SAN FRANCISCO TO SEE WORLD'S NAVIES

Moore Tells Festival Promoters of Wonders of Coming Exposition.

COAST SHOWS ARE BANDED

George L. Hutchin Head of New Orsanization to Boost Fetes in Various Cities During Progress of Big Show

SAN FRANCISCO, April 3 .- (Special.)-Plans for the greatest congress of the world's warships in history, to be held during the Exposition period in San Francisco Bay, were revealed Tues-day by Charles C. Moore, president of the Panama-Pacific International Exposition, at a convention of delegates from the different festival associations on the Pacific Coast, held at the St. Francis Hotely.

Prancis Hotely.

Day and night parades which will change the city itself into a gigantic carnival scene, special festivals to be celebrated in the city and vicinity commemorative of such historic eras as the occupation of California, the arrival of the missionaries, the coming of 1849 and later events of similar significance were spoken of by President Moore as details of a systematic plan to re-enforce the Exposition with outside saterialnment features rivaling in splendor the Exposition and embracing more intimately the city itself.

Delegates Hear Plans.

Delegates Hear Plans. These plans were revealed to the delegates who came to form a festival association as an adjunct to the Ex-position committee, so it might be guided in whatever plans might be pade for concurrent festivals and celebrations in the cities to the north and

Co-operation between the exposition and the festival association was urged by President Moore to the end that there might be no unnecessary over-lapping of festival dates and conflict with the special features being arranged to supplement locally the greater event.

The convention, which was repre sentative of virtually every festival, fair and local or state exposition man-agement on the Pacific Coast from Vancouver to San Diego, met at 10 o'clock with more than 100 delegates present. The meeting was in response to an informal call lasted by George L. Hutchin, general manager of the Portland Rose Festival, several weeks ago. and Rose Festival, several weeks ago. In the call the meeting was urged that the many different festival associations, all working with local prids and interest at heart, might unite into a broader organization to work with the year 1916 in view and with the benefits of the entire Coast as its objective point. The project already had been given the support of the exposition management, and the convention was held under official auspices.

Mr. Hutchin was introduced as the temporary chairman by Captain John temporary chairman by Captain John Barneson, of the exposition committee. He explained to the assembled delegates that it would benefit the entire loss region if the different associations would work together with a view to providing exposition visitors with such a continuous, consecutive programme of local celebrations and festivities that those coming from the East via the northern railroads might travel leisurely down from Vancouver Portland, lured to stops in each neipal city by local festivals, and return to their homes after the expos tion visit by a southern route, which would enable them to visit the fes-ivals at Pasadena, Los Angeles, San dego and other cities to the south.

Concerted Plan Is Alm. By hitting upon a concerted plan to make this sort of a programme possible, said Mr. Hutchin, "we will be able to hold our tourist visitors for much longer periods than we could if the exposition likely was the one attraction, or if San Diego and Pasadena lor instance, give their beautiful festi-rais at the same time Portland gives its Rose Festival and Scattle its Golden ta Rose Festival and Scattle its Golden Potlatch, thereby making it impossible for the visitor to cattend both and accessitating his making a preference. What we want is first to get the people started to San Francisco and then having them on their way, persuade them to include the entire Coast in their itinerary."

The delegates present were organized into a permanent association to be

The delegates present were organized into a permanent association to be known as the Festivals Association of the Pacific Coast. Mr. Hutchin was chosen chairman and empowered to appoint an executive committee of one member from each state and territory fepresented, including Hawaii, which was represented at the meeting by Mrs. Francis Headlee, special agent of the Allied Chambers of Commerce of the Island possessions.

Press Committee Projected. A press committee to include one member from each festival organiza-tion also was authorized and this com-tion also was authorized and this committees, members of which will be delegated by their home associations, will meet April 18 in the exposition building to agree upon a plan of co-operative publicity for all the festivals which will mark the year 1915.

The executive committee which will be named by Chairman Htuchin will fix the date of the next meeting of the new association and will have prepared for consideration at that meeting a tentative programme of dates for the different local festivals planned for the exposition period. This general meeting probably will be held prior to April 18.

At the morning sessions speeches were made by the various delegates, all assuring the convention that the associations they represented intended to enter into 1915 festival plans with the determination to surpass all past achievements, Portland, Seattle, Tacoma, Vancouver, San Diego and Los Angeles especially were enthusiastic in outlining the plans of their respec-

TRACK PERMITS SOUGHT Southern Pacific Will Petition City Council Today.

Permission to construct tracks across East Pine, Ash, Ankeny, Burnside, Couch, Davis and Flanders streets be-tween Pirst and Second streets on the East Side will be asked by the Southern Pacific Company, of the City Council at its regular session this afternoon. The Port of Portland dredge virtually has completed filling the company's property between East Oak and East Burnzide streets and it is proposed to lay tracks on these filled in blocks so that East Side shippers may be served with freight facilities direct. Construction of the new freight house at East Oak street will be started within 10 days. Steel already is on the ground.

Bids also have been asked for the grading of two and a quarter miles of track at Forest Grove, which will give the Southern Pacific entrance to that city with its electric cars. Bids for grading and construction of bridges on the seven-mile line from Salem to Durbine on the Woodburn-Springfield branch recently authorized, also are being asked for. With the exception of curves at either end of the line, it will be perfectly straight and on a level surface. It will be built of 75-pound rails and well ballanted. A 2100-foot trestle will be built across Pudding River.

PRESENT COMMISSIONER FIRST IN TACOMA PRIMARIES.

Bond Issues and Proposition Regarding Water Mains Also Seem to Have Carried.

TACOMA, April 3 .- In the primary election today, 58 out of 79 precincts give Owen Woods, present Commissioner of Public Works, a decisive lead over all other candidates. For the other Commissionships, the following are the high men to participate at the final election two weeks hence, none of them receiving a majority in today's balloting: Public safety, A. U. Mills 4983, F. H. Pettit, incumbent, 3758; Light and water, R. F. Gronen, incumment, 3517. Nicholas Lawson, recalled a year ago, 3831. The bond issues and the proposition to take the cost of laying water mains off the consumers and put it on the water fund, appear to have carried. The vote was light.

The bond issues which carried were: $125,000 of the city's general bonds for constructing hard-surface boulevards; 35,000 general bonds for lower deck of vertical lift bridge now under construction. other Commissionships, the following
