MOHAIR POOL BIDS

Buyers' Views of Dallas Sale Methods.

MAY NOT ATTEND THIS YEAR

Say They Must Know What They Are Getting, or They Will Not Submit Offers—Dissatisfaction Last Year.

Mohair buyers declare they will not bid for the Dallas mohair pool this year under the same conditions as the pool sale was carried out last year. At the last sale there was much dissatisfaction on the part of the dealer bidders when the pool was bid in by the secretary of the association.

Henry Metzger, buyer for the Sanford Mohair Mills, said yesterday:

"The Dallas pool sale must be conducted differently from heretofore or we will not bid on it. We will insist on knowing what fleeces are in the pool and the quantity. Unless we can be assured of getting the mohair we bid on, if we are the successful bidders, we will not attend. We have as much right as the secretary to know who is in the pool and how many fleeces there are in it. Furthermore, no member of the association should be allowed to bid on the pool except on the floor with the other buyers and not in the background. All we want is a square deal in this matter, and I believe the other mohair buyers will stand back of me in insisting that we get it."

John E. Young, president of the Multnomah Mohair Mills, also said he was dissatisfied with the way the sale was conducted last year, and was not disposed to bid on the pool this year unless he had a certainty of getting the quality of mohair he bid upon.

The date of the Dallas sale has not been fixed yet, but will probably be announced this week.

A few small lots of 12 months 1912 mohair have been bought in Southern Oregon at 22 cents delivered Portland.

OATS STRONG AT FORMER PRICES.

Several Hundred Tons Sold to Go South. Wheat Steady.

The week opened with no abatement of the strength of the oats market. Several hundred tons were sold on the local market to go south, which further depleted the supply here. Holders in the interior were strong.

Wheat was steady and quiet with last week's local prices repeated. There were sales of bluestem in the country to interior mills as high as 94 cents.

Local receipts in cars were reported by the Merchants Exchange as follows:

Trade in West Good.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The stock market today made considerable recovery from its unsettled condition of last Saturday, when prices fell on fears of political and industrial disturbances abroad.

Much of the strength and activity converged about stocks that never have exercised great influence as market factors. These included Erie, Missouri Pacific and American Can preferred. Some idea may be gained of the anomalous movements of the session from the fact that until 2 o'clock Erie common was the most active stock, its sales being greater than those of any other issue.

Missouri Pacific was more active than Union Pacific and the dealings in the Can shares were much larger than in stock whose course often had been accepted as significant.

The foreign situation seemed to offer some warrant for last week's rumors which went so far as to "threaten the peace of Europe."

The market took on its strongest tone in the final hour. Western traffic conditions are improving. One of the most hopeful features respecting that section is to be found in the steady piling up of bank deposits at reserve centers, indicating that a large part of the usual drain on this center for crop-moving requirements will be obviated. Increasing demand for cash in the West is reflected in the steadiness of its money markets.

The Controller of the Currency has completed his abstract of reports, showing the condition of over 7200 banks at the close of business February 22 last. The increase in surplus over the last previous date is almost $21,000,000, with a very small increase in reserves.

Sales by London here today were about 20,000 shares, chiefly Steel and Union Pacific. London got the bulk of the South African gold delivered there. The Imperial Bank of Germany reported a gain of about $6,000,000 in gold with an increase of $7,500,000 in cash deposits increased by $21,000,000.

The bond market was firm; total sales, par value, $2,621,000. United States Government bonds were unchanged on call.
