem to question. For my fellow-workers I have nothing but praise for their earnest co-operation and faithful performance of their self-imposed duties."

"Now for the facts: I never met Mrs. Garrison until shortly before her engagement for this entertainment. We understood she had successfully produced the historical tableaux 'America' in other cities and, as we were desirous of obtaining funds for our playground and social center, which we hoped to establish, we made arrangements with her to produce the same here. It was the holiday season. The City Superintendent gave his permission for the children of the Ladd school to participate in the tableaux, and the understanding that the children of no other school should do so."

$100 Is Deposited. "We probably did not manage the affair in the most efficient way, but we gained over $100 which we deposited with the school trustees for our use. It is a nestegg for the further sum which we trust will be obtained for this purpose. It was exceedingly difficult at that particular time to get such short notice to obtain sufficient workers to promote the success of the entertainment. It was impossible for the few persons who worked to look after details closely."

The first tickets with wrong date were furnished by an advertising firm and the error was the printers'. Those that were issued were recalled and corrected, as I understand.

"I was a resident of the Ladd school district for about two years prior to the time of my election as president of the Child Welfare League and when I removed from there would gladly have resigned if someone qualified would have taken up the work."

Business Men Thanked. "Business men kindly co-operated with us, lending their automobiles for the distribution of advertising or we would not have been able to have made the entertainment a success in the short time at our disposal."

"The Ladd school, as a school, has not received any money from us, but the Child Welfare League of that school has all the money that was collected, minus the expense, on deposit with the clerk of the School Board."

"The Child Welfare League felt that it was perfectly responsible for the conduct of the business of the entertainment, although perhaps not thorough in its business methods on account of the shortness of time. Every one connected with a voluntary work of this kind knows how difficult it is to get accurate returns of unused tickets, but the integrity of the workers cannot be questioned because of this. "I do not claim to be a business woman, but I am a persistent worker in any cause I espouse. I cannot conceive how Mr. Whitney could assert my desire to be present at the coming convention in St. Louis. I certainly have never given voice to it nor had such a wish, and had such been my intention I should have expected to pay my own way, as I did when I went to the Denver convention. Besides our little fund is not available for such purposes."

Charge Held Preposterous. "The assumption that our league juggled with its name on purpose that its president might be sent as a delegate somewhere is as preposterous as the unworthy insinuation that the money receipts were juggled with."

"A movement has been launched and is now fairly on foot that our public schools should be open for social centers. I have worked persistently for this. But at the same moment a beneficent movement is in progress, its enemy is conceived, and attacks commence."

"To injure those who have come to the front to discredit their motives, to impugn their honor, may be good politics, for opponents, but our league precludes hostilities and one of its objects is to inculcate brotherly love and the kindred virtues, even toward those who are not in accord with us."

"It seems regrettable that good efforts are misinterpreted, but God's in His heaven and all's well with the world."

FURNITURE UNDER HAMMER

Constable to Sell Oregon and Washington Trust Company Fittings.

All the office furniture of the offices of the Oregon and Washington Trust Company will be sold at auction by Constable Weinberger at the company's office March 2. This is the company which was used to float the bonds of the Columbia River Orchard Company which the present Federal grand jury is investigating.

The furniture will be sold to satisfy a judgment of $30 and costs obtained by the Chamber of Commerce building in the Justice Court. A default was taken for that amount yesterday by Attorneys Haas and Mackay for the Chamber of Commerce. The $30 for which suit was filed is for the February rent.

The furniture which the constable will sell includes several oak desks, six heavy oak chairs, a typewriter, cabinet letter file and other office fittings.

SUICIDE ATTEMPTS FAIL

PATROLMAN INTERFERES WITH WOMAN SEEKING DEATH.

Mrs. H. A. Newton, Dentist's Wife, Turns on Gas and Locks Door After Family Quarrel.

After an attempt to commit suicide by the inhalation of gas had been frustrated by the interference of an officer, Mrs. H. A. Newton, wife of a dentist, made a second attempt to kill herself. At least, this is what the Civil Service Commission thinks, and by its action yesterday nullified its provisions.

Chief of Police Slover, when asked why he would not recommend some men for reinstatement as policemen, said they were immoral; that they consorted with evil women and that he regarded this as disqualifying them for the service.

"I do not agree with the Chief there," said John F. Logan, one of the Commission members. "I do not believe the seventh Commandment was ever intended to be directed toward policemen. You can't expect a very high moral standard in a man whose business it is to catch thieves and chase thugs. All I insist upon is that a policeman be honest in money matters."

The Commissioners ordered the reinstatement of the men.

The attempt yesterday was said by neighbors to have been the second attempt, both growing out of marital troubles. She had been married twice before her marriage to her present husband, and in each instance domestic infelicities caused her to seek self-destruction. The present attempt, say the neighbors, followed a quarrel with her husband in which she attacked him with a butcher knife and caused him to jump out of the window of their apartments on the second floor.

Tuesday night her actions made other lodgers in the apartments apprehensive and they communicated their suspicions to the patrolman on duty. Yesterday afternoon she told a woman having a room across the hall from hers that she was about to kill herself and bade her goodbye. She then sent her 9-year-old daughter, who

7TH LAW NOT FOR COPS

Commissioners Rule Mosaic Commandment Doesn't Affect Police.

When Moses Delivered the Commandments he had no thought of policemen when he penned the seventh, and they should be exempt from its iron-clad law. At least, this is what the Civil Service Commission thinks, and by its action yesterday nullified its provisions.

Chief of Police Slover, when asked why he would not recommend some men for reinstatement as policemen, said they were immoral; that they consorted with evil women and that he regarded this as disqualifying them for the service.

PIMPLES SO DISFIGURING HE SHUNNED FRIENDS

Face Completely Covered. Blackheads, Too. Lasted Four Years. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and Face Is Now Smooth.

R. F. D. 2, Portsmouth, N. H.—"I was bothered with pimples and blackheads in the worst way for over four years. My face and arms were completely covered with them. The pimples would come out on my face and fester all up. They would scab over, and make my face sore, besides being so disfiguring that I shunned my friends. I tried facial cream balms and benzoin with no effect.

"One night I asked a friend what was good for pimples, and he advised me to try Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment which I did. I would wash my face first with hot water and Cuticura Soap, and then put on some Cuticura Ointment, let it stay on five minutes, and then wash my face again with the Cuticura Soap. It would draw the blackheads out as nice, and the pimples, oh, say, it was one grand relief to go among my friends and be jolly again. After using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, my face is as smooth as if there never had been a pimple on it. I cannot speak too highly of the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, and I hope others will profit by them as much as I have. I know they will after giving them just one trial." (Signed) Arthur E. Caswell, May 6, 1911.

Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. book on skin and scalp treatment. Address, "Cuticura," Dept. T, Boston. Tender-faced men should shave with Cuticura Scented Shaving Stick.
