

ELECTION EVE SEES GILL AS FAVORITE

Supporters of Seattle's Re-called Mayor Wager Two to One on Result.

27 AMENDMENTS LISTED

Voters to Decide Fate of Proposed Changes in Charter—If Inclement Weather Prevails It May Hurt Cotterill.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 4.—(Special.)—Though the Majority fight in at least half the precincts, the showers or occasional sunbursts, indicating that the record-breaking vote which political prognosticators had expected, may be seriously curtailed.

If either of the Majority candidates could be expected to profit by inclement weather, it would be H. E. Gill, for the primary returns show he was strongest in the congested districts, where the polling places are easily reached in any kind of weather.

Gill Supporters Hopeful. A Gill atmosphere pervaded the city all day and night before the election, the change since last Friday and Saturday being remarkable. Probably there was little or any change in votes actually made, but it was undoubtedly true that late last week the Gill forces were alarmed over the activity of the Cotterill workers.

While not the Cotterill workers, the Gill managers found their workers in a state bordering on a panic and it was hard to shake them out of it. After 24 hours' rest the situation changed this morning and the air, particularly in the business districts, was heavily charged with Gill sentiment. The Gill forces were busy today with detail work and interest in that campaign a chance to lag on the day before election.

Gill Favorite in Betting. Considerable money suddenly appeared today for betting on election results and tonight Gill was a 2 to 1 favorite, even money being offered on a majority of 2000, and some even on 3000. Above that figure odds were sought. However, betting commissioners declare that most of the money up to small amounts, only one bet of $2000 to $1000 being reported. Gill, of course, was the favorite in this bet.

There has been a reaction from the bitterness of the Gill campaign, the letter-writing and circular work of the Cotterill managers creating resentment because of the extreme nature which it was carried. This was evident today by the boldness of many women voters who appeared downtown with Gill badges for the first time.

The hardest fight Mayorality race for politicians to understand is the trend of the Socialist sympathizers, who added about 3000 to the 100,000 who held special meetings here weekly and will make a study of the charter question.

Two charters have been prepared for voters' consideration, one by the City Council for a Councilmanic form of government and another by those wanting a commission form of government. A special election will be held April 22 for consideration of the former instrument. The commission charter proposed has had a setback because H. M. Wells in the primaries. There are several tickets out with Cotterill's name at the head and the four Socialist candidates on the bottom.

Yagelstein Seem for Gill. In Youngstown, a Socialist stronghold, the Socialists endorsed Gill and issued a ticket with his name at the top. Richard Yagelstein, who has been in the city for some time, is said to exist in the Green Lake and Rainier Valley districts. Bruce Ross, a Socialist city commissioner, has issued a card warning Socialists not to support Cotterill. But despite these surface indications, politicians actually do not know where the Socialist followers will vote and they could decide tomorrow's election.

During the past few days Cotterill's single tax attitude has figured strongly in the election campaign. Undoubtedly Gill will get a fair-sized vote on this account, while otherwise he would be almost certain to lose. The indications are that the single tax amendments will be beaten tomorrow. Both sides have spent a small fortune in this campaign and today wagons with banners both for and against the amendments paraded the streets, while thousands of copies of campaign pamphlets litter the sidewalks, showing evidence of the activity of the circular distributors.

Women's Votes Sought. The single tax fight has been bitter, both sides interrupting the other's meetings and both striving to reach the women's votes. Most attorneys agree that the state Supreme Court has held on other tax legislation that all property must be assessed equally and that the single tax amendments to the city charter are unconstitutional. But the fight is being waged over them despite this precedent.

A few days ago it appeared that the Harbor Island scheme was beaten. A change in sentiment is evident during the past two or three days, and there is a chance that the proposed bond issue requiring a three-fifths vote will "carry."

All told there are 27 charter amendments submitted tomorrow. Manifestly the public is not posted on the merits of each and a sentiment has found expression that whoever in doubt the vote will vote no. This likely will be reflected in tomorrow's balloting, although the newspapers during the past month have been printing advisory bulletins on the amendments. The questions range from depriving the Mayor of his veto power to increasing the salary of the executive 50 per cent, these two extremes fairly including the wide range of legislation submitted for popular approval.

Port Bond Issues Up. Eight Port Commission bond issues have been submitted, two of them involving the plan to duplicate the Bush terminal system of New York on Harbor Island at the head of Elliott Bay. One of the other proposals is a recreation park on Lake Washington, and the others provide for dock locations.

The question of establishment of a municipal telephone system is submitted in two proposals. Two others cover a tuberculosis hospital appropriation. Two relate to the return of a Chief of Police or Chief of the Fire Department to his old position in the ranks after being displaced at the head of his department.

