

EVERGREEN STATE TAFT STRONGHOLD

F. B. Hubbard, Leader of Large Enterprises of Washington, Tells Trend.

TARIFF ISSUE PARAMOUNT

Northern Republicans, He Says, Will Send Ten Delegates to National Convention With Instructions to Vote for President.

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—(Special.)—Washington will be found strongly in favor of giving President Taft the "other term," said F. B. Hubbard, of Centralia, Wash., who is now in Los Angeles.

Mr. Hubbard, who is president of the Eastern Railway & Lumber Company and of the Union Lumber Trust Company at Centralia, is passing part of the winter in Southern California.

"Our state will send ten delegates to the convention, and they will go with instructions to vote for Taft," he continued. "The Washington people are protectionists. Their products—fruits, lumber, grain, wooden manufactures—demand protection, and for that reason they will vote for Taft at the Fall election because of his well-known position on the question of the tariff. Every state on the Pacific should feel the same way about it, and should make the district on this side reckoning with at the nominating convention."

Mr. Hubbard is accompanied on his southern trip by George Dyer and F. C. McNitt and their families, also of Centralia. Mr. Dyer is vice-president of the United States National Bank, and Mr. McNitt is a retired hardware merchant. All three are concerned in the development of the Southwest, which is getting more lumber just now than any other part of the United States, according to Mr. Dyer.

"The demand has been good the past three months," Mr. Dyer said in speaking of the lumber trade. "It is increasing rapidly, in the face of advances in prices. There is also a strong demand from the Middle West, and it looks as if the lumber trade will be as good as either of the preceding three years."

Canadian Rockies Trained. The roof of America is in the Canadian Rockies, and the greatest mountain range in the world is in the Rockies. The Fraser River is among the grandest and most awe-inspiring in the world, said Frank Powell, of Westminster, B. C., who is in Los Angeles on a business trip. "Every year more and more people are visiting the Canadian Rockies, and as they return and tell of the magnificent scenery, the idea is spreading. From Calgary, Alberta, to Vancouver, B. C., 442 miles, is one of the most wonderful scenic trips in the world."

Katalla, Alaska, Open Port. "Citizens of the States have peculiar ideas of Alaska," said K. S. Clark, of Katalla, Alaska, this week. "They always associate it with icebergs and glaciers and consider it a cold and barren region. Katalla, where I live, is an open port the year round, and this winter the temperature has not fallen below 45 degrees above zero—and we are 1200 miles from Seattle."

"The region where I live is 60 miles from Cordova, in the center of one of the greatest oil fields in the world. The oil fields extend from the Edwards River to the Copper River, 30 miles, and they are from 10 to 15 miles wide. These fields are producing some of the highest grade oil to be found. It has a paraffine base and is 45.2 specific gravity. There are two flowing wells and seven pumping wells in the field. The former are from 1200 to 1400 feet deep and the latter from 200 to 300 feet.

Laws Hurting Trade. The laws regulating the shipping interests of the Pacific Coast are holding back an increase of trade with foreign countries and preventing two big Australian concerns from establishing steamship lines to West Coast ports, in the statement of Niel Nielsen, M. P., representing the New South Wales government as trade agent, in a communication to the United States and Canada. Mr. Nielsen, who formerly was Minister of Land in Australia, was in conference with the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce this week relative to irrigation projects in the Southwest.

Holdup Tale Strange. The subject of my visit here is to look into your interesting holdup with a view to improving our own," he said. "I find many things in this country to be admired, but on the other hand, I cannot help seeing room for improvement. Take your coastal shipping laws, for instance, which gives your largest port on this coast a total clearance of only 708 foreign ships with a tonnage of 1,400,000 tons, while the port of London has a clearance of 2,744 foreign ships and a tonnage of 6,239,000.

I know of two big shipping concerns in Australia that would like to establish lines from Australian ports to Pacific Coast ports. Under suitable conditions they would be important factors in the development of California, Oregon, Washington and British Columbia, but the coastwise shipping laws make it impracticable.

For a few days this week Los Angeles has been the capital of the Yukon Territory. George Black, the new Commissioner of the territory—Chief Executive of the Yukon Territory, representative at Ottawa as member of parliament, is also passing the winter at Long Beach with his two children.

REBELS MARCH ON CITY

(Continued from First Page.) It is said to be proceeding to join Oregon, American and Mexican refugees in this city account for the report that Villa led the Federal forces against the rebels with two explanations. The paramount one is the declaration that Villa and Orozco, through jealousy growing out of the rewards received by each after Madero's success last Spring, are mortal enemies, and that Villa would fight on either side if it were against his former comrade in arms. Orozco was made chief of the rurales of Chihuahua by Madero, while Villa, the converted outlaw, received a command under him.

