

ELEANOR SEARS AS JOCKEY, WINS RACE

Boston Heiress, Astride Polo Pony, Crosses Wire Ahead of Lady Herbert.

AMERICAN GIRL FAVORITE

Englishwoman Rides Side-Saddle and Wears Conventional Habit but Competitor, Nothing Loath, Sports Peg-Top Trousers.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 11.—Miss Eleanor Sears, the millionaire baroness maid of Boston, rode the Rose to victory today in a quarter-mile dash for polo ponies on the Coronado track, defeating Lady Reginald Herbert, an Englishwoman, who was a close second.

Lady Herbert got away a length in the lead with the inside track. Miss Sears' clever horsemanship won her the race for as they rounded the turn and came into the stretch she sent her pony into the lead and gradually drove to the front until she crossed the wire two lengths ahead. The time was 27 4-5 seconds.

Many Women Took Out. There was disappointment because Mrs. W. Clark, Mrs. Walter Duppe, Mrs. Morris Duval, Mrs. S. H. Velle, Miss Jennie Crocker, Miss Georgiana Leadbetter and Mrs. John Jordan, who expected to be contestants, did not start.

There were five other races, polo ponies owned by the different players now here being entered. Professional jockeys rode. All were devoid of exciting features. Considerable money was bet on the race between Miss Sears and Lady Herbert, with the American girl a slight favorite.

Miss Sears Wears Trousers. Lady Herbert was attired in a regulation blue serge riding skirt, white silk cap, white blouse and green sash, the Coronado Country Club colors. She rode a side-saddle.

Miss Sears rode to win the race, she told her friends. She rode astride with the stirrups well up. She wore a reddish brown pair of peg-top trousers, an army leggings, a plaid cap and khaki color riding with silk gloves. She wore with all the traces of a well trained jockey and was standing high in her stirrups and leaning well over the neck of her horse as she crossed the wire.

FAMOUS OPERA SINGER, WHO LOVES ROLE OF MOTHER, AND HER CHILDREN.

BABE CLAIMS DIVA

Addition to Family Has Kept Mme. Homer Off Stage.

SHE'S BACK, NOW, THOUGH Famous Contralto Admits She Would Rather Be Mother Than Prima Donna—Singer to Have Part in New $10,000 Opera.

NEW YORK, March 11.—(Special.)—Madame Homer, the famous contralto of the Metropolitan Opera-House, would rather be a mother than a prima donna, and that is why her admirers did not hear her sing until recently last season.

The newest addition to the Homer family kept its famous mother from the boards of the Metropolitan for several months. It was but recently that she made her reappearance in "Orfeo" before a brilliant audience that gave her loyal welcome.

The domestic tastes of Madame Homer are shared by her husband, Sidney Homer, the composer, and the entrance to their home in New York has suggested a baby carriage garage to more than one visitor.

The new Homer baby has a voice. There is no doubt of that. But whether the youngster's voice resembles or will equal that of his mother remains to be seen. Mamma and Papa Homer are very proud of the baby.

Opera patrons voted Madame Homer's voice as sweet as ever when they heard it in "Orfeo." She has appeared since in "Triton and Isolde," "Die Meistersinger," "Lohengrin," and those who love Humperdinck's fairy opera hope to see her before the winning season ends in "Hansel and Gretel." But the most significant appearance Madame Homer will make this season will be as Mamma in Professor Horatio Parker's opera of that name, which will have its first presentation on any stage at the Metropolitan. This is the opera by which the Metropolitan management offered a prize of $10,000. The libretto was written by Brian Hooker, who wrote the famous college song, "Mother of Men, Old Yale."