The City Controller has instructed municipal officials to count the vote on June generally the result will be known early. If the count is delayed to carry along charter amendments uncertainty will prevail during most of the night for all told the voters tomorrow will

THREADLESS BOLT MADE

Vancouver Man's Invention May Revolutionize Steel Work.

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF CORVALLIS PASSES AWAY

Mrs. Jane Deuman. CORVALLIS, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—Mrs. Jane Deuman, a highly esteemed resident of Corvallis, died recently at the age of 79 years. She was deeply mourned by many friends. Mrs. Deuman was born in Ohio and was married in Pittsburg, Pa., in 1862. To J. T. Deuman, she accompanied her husband to Oregon in 1871 and located in Polk County. They moved to Corvallis about 25 years ago. Mr. Deuman died in 1908. George Deuman, a son, is Police Judge and practicing attorney of this city and a daughter, Anna Deuman, is a teacher in the public schools.

CLAMATH SOCIALISTS ACT

Members of Party May Place Municipal Ticket in Field.

CLAMATH FALLS, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—E. K. Thompson, organizer of Local 876, which is the title of the Klamath Falls body of the Socialist party, says that the socialists will hold special meetings here weekly and will make a study of the charter question.

Two charters have been prepared for voters' consideration, one by the City Council for a Councilmanic form of government and another by those wanting a commission form of government. A special election will be held April 22 for consideration of the former instrument. The commission charter proposed has had a setback because H. M. Wells in the primaries. There are several tickets out with Cotterill's name at the head and the four Socialist candidates on the bottom.

Yagelstein Seem for Gill. In Youngstown, a Socialist stronghold, the Socialists endorsed Gill and issued a ticket with his name at the top. Richard Yagelstein, who has been in the city for some time, is said to exist in the Green Lake and Rainier Valley districts. Bruce Ross, a Socialist city commissioner, has issued a card warning Socialists not to support Cotterill. But despite these surface indications, politicians actually do not know where the Socialist followers will vote and they could decide tomorrow's election.

During the past few days Cotterill's single tax attitude has figured strongly in the election campaign. Undoubtedly Gill will get a fair-sized vote on this account, while otherwise he would be almost certain to lose. The indications are that the single tax amendments will be beaten tomorrow. Both sides have spent a small fortune in this campaign and today wagons with banners both for and against the amendments paraded the streets, while thousands of copies of campaign pamphlets litter the sidewalks, showing evidence of the activity of the circular distributors.

Women's Votes Sought. The single tax fight has been bitter, both sides interrupting the other's meetings and both striving to reach the women's votes. Most attorneys agree that the state Supreme Court has held on other tax legislation that all property must be assessed equally and that the single tax amendments to the city charter are unconstitutional. But the fight is being waged over them despite this precedent.

A few days ago it appeared that the Harbor Island scheme was beaten. A change in sentiment is evident during the past two or three days, and there is a chance that the proposed bond issue requiring a three-fifths vote will "carry."

All told there are 27 charter amendments submitted tomorrow. Manifestly the public is not posted on the merits of each and a sentiment has found expression that whoever in doubt the vote will vote no. This likely will be reflected in tomorrow's balloting, although the newspapers during the past month have been printing advisory bulletins on the amendments. The questions range from depriving the Mayor of his veto power to increasing the salary of the executive 50 per cent, these two extremes fairly including the wide range of legislation submitted for popular approval.

Port Bond Issues Up. Eight Port Commission bond issues have been submitted, two of them involving the plan to duplicate the Bush terminal system of New York on Harbor Island at the head of Elliott Bay. One of the other proposals is a recreation park on Lake Washington, and the others provide for dock locations.

The question of establishment of a municipal telephone system is submitted in two proposals. Two others cover a tuberculosis hospital appropriation. Two relate to the return of a Chief of Police or Chief of the Fire Department to his old position in the ranks after being displaced at the head of his department.

The City Controller has instructed municipal officials to count the vote on June generally the result will be known early. If the count is delayed to carry along charter amendments uncertainty will prevail during most of the night for all told the voters tomorrow will

Barber Lumber Company, against whom action was taken by the Government five years ago to take away 25,000 acres of timber land in the Boise basin near here, is entitled to the timber and the Government cannot interfere. This important decision clearly shows the exploding of the law theory of the Government that title to timber entries cannot be secured by another or a corporation through a prior agreement.

Title to 16,000 acres of valuable timber lands along the Clearwater River in Nez Perce County acquired by William F. Ketterbach and George H. Keator in the same manner as the land of the Barber Lumber Company for which Ketterbach and Keator were tried and acquitted and which is now tied up through legal proceedings instituted by the Government, will, under this decision, pass to Keator and Ketterbach, who purchased it from the timbermen.

