SECOND ROSALSKY BOMB INTERCEPTED

Postal Officials, on Watch Since First Attempt, Find Package in Mails.

FINGER PRINTS RECORDED

Large Number of Detectives Sent to Follow New Clews, Nature of Which Police Commissioner Will Not Divulge.

NEW YORK, March 24,-A second NEW YORK, March 24.—A second infernal machine, similar in almost every respect to the one he received through the mail a week ago, was malled last Wednesday to Judge Rosalsky, of the Court of General Sessions. it was received in an uptown subsin-tion of the pestoffice, where postal in-spectors had been on the lookout for packages addressed to the Judge since the explosion in which he so narrowly escaped injury. They held it up and notified the police.

The incident has served to revive the activity of the police and Federal of-ficials who have been working on the case, and at least two dozen detectives were sent out from headquarters today and yesterday under orders from Dep-uty Police Commissioner Dougherty, on what are reported to be entirely new clews. Dougherty positively refused to talk this afternoon, but it was said that finger prints on the first bomb were being compared with marks on other bombs that the police know, about and that had furnished an im-

Judge Discusses Theories.

Judge Rosalsky himself has a mind of his own as to who did not sent the home, though he does not profess to possess even a distant idea of who the sender was. He is sure, he said today, that the bumb he opened and that came within a narrow margin of killing bim, was not sent by a maniac. He does not agree with another theory upon which the police were engaged for a time, that the bomb was sent to him by the same person who sent a bomb that killed Mrs. Grace Walker, otherwise known as Mrs. Helen Taylor, two months ago. He said that whosver sent the bomb must have had a motive and that it was not reasonable to preand that it was not reasonable to pre-sume that a similar motive could pos-sibly control in both cases.

"There was a similarity in the na-ture of the bombs, it is true, but that is true also of other bombs," said Judge Rosalsky. "As for the type-Judge Rosalsky. "As for the type-srifing of the addresses on the two packages, they may indeed be similar but there are thousands of typewriters of every kind in New York, and this does not indicate any connection be-tween the origins of the two bombs.

Motive Belleved to Exist. "In all things of this kind there is a motive, and there must have been one in this case, or else I would never have received that bomb. Right here I want to deny that I ever implied in any way that I thought this was an Italian

"New, as to the motive of the sender, that is one of the mysteries, I cannot conceive of such an enemy, I have tried hundreds of cases, and if the answer is to be found in any of them you are at liberty to look for it. I have no doubt the police will look carefully into this phase of the question."

Do you think your connection with the Brandt case may have had some-Stosalsky was asked.

Rosalsky was asked.

"I will not answer that question; but it seems to me you should be able to draw rour own conclusions as to whether it did or not."

"You have received many threatening letters, have you not?"

"Yes, hundreds of them," he said, but I never paid any attention to them. Hereafter, however, I expect to turn all that I get over to the police, for I now realize that a public official should do so. I don't believe any of those letters had anything to do with this case, but if any of them did there this case, but if any of them did there is no doubt that they would be of service to the police now."

Threats Come in Deluge. Have you been receiving an unusually large number since the Brandt case came into public notice?"

"Yes, I have been deluged with

"Were they mostly from ignorant

'No, many of them were from per-No, many of them were from per-sons who were apparently educated. Some of them were finely composed and some were neatly typewritten." Judge Rosalsky said he thought there was no reason to believe that the there was no reason to believe that the same person who sent a bomb to Ja-cob H. Schiff six years ago may have also sent the one he received. The person who mailed the bomb to Mr. Schiff in 1966 was never caught. David L. Kelly, chief of the bureau of combustibles, has finished his examination of what was left of the infornal machine. He said that it was one of the most skillfully constructed of the hundreds he had examined. He said it must have been made by a skilled mechanic who was familiar with ex-

The report on the investigation says that the less important industries of the countries showed greater percentages of increases during the period than more important ones.

By far the highest percentage of increases was noted in the automobile industry. Exceptionally large increases were credited to the copper, the and sheetiren industries.

Manufacturing industries of the United States employ as wage-carners $.615,046 persons, or almost 14½ percent of the wage-carning population. The value of the products of these industries is $20,672,052,000 and the value added by their manufacture is $8,530,-261,000.

The slaughtering and meat-packing industries rank first in gross value of products, with $1,270,588,090; second is found to be railway and machine-shop products, with $1,228,475,000; third, jumber and timber products, with $1,156,129,900; fourth is from and steel works and rolling milks with $265. works and rolling mills, with $985,-728,000, and, fifth flourmills and grist-mill products, with $883,548,000.

In furtherance of the movement, a petition is being circulated and signed by practically every man in the towns of Central Alaska, for general distribution among the voters of Washington, setting forth the handicap that Alaska suffers, and that Washington auffers as well, by reason of the lack of information about Alaska on the part of Washington's Senators and Representatives, to whom other memhers look for leadership in Alaskan matters, and their consequent inability to give adequate information and
