DAY ON TRAIL OF DOG.—Many old sidents not coming directly in con-sci with the police affairs of the city, ave a hazy idea that Detective Joe have a bazy idea that Detective Joe Day is the "whole works" in the matter of thief-taking. Long service and prominence of the elderly sleuth contribute to the idea. This was demonstrated yesterday when an elderly neasewife entered detective headquarters and asked to see Day. "He is not in just new," said Captain Baty. "Is there something I could do for you." Well, I don't know," replied the woman, scanning her questioner doubtfully, "The neighbors told me I had better see Mr. Day, as he was the one to take care of my case." "We all work together here," suggested the captain. "Perhaps you had better tell me what the trouble is." "Well, I guess it won't hurt any. The trouble is that someone has stolen my Spitz poddle and I, want him recovered." Detective Day will be assigned to the case.

AUTO SCHOOL "TEACHER" HELD TO JURY.

Accused by a dozen of his alleged victims, of conducting an automobile echool of fraudulent nature, W. H. Franklin, who has offices in the Railway Exchange building, was held to the grand jury in Municipal Court yesterday, on a charge of obtaining money by false presence. He was arrested terday, on a charge of obtaining money by false pretences. He was arrested several days ago, after Detectives Mallet and Molency had investigated his purported school. The arrest was brought shout by a visit en masse, made by the accusers to the police station. They asserted that they paid from $25 to $50 to learn the business of repairing and driving automobiles, with a guarantee of positions at the end of the course. They found, they said a shop with no equipment except two ancient automobiles, and the "faculty" consisted of one of their number, who was promoted to the position of instructor two weeks after he entered as a novice.

the taxpayers to voice their desires trick for Monday, March 25, to enable the taxpayers to voice their desires relative to the location of the proposed high school building to be erected in that district. Two questions will be submitted: Shall the directors reject and buy a site of about one and a half acres separate from the present school-house grounds on Main and Harrison streets and erect the high school-house thereon, or shall the directors serect the building on the present school grounds as an addition to the present building? It is expected that the new building will contain four rooms and cost not less than $10,000. A considerable number of taxpayers think that the high school should be separate considerable number of taxpayers think that the high school should be separate from the grammar school and erected on an independent site, but others contend it should be built on the present school ground, and the matter will be settled at the special election. There is no opposition to the high school, and the directors have authority to proceed with its erecton as soon as the site question is settled.
