

THOMPSON ESTATE QUITS STREET END

Controllers of Oak Dock Are First to Obey Edict of City Council.

OTHERS MAY FIGHT FIAT

Offices of Open River Transportation Company Removed Back From River-Property Owners to Confer With Officials.

A number of waterfront property-owners will head the fiat of the Council in vacating street ends, the first to make a move being the Thompson estate, controlling Oak-street dock.

The city demands about 25 street ends to be vacated and in most instances it is probable that those having structures on the land will advocate in a few cases the right of the city to order buildings razed.

DREDGING NOT HEAVY WORK

Captain Graham Believes Channel to Falls Can Be Improved.

In the opinion of Captain A. W. Graham, of the Yellow Stack Line, the report submitted by the committee on dredging with the project to deepen the Willamette River between Portland and Oregon City to six feet will probably be done to settle the water level at the mouth of the Clackamas River.

STEAMER INTELLIGENCE

Table with columns: Name, From, Date, To, Date. Lists various steamers and their routes.

Dividing Portland into districts, the membership committee will begin at once a systematic campaign to fill up the membership in the excursion to San Francisco for the Panama-Pacific Exposition.

Many eager to go. "Judging from our experience in former excursions," said W. L. Clissey, of the excursion bureau of the Commercial Club, yesterday, "the attendance in this excursion should be a record."

The advance demand for reservations has already reached more than 100 and G. M. Hyland, chairman of the membership committee, is receiving daily checks for $25 from many who are eager to have their reservations made in time to insure themselves a place in the first section of the excursion train before all places are taken.

In addition to the canvass for membership, letters were prepared yesterday to be mailed to members of the various commercial organizations of the city, urging them to assist in making the excursion the largest that has ever gone out of Portland.

Like the Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday, the Ad Club, when Mr. Meier called for its support for the excursion at its luncheon yesterday, responded with enthusiasm and a score or more immediately announced their intention of taking part in the visit to California.

Interest in the excursion is growing and big representations will join the excursion even from the remote cities of Eastern Oregon, Prineville, Ontario, Baker and Astoria will send delegations, although the Lakeview party will not be able to join the excursion in the Willamette Valley, but will go by way of the coast and arrive in San Francisco in time to greet their brethren from Western Oregon there.

W. B. MOORE SETTLES

Attorneys Ask Postponement of Case—Love Letters to Be Returned—Amount of Balm Withheld—Mary E. Cronen Wins.

The wound to the heart and feelings of Mary E. Cronen, caused by the refusal of Walter Baker Moore to marry her, is said to have been healed by the receipt of a large sum of money, believed to amount to tens of thousands of dollars.

Exactly how much cash was paid in settlement is not made public, but it is believed to have represented more money than was ever before paid in similar circumstances in this state.

The wedding day was put off so often that Miss Cronen made a final demand for him to fulfill his promise and upon his dodging the issue she filed a suit against him for breach of promise, demanding $100,000 in damages.

Two sections of the bridge will be lifted on Bridge Next Week.
