Read the Secrets of the Faulty Drug System

Don't go another day in ignorance of the real methods of "commercialized medicine." Our free book will tell you what you ought to know—what your duty as guardian of the health of yourself and your family binds you to know. You will learn the contents of the nauseating potions so generally doled out to the suffering sick. You will wonder how any man could shamelessly administer such drugs and poisons to the well, let alone cause them to enter the system of the sick. You will be astounded at the general use of poisons that even the layman knows will kill but not cure.

You will come to look at the drug system through the eyes of those who see for themselves—of those who are not blinded by tradition—of those who mock at silly superstition. You will tear from modern medicine its mask of feigned professional secrecy and its cloak of age-long imposition on the people's ignorance of things they should know. And, finally, you will see modern medicine as a dying tree of feigned knowledge and grasping, heartless selfishness withering and decaying before the rising tempest of justice, enlightenment and intelligence. And you will be glad with the aid of OXYPATHY to be your own physician.

SENATOR HITS T. R.

Ex-President Portrayed as Money King's Friend.

PLEDGES SOON FORGOTTEN

Roseburg Citizens Informed That During Roosevelt's Administration Trusts Increased From 149 to 10,020.

ROSEBURG, Or., April 17.—(Special.)—Characterizing Theodore Roosevelt as a friend of the financial kings and big interests, and a person who had shown his unwillingness to promote his protection doctrines, United States Senator La Follette, of Wisconsin, this afternoon delivered an address in the presence of one of the largest audiences ever assembled on a similar occasion in this city.

Speaking of Roosevelt and his so-called progressive ideas, Senator La Follette said he was once looked upon by the voters as a protector of popular rights and a man opposed to combines. "He preached this doctrine prior to his election as President of the United States," said Senator La Follette, "and the people fully expected that he would respect his pledge, but in this he failed and today he stands a marked exhibit in the protection of the big interests."

"Roosevelt had two methods whereby he could have fought the trusts effectively, one through the anti-trust law and the other by letting down the tariff wall. In his failure to fight the trusts and thereby respect his pledge, he proved himself a standpat and unworthy of recognition as a progressive."

"There is no room on earth for a standpat. Old Cannon stood pat and I want to tell you that Roosevelt stood pat for seven years. Roosevelt preached against the trust evil, but never did he lift his hand in the direction of bringing about their termination. When Roosevelt came into power there were 149 trusts and when he turned the office over to President Taft eight years later there were 10,020 trusts. Does this look as though Roosevelt was a progressive? These trusts were capitalized at more than $21,000,000,000, 70 per cent of which was water and of no specific value. Today the markets of the United States are controlled by a few men who are recognized as dictators. You can't buy or sell your produce unless you consult these men. It is a deplorable condition and brings to mind the necessity of a change."

Local politicians, close in touch with the political situation in Douglas County, claim that La Follette's visit to Roseburg has assisted materially in strengthening Taft. This situation they claim is due to the fact that many former supporters of Roosevelt have deserted and are now affiliated with La Follette. Following the arrival of Senator and Mrs. La Follette this morning, Mrs. La Follette was tendered a reception at the Commercial Club rooms by the Ladies' Club of Roseburg. During the reception she delivered an address on equal suffrage, and as a result of her

TAFT STRONG IN JACKSON

Bitter Fight Closes Today With Medford Meetings.

MEDFORD, Or., April 17.—The political campaign in Jackson County will close with a burst of speed the day before the primaries, when Senator La Follette will address a meeting at the Natatorium in the morning, followed at night by a Republican rally which will be addressed by Dr. John Wesley Hill in favor of President Taft. A Roosevelt club has been formed and now every prominent Republican aspirant is represented by a local organization, each of which is bending every effort to bring victory to their candidate. In the opinion of some of the oldest political prophets, Taft has a splendid chance of landing the nomination, as the radical element promises to split between La Follette and Roosevelt, while Taft supporters are firm. At present, however, every club chairman can see nothing but victory for his favorite in this section.

Only second in interest in the Presidential fight is the fight for the County Judgeship and the contest between Selling and Bourne. This district has been flooded with Bourne literature the past two weeks, and his friends are straining every effort to get a majority. Selling has suffered from not being well known to the people in general, but it is certain that the Selling stock has been rising steadily, and his friends believe he will at least break even in Jackson County with the present incumbent. The fight for the Judgeship is between F. E. Merrick, of Medford, and Judge George Dunn, of Ashland. Never before in the history of Jackson County has such a bitter campaign been carried on. All political lines have been dropped and the fight is simply one between Medford on one side and Ashland on the other, with the smaller precincts in the county splitting on the issue. The good roads question is the principal subject for discussion, Merrick being in favor of the recent bond issues and Dunn against. Betting favors the election of Merrick by a large majority.

MRS. HARRIET HOWE DIES

Oregon Pioneer of 1850 Stricken at Home Near Turner.

TURNER, Or., April 17.—(Special.)—Mrs. Harriet Howe, an Oregon pioneer of 1850, died at her home at Turner yesterday, at the age of 83. Mrs. Howe was born in Morgan County, Illinois, July 23, 1822, and before her marriage to Leonard Howe, in 1844, was Miss Harriet Robinson.

With her husband she moved to Oregon in 1850, settling first at Astoria, and moved the following year to Lane County, where Mr. Howe received from the Governor the first appointment as Sheriff. He again held the office of Sheriff when they later moved to Douglas County, where they settled on a donation land claim near Roseburg. In 1882 they moved to Turner, where Mrs. Howe since has resided. Mr. Howe's death took place at Colfax, Wash., on April 16, 1912. The five children surviving are Orin Howe, of Whiteside, Idaho; Mottier Howe, of Salem; Arthur and John, at Colfax, Wash., and Mrs. Viola Cornelius, of Turner. Burial will take place at Colfax.

BIG CROWD OUT AT BAKER

Paramount Cause Why President Should Be Returned for Second Term Is Attitude Toward Trusts, Says Speaker.

BAKER, Or., April 17.—(Special.)—Fifteen positive reasons why William Howard Taft should be given a second term as President of the United States were recited by Ralph D. Cole, ex-Congressman from Ohio, in a pointed address here tonight before a large and enthusiastic mass meeting of Baker County Republicans held at the Elks' Auditorium. Rounds of cheers and applause demonstrated the unanimity of the Taft spirit here. "The paramount reason why the people of the United States should support President Taft for the Presidency again is his action and attitude regarding trusts," said Mr. Cole, "the President gave the various industries of the Nation a square deal by appointing a tariff board to get accurate data upon which to base a scientific tariff revision. This showed him to be a thorough statesman, too broad minded and honest to be carried away by the selfish clamor of the money power for questionable legislation and non-enforcement of laws."

Among the other accomplishments of the President which Mr. Cole declared are strong enough to convince any fairminded man of the need of continuing Taft in office was his action in promoting the corporation tax law which has increased the revenue by millions and given the Government full information as to the workings of the great industrial combines—support of the interstate commerce act to give greater efficiency to the law to regulate rates; support of the commission to investigate railway securities and capitalization; the postal policies which have placed the Postoffice Department on a self-supporting basis for the first time in history; the creation of the Bureau of Mines to protect miners; the employment liability law for the benefit of the working people; the support of a law for compensation of injured workmen without the need of resorting to expensive litigation; the President's attitude on universal peace; amendments to the safety appliance act to assure greater efficiency; support of the Pacific Coast for the Panama Exposition, and reform measures of vast importance to all classes and especially workmen and women. "Prosperity is the dominant note of President Taft's Administration," declared Mr. Cole, in conclusion.