The second reason advanced is that Villa remained loyal only after Madero had granted his demand, including a large sum of money. In the crisis, Governor Gonzalez, the loyal executive of Chihuahua, is believed to have collected sufficient money and to have made the promises necessary to hold Villa and his 700 troops to the Madero banner.

Bitterness Is Felt. General Salazar professed to be bitter against Villa. The latter, he asserted, sent word by special messenger confirming previous promises that he would "save his face" by a show of resistance and then join the anti-Maderistas. It is pointed out, however, that this was before Orozco's attitude, while suspected as equal to Madero's, was known. If the rebels are defeated, Villa may hope for the emoluments recently resigned by Orozco.

There was no such show of bearings in the Juarez yards when the movement to the south was decided upon. The matter of motive power was more difficult, but two locomotives, which had come over the Mexico-Northwestern from the south, were taken and another, which had been "joined up," eventually was secured.

Three Detachments Get Away. The first detachment from Hernandez was received shortly before noon. At 4:37 this afternoon the first detachment was sent away and the second left seven minutes later. Among other supplies, each train carried a car filled with water casks. There was also one car of coal. It was nearly 7 o'clock before the third section, carrying General Emilio Campes with his staff, the artillery and more troops, got under way. General Salazar at the last moment determined to remain behind with the other officers. He and his staff will leave later and catch up with Campes down the line.

The artillery consists of two old-fashioned muzzle-loading brass field pieces and two modern Colt rapid-firers, with 100,000 rounds of ammunition. Two newspaper correspondents were allowed to go with the officers. Colonel E. A. Steever, commanding the American troops here, did not regard it necessary to make any redoubt of the rebels, and also believed that this duty is now being performed by the first battalion of the 23d Infantry, under Major Peter Murray.

American Troops Alert. Bridges and ferds are guarded and men and officers are ready for any emergency which may arise. There were rumors, which amounted to nothing more, that the departure of the garrison would be succeeded by disorders in the streets of Juarez. The American soldiers are more alert tonight than usual, but there was no other sign that conditions at Juarez had changed. Two other battalions of the 23d Infantry are at Fort Bliss, where also are a battalion of the 15th Infantry, a squadron of the Fourth Cavalry, and Battery D of the Third Field Artillery, which is regarded as a force adequate to cope with any emergency which may arise.

General Salazar's force includes two Americans enlisted to work the rapid firers. They are Samuel Drobin, of Philadelphia, and T. C. Richardson, of Lamar, Mo.

Rebels Are Well Financed. Doubt has been in one uniform or another for many years. He started with eight years in the American forces in the Philippines. He fought with the insurrecto General Luis Macara in Nicaragua, in a revolution. Last year he took a force into Yucatan for General Madero. Drobin said today that he had not the pay which had been promised him for the expedition, and was about to join General Reyes, when that veteran's uprising against the present regime in Mexico broke out. Richardson's experience includes revolutions in Honduras and Nicaragua. American adventurers were outfitted in complete fashion, with two revolvers, "ditty" bags, shining shoes and uniforms, but this was no whit better than the natives wore. The completeness of their equipment bears out statements that there is plenty of money behind them.

CAVALRY SUCCORS AMERICANS Mexican Government Sends Troops to Relieve Velardena. WASHINGTON, March 2.—Americans at Velardena have been relieved, 150 cavalry having been sent there by the Mexican War Department to restore order, according to advices received today at the State Department.

It is believed that no American citizens were wounded at Velardena. Mr. and Mrs. Hensley, S. Towdney, about whom apprehension has been felt, are reported safe at Durango.

CHAUFFEUR SAYS FARE ROBBED AND DRUGGED HIM. Driver Stagers Into Los Angeles Police Station, Saying Car Was Stolen and He Made Prisoner.

LOS ANGELES, March 2.—(Special.)—Staggering into the police station and exhibiting every evidence of being under the influence of some drug, Ralph Ogilvie, chauffeur for the Western Machinery & Foundry Company, of Santa Barbara, this afternoon told the detectives that he had been held up by a man who hired him to drive, chloroformed at the point of a gun, bound and carried 60 miles, robbed of his machine and his valuables and finally left in an empty schoolhouse, where he regained consciousness six hours later.

He said he was called in the Hotel Potter shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday and drove his passenger, a short, middle-aged man, to Shepherd's Inn and that the holdup occurred just before arriving there. After coming to his senses near Calabasas, he telephoned to the sheriff of Santa Barbara County to send his way to this city. The police found the machine at 3 o'clock this morning outside the Inn, in a house near the Silver Lake reservoir. Ogilvie's employers give him a good reputation, but the police are investigating.

