

ATTORNEYS CLASH IN BUNN CASE

Defense Scores When Patrolman Is Allowed to Tell of Talk With Hicks.

GUN OFFERED IN EVIDENCE

State Objects to Officer Bunn Acting as Expert in Shooting Gun and Explaining to Jury How Weapon Works.

Bitter clashes between attorneys, the most heated of which occurred when Special Prosecutor Davis referred to Patrolman Bunn, called as a witness by the state, as Civil Service Commissioner Logan's police officer.

The state objected to the admission of the conversation between Hicks and Bunn on the ground that whatever was said by Hicks was probably a self-serving statement, at least a minute and probably a greater length of time having elapsed from the firing of the shot which killed Wortman till Bunn arrived.

The testimony of Patrolman Bunn was a distinct disappointment to the state, so much so that on redirect examination Special Prosecutor Davis questioned Bunn with a suggestion of savagery.

Mr. Bigelow was asked that he saw the shell which was fired from the store, and that he saw the shell which was fired from the store, and that he saw the shell which was fired from the store.

Attorneys in Clash. Bunn did not know if there was more than one bullet left in the magazine from which the fatal bullet was fired.

MRS. WILLIAM DAVIS DIES Charter Member of First Oregon Grange Is Stricken.

ESTACADA, Or., March 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. William Davis, of the Garfield cemetery, died March 15, after a lingering illness.

Davis Called a Pettifogger. During the morning session Mr. Malarkey called Mr. Davis a pettifogger when the latter attempted to direct the attention of C. A. Bigelow, witness to the fact that there was a slight difference in a statement he made yesterday as compared with a statement made on the same subject at the inquest.

ulls me," declared Mr. Davis, his voice shaking with wrath, "but once in a while I will. There was no occasion for the use of the word 'pettifogger,' and Mr. Malarkey knows there wasn't. His action was unfair and unprofessional. I was merely seeking to refresh the mind of my witness, a proceeding which is strictly proper."

Sarcastic Remarks Continue. Attorney Malarkey was reading from an Oregon Supreme Court decision in the case of the state against Dr. Geng, a case in which he said he had been special prosecutor, when Dr. Davis interferred.

MISSING CHEVALIS COUNTY MAN, BELIEVED TO BE VICTIM OF JOHN TORNOW, THE OUTLAW.

Colin McKenzie, Deputy Sheriff. HOQUIAM, Wash., March 19.—(Special.)—Word is anxiously awaited from the searchers in the fastnesses of the Olympic wilds for some news of Colin McKenzie and A. V. Elmer, Deputy Sheriff.

around Wortman was inside the store hopping on one foot, which led Mr. Bigelow to believe at first that he had been shot in the leg; Hicks was standing about two feet outside the door with his back to the glass which lines the west side of the alcove, and was talking to a general northwesterly direction.

Both Mr. Malarkey and Mr. Logan, who is also appearing for the defendant, objected to the remark as insulting to the witness and Mr. Logan, and Judge Gatens, as is usual, instructed the jury to disregard the statement of Mr. Davis.

Mr. Malarkey offered, but was not allowed, to prove that Patrolman Bunn was required to wear a badge and carry an information charging Hicks with first-degree murder.

Threats by I. W. W. and Socialist leaders to storm the headquarters of Scout Young Camp, Spanish-American War Veterans Friday night, and wipe the organization out of existence, have been received by members of the camp.

Action Is Requested. A protest from the Portland Chamber of Commerce has been sent to the Mayor, asking that steps be taken to prevent the possibility of such a thing occurring again, and hinting that if the police are unable to cope with the disorderly element in the city, the matter may be taken into the hands of a committee of law-abiding citizens, taken from the city.

Members of the Portland Rotary Club refer their voice to the chorus of protest that is being raised in the city and Mayor's office within the past week against the disorderly behavior of representatives of the Socialists and I. W. W. organizations.

At a meeting yesterday of the National College Equal Suffrage League at the home of Dr. Henry Waldo Coe, the president, it was decided to inaugurate a contest for an acceptable body of Rotarians.