CLAMATH JUDGE ANSWERS ENIGMAS

Actions of County Court Are Declared to Have Been Justified.

COMMERCIAL CLUB SCORED

William S. Worden, in Statement to Governor West, Declares That Organization Was Formed to Oppose Court.

SALEM, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—William S. Worden, County Judge of Klamath County, came back to his chambers today in a statement to Governor West upon the action of the Klamath County Court in different matters set out in the petitions from the Klamath Falls Commercial Club.

He supplements the letter with the copy of a report of the Klamath County grand jury, in which the action of the court relative to the poor farm is approved. He also inserts a lengthy letter sent to the taxpayers of Klamath County, in which the court sets out in full just what it has accomplished in road work and why it was done.

Publicity is Rejected. "We deprecate the publicity which our court has attracted because of these objections," writes Judge Worden to the Governor, responding to his callumors. "Since while they are unfair to us," he continues, "they reflect a bad light on conditions here, because they are untrue and emanate from a body of men who are acting solely from and prompted by selfish motives."

In his letter he sets forth that about a year ago the County Court decided that it had inherited a poor farm with inadequate, unsuitable and improper quarters, so that the court was compelled to house county charges in some of the lodging-houses of the county. He says that the farm was on arid, side-hill land, which is non-productive and entirely unsuitable for the purpose for which it was used. He then explains the nature of his father's farm and the reasons for its purchase, declaring that it contained many valuable features and that the court was ruthless to everyone and that those who had tried to live there in the past had been starved out.

He says that the court plans, on the new farm, to secure from the Agricultural College one of the best men available to develop the farm; to demolish the old farm; to purchase land and to establish an agricultural course in the high school.

Judge Explains Trip Out. Judge Worden says that it is true that the County Court took a trip to Portland to investigate the matter to the expense of the county upon its return home, but asserts it was to attend the convention of County Judges and Comptrollers, that the trip was necessary and to establish an agricultural course in the high school.

Club's Attitude Criticized. Judge Worden takes a strong attitude toward the Klamath Falls Commercial Club, declaring that "was formed for the purpose of fighting the County Court and dictating the location of the new courthouse, for the benefit of a few property owners."

Mentioning the site outside of the city limits, he says: "The Commercial Club was organized for the purpose of fighting this courthouse site acceptance and in the meantime a courthouse committee, the County Judge and manager of the Klamath Development Company have been prohibited from joining the Agricultural Club at the Oregon Agricultural College, which is scheduled for Monday evening, March 4, Dr. James Withycombe, director of the Experiment Station, will discuss 'The Outlook of Agriculture.'" Dr. Withycombe's wide experience makes him an authority on his subject, and the club members are looking forward to his talk as a source of inspiration. Jay P. Green, a senator from Twin Falls, Idaho, will discuss "Irrigation in Idaho," and Charles E. Hays, a Portland senator, will present a paper on "Strawberries."

Extradition Papers Are Granted. SALEM, Or., March 4.—(Special.)—Extradition papers were issued today by Governor West for A. W. Wontoux, alias W. A. Van Daren, who is under arrest at Pendleton and is wanted in Chicago on a charge of larceny by embezzlement. It is alleged that he embezzled from the Cement Finishing Co., Rock Asphalt Layers and Helpers' Union, of which he was secretary. Extradition for Wontoux was granted by the Barber Lumber Company's timber lands near this city, through the sweeping recent decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which delivered an unexpected blow to the Government's legal proceedings against this company and its officers. Twice the Government has lost in this case. It has one year in which to draft and file an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and this action will be taken, according to reliable reports heard in Federal circles.

The name of ex-Governor Steunenberg is brought into special prominence in the decision of Judge Gilbert of the Circuit Court, which holds that the

GOOD NAME IS RESTORED

EX-GOVERNOR STEUNENBERG FREED FROM SCANDAL

Memory of Former Idaho Official Cleared by Court Decision in Land Fraud Case.

BOISE, Idaho, March 4.—(Special.)—Indicted on the criminal charge of conspiracy after being murdered in cold blood by explosion of the bomb set by Harry Orchard, the famous self-confessed slayer, and his name cleared, ex-Governor Frank Steunenberg, of this state, deceased, has been fully exonerated in his dealings in connection with the Barber Lumber Company's timber lands near this city, through the sweeping recent decision of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, which delivered an unexpected blow to the Government's legal proceedings against this company and its officers. Twice the Government has lost in this case. It has one year in which to draft and file an appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States, and this action will be taken, according to reliable reports heard in Federal circles.