Vancouver Postal Bank Grows. VANCOUVER, Wash., March 2.—(Special.)—Six hundred and thirty persons in Vancouver have accounts in Uncle Sam's postal savings bank, and this number is constantly increasing. More than one depositor a day being added to this number. This averages one to 14 in the city who have an account in this bank, the population being about 12,000. Nearly $200 a month is deposited by patrons of the bank.

Our First Grand Display of Spring and Summer Woolens for Men

Portland Tailoring Co., Inc. 322 Morrison St.

Our new Spring and Summer stock has just arrived and we are now displaying the most beautiful designs and patterns of the woolen world. Exclusive designs in Irish and Scotch Cheviots in those shades of gray and tan. English Hairline Worsteds that make you stand out as a tailor-made man. Rich Canadian Homespun and Shepherd Plaids. Never before have you seen such rich novelties. We specialize suits to order at that other tailors are asking $35 and $40 for. Our guarantee—if the clothes are not made satisfactory to you it won't cost you anything. That's how we've done business the past season, and you may believe us, we have built up one of the best tailoring businesses in the city of Portland. Drop in at your first opportunity and let us measure you for one of those nobby patterns before the tailors get busy.

$25-$30

Portland Tailoring Co., Inc. Portland Hotel Block 322 Morrison Street

GAYNOR SORE BESET

Physicians Sue for Pay for Curing Gun Wound.

$19,000 ALREADY AWARDED

Though City Gives Doctors Amount Deemed Adequate for 10 Days' Attention They Declare It Far Too Small.

CAVALRY SUCCORS AMERICANS Mexican Government Sends Troops to Relieve Velardena.

CHAUFFEUR SAYS FARE ROBBED AND DRUGGED HIM. Driver Stagers Into Los Angeles Police Station, Saying Car Was Stolen and He Made Prisoner.

REBELS MARCH ON CITY (Continued from First Page.)

Hamilton Grange, which more than 100 years ago was the country home of Alexander Hamilton.

A petition, for which already numerous signatures have been obtained, has been circulated, addressed to the Board of Estimates, asking that body to take the necessary steps for the city to acquire the Grange, as it did some time ago with the old Jumel mansion and the Van Cortlandt home. It is thought that this may be done at a nominal expense to the city.

When the Grange is on Convent avenue and adjoins St. Luke's Church, the corporation of which owns it. For the last 25 years the building has been used as a parish house and office for the clergy of St. Luke's. Before the present church was built the Grange was occupied as a place of worship.

SHOOTING CASE REVIEWED District Attorney Asserts One-Sided Version Given.

GRANTS PASS, Or., March 2.—(To the Editor.)—During the past few days The Oregonian has had in its news columns several items concerning a criminal case at Grants Pass in which G. M. Rowley, Chief of Police, will be charged with an assault with intent to kill upon C. S. Bixby. The case grew out of an attempt on the part of the Chief of Police to seize some liquor in possession of Fred Wickman, whose son and friends set upon the police, claiming they thought they were being prosecuted and the seizure was attempted in a populous part of the city and about 3 o'clock in the evening.

Those "Little" Diseases. Whooping Cough, Measles, Mumps and Chicken-pox are classed as "little" or "childish" diseases.

Why Convalescent Children Need the Most Tender and Watchful Care.

Whoooping Cough, Measles, Mumps and Chicken-pox are classed as "little" or "childish" diseases.

Sample Bottle Free by Mail. That those who are seeking health and strength for themselves, children, relatives or friends may experience the life-giving properties of this exclusive Murray gold medal emulsion cod liver oil medicinal food emulsion—as well as to know Ozonolium superiority—in being most palatable and easy to take—a generous 2-oz. bottle will be sent by mail to those who send addresses by postcard or letter to Ozonolium, 542 Pearl St., N. Y.

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

endeavoring to enforce the law and expect to continue, and is so doing have received the support of the decent people of the community.

The Oregonian has reviewed the news matter sent in by its correspondent in the matter referred to by Mr. Mulkey and has been unable to find anything that seemed to be prejudicial to either prosecutor or defendant. It cannot conceive how anybody could obtain a biased view from the news reports. In the absence of any statement by Mr. Mulkey pointing out wherein the accounts were one-sided, The Oregonian can but agree with its correspondent that the incidents of the case were very "unusual."

ALL GROCERS

Advertisement for Drifted Snow flour, featuring a large illustration of a flour sack with the brand name and 'XXX FLOUR' prominently displayed. Text includes 'SUPERLATIVE WHITE ROLLER PROCESS DRIFTED SNOW CHOICEST XXX FLOUR MANUFACTURED BY SPERRY FLOUR COMPANY TACOMA, U.S.A.' and 'NONE BETTER NO MATTER HOW MUCH YOU PAY'.