

FORESTRY LAWS MUST BE OBSERVED

State Board Will Demand Rigid Enforcement to Prevent Fires.

WARDENS TO BE DOUBLED

Though There Were but 58 in Field Last Year It Is Planned to Put at Least 100 or More on Duty During This Season.

SALEM, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—Rigid observance of provisions of the state forestry laws will be demanded this year, according to a conclusion reached today by the State Board of Forestry in session here.

While the whole detailed plan will not be completed by the board for several days, enough was discussed in a general way to show that the board intends to clamp down tight a policy of fire prevention which will be founded on a rigid prosecution of all offenders. Last year the board was in its infant stage and organization was by no means perfect nor the work done thoroughly effective, although with lack of organization the report of the board showed minimum comparative fire loss. The first year's campaign of the board was conducted largely along the lines of education. This year—wherever it is shown that education has been a failure—coercion will be the rule.

Wardens to Be Doubled.
Last year there were but 58 wardens in the field. This year there will be 100 or more. This increase will be largely aided by the Federal appropriation act.

Burning of slashings without permit and other infringements of the Oregon law will meet with prompt prosecution and actual demonstration on the part of the forester and the board that no half-way measures will be tolerated. An informal discussion was also indulged in today along the lines of securing at the earliest possible moment an exchange of scattered school sections for a central state forest reserve. While the board has no manner of bringing about enforcement of this end that it desires, it will bring to bear what influence it has as a board to secure sanction of the Government for the plan.

Fight to Be Waged.
While brought up in discussion only, it is certain that the fight will be waged in the next Legislature to secure not only an increased appropriation for the forestry board, but some salient changes in the law will be proposed. The present board has a biennial appropriation of $60,000 or $30,000, annually for the two years.

The next session will be asked for a biennial appropriation of $100,000 or $50,000 annually for the two years. Just what changes in the law will be asked for is uncertain now. But members of the board and the State Forester charge that the law is loosely drawn; that it is by no means wholly satisfactory and that material improvement may be made in it at the next session.

Those present at the meeting today were Dan P. Smythe, Pendleton; George H. Coon, Portland; George W. Peavy, Forest Grove; I. S. Hill, Cottage Grove; State Forester Elliott, Assistant State Forester Selcke and Governor West.

Governor West also conducted the members through some of the state institutions this morning.

WEST STAYTON IS ACTIVE

Club Issues 10,000 Copies of Magazine for Distribution.

WEST STAYTON, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—The West Stayton Commercial Club has just issued 10,000 copies of its new magazine entitled "Oregon Opinions" and is mailing over 3000 of them to Eastern inquirers. The magazine contains opinions of some of the prominent Portland business men who visited the irrigation project at West Stayton last fall, also the opinions of newsmen and of such experts as Professor John H. Lewis and Professor C. I. Lewis and others, and gives a synopsis of the results obtained last summer at the West Stayton experiment station by the Oregon Agricultural College under direction of Professor H. D. Scudder.

Its 48 pages are replete with information well worth the perusal of everybody interested in Oregon, and especially in the Willamette Valley and its future upbuilding.

EVANGELICAL CLERGY MEET

Largest Conference Ever Held in Oregon Opens at Hillsboro.

HILLSBORO, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—The 18th annual conference of the Oregon United Evangelical Churches convened in this city Thursday, with Bishop U. F. Swengel, of Harrisburg, Pa., presiding, and A. A. Winter, president of Dallas College, acting as secretary. Twenty-five pastorates were represented at the conference, the largest in the history of the church organization in the state.

At a meeting this morning Rev. J. Bowersox, of Ockley Green, was elected president of the Oregon Missionary Society. Bishop Swengel last night opened the conference session with an address on missions. The conference will continue until Sunday or Monday and the changes will be announced at the close of conference.

Many Seek Fishing Licenses.

LYLE, Wash., April 5.—(Special.)—Local as well as outside anglers are besieging the County Clerk's office for fishing licenses for the season, which opens April 13. From reports fishing this year should surpass last season. The Government has taken keen interest in nearby streams in the way of protection of spawning grounds and closing small streams when the fish are at spawning time, leaving the young fish to die as the streams dry up.

The Klickitat River is famed for its bounteous supply of "speckled beauties" and the limit catch is a daily occurrence.