The name of ex-Governor Steunenberg is brought into special prominence in the decision of Judge Gilbert of the Circuit Court, which holds that the

PROJECT MAY LIVE

Efforts Made to Revive Wahluke Irrigation Scheme.

ORCHARD CREDITORS ACT

Persons Caught in De Larm-Blehl Operations Will Attempt to Put Grant County, Wash., Lands Under Water.

GRIDIRON STUNTS DELIGHT

Shriners at Hood River Dance Show Preference for Taft.

YOUNG COLLEGIAN WILL COMPETE IN COMING ORATORICAL CONTEST

DAVID C. PICKETT. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 4.—(Special.)—David C. Pickett, a junior from Prineville, will represent the University of Oregon at the intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held at Forest Grove next Friday when eight colleges of the state will compete for supremacy in oratory. Pickett's oration is entitled "The Modern Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

PROJECT MAY LIVE

Efforts Made to Revive Wahluke Irrigation Scheme.

ORCHARD CREDITORS ACT

Persons Caught in De Larm-Blehl Operations Will Attempt to Put Grant County, Wash., Lands Under Water.

GRIDIRON STUNTS DELIGHT

Shriners at Hood River Dance Show Preference for Taft.

YOUNG COLLEGIAN WILL COMPETE IN COMING ORATORICAL CONTEST

DAVID C. PICKETT. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 4.—(Special.)—David C. Pickett, a junior from Prineville, will represent the University of Oregon at the intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held at Forest Grove next Friday when eight colleges of the state will compete for supremacy in oratory. Pickett's oration is entitled "The Modern Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

To Be in Fashion

Efforts Made to Revive Wahluke Irrigation Scheme.

ORCHARD CREDITORS ACT

Persons Caught in De Larm-Blehl Operations Will Attempt to Put Grant County, Wash., Lands Under Water.

GRIDIRON STUNTS DELIGHT

Shriners at Hood River Dance Show Preference for Taft.

YOUNG COLLEGIAN WILL COMPETE IN COMING ORATORICAL CONTEST

DAVID C. PICKETT. UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, March 4.—(Special.)—David C. Pickett, a junior from Prineville, will represent the University of Oregon at the intercollegiate oratorical contest to be held at Forest Grove next Friday when eight colleges of the state will compete for supremacy in oratory. Pickett's oration is entitled "The Modern Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

40 members of the Order of the Mystic Shrine who make their homes in the city, are to entertain the Shriner night, features of the entertainment were stunts similar to those given by the Gridiron Club. A bit of politics was given in the form of a "Faradoc," an appeal for universal peace.

The following eight students, designated by their respective classes, will attend the business meeting of the association in the afternoon: Freshman, Miss Helen Cahn, of Portland, and Fred A. Hardesty, of Astoria; sophomore, Miss Bess Cowden, of Silverton, and Verner Mosenbacher, of Klamath Falls; junior, Miss Ann McCallie, of Portland, and Earl Marston, of Portland; senior, Miss Alma Payton, of Baker, and Chester Moore, of Portland.

At the annual banquet following the contest, the banquet will be represented by Messrs. Moore, with a toast on "The Referendum."

Advertisement for LYRA CORSETS. Includes text: "To Be in Fashion", "you must mould your figure into the long, slender, graceful lines of the present vogue.", "choose your corset and to fit it to you properly. The prices range $5 to $25", "American Lady CORSETS", "consequently one for yours. $1 to $5", "R. E. FARRELL CO. ALDER and SEVENTH Principal Agents for the Lyra and American Lady Corsets."

Advertisement for Campbell's Soups. Includes text: "Why do they keep so fresh and pure?", "That's what puzzles some people about Campbell's Soups.", "Because they are made so fresh and pure. That is the answer.", "Not only is every material of the choicest quality but it is used in fresh and perfect condition.", "Is it any wonder these perfect soups come to your table as fresh as a June morning?", "21 kinds 10c a can", "Look for the red-and-white label", "Campbell's SOUPS", "The More Particular You Are—The More Careful You Are About Giving Your Family Only the Best and Cleanest Food—The More You'll Insist on Getting Blue Ribbon Bread", "The Double-Size Loaf in the Waxed Paper Wrapper—10c the Loaf", "Log Cabin Baking Co.", "VANCOUVER AVE. and FREMONT STREET"

Advertisement for THE BEAR-BEaver ROSE CITY. Includes text: "S. S. 'BEAVER' Sails 4 P. M., Thursday, March 7 RATES, INCLUDING BERTH AND MEALS", "San Francisco, $6.00 and Up", "Los Angeles, $11.35 and Up", "(Two days sightseeing at San Francisco with meals and berth free)", "Ticket Office, 142 3d Street", "Phones, Main 402, A 1402"