Kirby to Play With Kelso.

KELSO, Wash., April 5.—(Special.)—Homer Kirby, manager-captain of last year's Kelso team, will be a member of the Kelso team in the Lower Columbia River League this season. The news has been received with rejoicing by Kelso fans. Kirby will work behind the bat and with Slaughter will make one of the strongest catching staffs a Kelso team ever had.

FRANCIS' AID GIVEN

Missouri ex-Governor Witness for E. G. Lewis.

LOAN OF $100,000 REPAID

Former Third Assistant Postmaster Testifies That Publications Were Damaged by Government Order.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—David R. Francis testified for the defense today in the trial of E. G. Lewis, charged with using the mails to defraud, and said he had delivered three addresses for Lewis since 1908 at Lewis' request.

Edwin C. Madden, ex-Third Assistant Postmaster-General, testified the Lewis publications were damaged by Government interference. District Attorney Houts blocked by objection many questions that were put to Madden.

Mr. Francis said that to overcome his reluctance to deliver the first of the speeches, which was at a cornerstone laying of the Woman's Magazine building, Lewis postponed the ceremony until he had built one story of the building, as a guarantee to Francis that the ceremony was in good faith.

Francis said he delivered an off-handed speech and that when a copy of the magazine containing a report of the speech was shown him, he presumed it was what he said.

Francis testified that a St. Louis trust company, of which Francis is a director, lent Lewis $100,000, which was repaid to the company last year. Francis said he had not recalled that Lewis ever sought to borrow $100,000 of him. He said the loan was secured by real estate.

UNION ASSAILS MEDFORD

Circulars Sent to East to Keep Away Colonists.

Labor Leaders Say "Knock" Intended as Rebuke to Council for Failure to Pass 8-Hour Ordinance.

MEDFORD, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—Citizens and "boosters" of Medford and the Rogue River Valley awoke Friday morning to learn that the Labor Union Council had issued a circular intended to keep away both the investor and farmer, craftsman and laborer. The circulars came back to Medford from the Middle West and stirred citizens and business men to demand at once a thorough investigation by the Commercial Club and Business Men's Association, asking that every union in the city be put on record regarding its stand in the matter.

Union officials of the city Friday declared that the issuance of the circular was contrary to their wishes; that it was distributed without a referendum vote of the Central Labor Council, thereby making it illegal; that many of the union men did not know that it had been issued; that the "knock" was intended as a rebuke to the city for the failure of the Council to pass the eight-hour ordinance, and that the facts in the case are these: That a committee was appointed by the Labor Council to frame the circular and that a draft was read in the council by D. C. White, a carpenter and Socialist candidate for Councilman at the last city election. Union men at this time objected so strenuously to the circular that its particularly violent parts were eliminated.

Union members also say that the circular was rushed through the Council and that they had no time to consider its points.

Liquor Given to Indian, Charged.
KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—Deputy United States Marshal Frank Beatty has started to Portland with Frank Victor, who was arrested at the Klamath Indian agency charged by J. M. Holman, a farmer for Superintendent Edison Watson, with giving liquor to an Indian. Judge

Bean's determination to sentence all convicted givers of liquor to Indians to a Federal prison term is expected greatly to lessen the evil.

Pioneer of Eugene Passes Away.
EUGENE, Or., April 5.—(Special.)—Mrs. G. M. Bonnett, born near Eugene 25 years ago, died here today as the result of an operation. She married G. M. Bonnett in 1878, and until a few years ago lived on a farm northeast of here. She leaves two daughters.

KEEPS YOUR HAIR FROM FALLING OUT

AND DISSOLVES ALL DANDRUFF AT ONCE

Your Hair Appears Soft, Lustrous, Fluffy and Abundant After Using a Little Danderine.

What causes Dandruff, itchy scalp and falling hair? Who cares—so long as Danderine overcomes this—and it does, and quickly too—it does more, it grows hair and we can prove it.

Try as you will, after an application of Danderine, you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or a loose or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most, will be after a few weeks' use, when you will actually see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting all over the scalp.

A little Danderine now will immediately double the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is immediate and amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable luster, softness and luxuriance, the beauty and shimmer of true hair health.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and prove to yourself tonight—now—that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.
