MOTHER SUES FOR GIFT TO DAUGHTER

Mrs. Hawthorne Would Regain Possession of Stock Held by Mrs. Collins.

502 SHARES IN DISPUTE

Plaintiff Says Relatives Wrested Control of Big Estate From Her. Conditions of Donation Violated.

That the fight between heirs for con-That the fight between nears for con-trol of the estate of J. C. Hawthorne, incorporated since 1898 and now re-puted to be worth in excess of $2,000. -00, has been resumed and is likely to be continued with the bitterness which marked previous contests, is evidenced by a suit filed in Circuit Court yester-

The plaintiff is Mrs. Rachel L. Hawthorne, aged 75, widow of the Portland ploneer who accumulated the property which has now become valuable, and the defendant is Mrs. Catherine H. Col-lins, daughter of the plaintiff and the wife of M. O. Collins. Mrs. Hawthorne is seeking a reassignment of 502 shares of the stock of the Hawthorne estate corporation, which she alleges she assigned to Mrs. Collins in November, 1808, under an agreement that Mrs. Collins was to have undisputed possession of it after Mrs. Hawthorne's death, but that Mrs. Hawthorne was to vote and control it during her lifetime.

"Strings" Tied to Stock. The complaint contains what purports to be a copy of a power of attor-ney signed by Mrs. Collins at the time the transfer was made. The plaintiff says that Mrs. Collins and Whitney L. Boise, husband of Louise H. Boise, Mrs. Hawthorne's other daughter, had quar-reled violently, and that Mrs. Collins was afraid that the plaintiff might die and that Mr. Boise would in some way obtain such control of the estate that Mrs. Collins would be excluded from a voice in its management.

She declares that Mrs. Collins first begged her to make a final will and to state in it that Mrs. Collins was to have 502 shares of Mrs. Hawthorne's 1000 shares on the latter's death. The plaintiff says she demurred, declaring that she was not yet ready to make a will. Mrs. Collins, the complaint charges, became hysterical and threat-ened to commit suicide, and Mrs. Hawthorne then proposed to assign the 502 shares on agreement that she (Mrs. Hawthorne) should retain control of the stock during her lifetime.

Women Hold Shares.

The stock of the corporation con-sisted of 2000 shares, of which the three women-Mrs. Hawthorne, Mrs. Boise and Mrs. Collins—originally held 1000 shares each. They were heirs of J. C. Hawthorne in equal amounts. J. C. Hawthorne in equal amounts. Transfer of the 502 shares to Mrs. Collins would give her 1502 shares and the control of the corporation after Mrs. Hawthorne's death. Mrs. Haw-

the control of the corporation after Mrs. Hawthorne's death. Mrs. Hawthorne is death. Mrs. Hawthorne now asserts that Mrs. Collins of the securing the assignment refused to allow her to vote the stock and voted it herself. As a result of combinations which were made the plaintiff declares that on March 27 last she was related. which were made the plaintiff declares that on March 27 last she was unlawfully and wrongfully ousted from the presidency of the corporation and M. Jean the owners of the horses. They are both large, sound animals, each is also disagreement as to whether Dr. S. E. Josephi or George Black is a di-rector of the corporation. Both claim to have been legally elected at the meeting on March 27.

Mrs. Hawthorne says she first became aware at a meeting on October 12. 1811, called for the purpose of consider-ing the advisability of increasing the directorate from three to five members. that Mrs. Collins was asserting uncon ditional ownership of the 502 shares. Prior to this time Mrs. Hawthorns, Mrs. Boise and Mrs. Collins had continued as sole directors and officers during the entire life of the corpora-

Directors Can't Agree.

M. O. Collins, husband of Catherine M. O. Collins, husband of Catherine Cellins, and George Black, confidential clerk in the employ of the latter, ap-peared at this meeting to vote one share each, which had been assigned to them by Mrs. Collins, the plaintiff de-

Previously all matters considered by the directors had been decided by viva lins, Mrs. Collins and Mr. Black voted in favor of a motion to increase the directorate, and Mrs. Hawthorne and Mrs. Boise voted against it. Subsequently Mrs. Collins, who was secretary, wrote up the minutes to show that the proposition had carried, although the plaintiff and Mrs. Boise asserted that it had not, Mrs. Hawthorne states in her complaint.

At this meeting Mrs. Collins voted the 502 shares and the Collins-Black combination put through a deal by which Collins and Black were elected the two additional directors. Mrs. Hawthorne says that she protested vigorcously but finally, to avoid further trouble, withdrew her opposition on March 27, 1912, when the annual meeting of stockholders, called for the purpose of electing a new board of directors, was held.

Shares Voted Doubly. This meeting, according to the com-plaint, was called to order by Mrs. Hawthorne as president. In the mean-time Mrs. Hawthorne had transferred one share of stock each to W. D. Fenton and S. E. Josephi, and they appeared ton and S. E. Josephi, and they appeared to vote it. Mrs. Hawthorne voted the 502 shares, which she declares she still controls, despite the assignment, and the 496, which she had left after transferring one share each to Mr. Fenton and Dr. Josephi, for herself, Louise H. Boise, Catherine H. Collins, S. E. Josephi and M. O. Collins for directors. Louise Boise voted her 1000 shares likewise and Dr. Josephi and Attorney Fenton, who is Mrs. Hawthorne's legal adviser, followed the lead. Thus two-thirds of the stock had apparently been voted for these five.

Mrs. Collins voted the 998 shares of her original 1000 and the 502 shares in dispute for herself, M. O. Collins. Geo. dispute for herself, M. O. Collins, Geo. Black, Louise H. Boise and Mrs. Haw-thorne as directors, and, the plaintiff asserts, subsequently wrote up the minutes showing the election of these nive. The two shares which Mrs. Collins had assigned to her husband and George Black were voted the same way. Hence one faction declared that Dr. Josephi was a director and the other that George Black was a director. The minutes written by Mrs. Collins, show. according to Mrs. Hawthorne, that Black received 1502 votes to 1498 for Dr. Josephi.

Stock Gift Revoked. Over the protests of Dr. Josephi. Mrs. Boise and Mrs. Hawthorne, a meeting of the Collins faction in the directorate, which faction consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Collins and George Black. was held immediately after the meeting of stock-poiders, and M. O. Collins was named as president and Mrs. Coilins as Secfetary. On March 30 Mrs. Hawthornes ays she wrote a letter to Mrs. Coilins in which the gift of 592 singles of stock was revoked, the ground for revocation being that Mrs. Coilins had assumed unconditional ownership, despite the power of attorney agreement in which the right to vote the stock during her lifetime is said to have been irrevocably vested in the donor, Mrs. Hawthorne. The mother asserts that Mrs. Coilins refused to surrender the certificate, hence the present suit.

The plaintiff demands a restraining order prohibiting the selling, transfering, piedging or encumbering of the 502 shares in dispute; that she be decreed the owner of the stock and that Mrs. Coilins be declared to have no rights, title or interest in it, and that her daughter be forced to produce the stock certificate and reassign it. Mrs.

CANTATA WILL BE SUNG

"Queen Esther" to Be Heard at Taylor-Street Methodist Church.

The sacred cantata, "Queen Esther," to be sung in costume tonight at Taylor-street Methodist Episcopal Church, and under auspices of Portland Women's Willamette Club, will be a dramatic offering of much value, and will be finely sung and acted. "One of the best scenes in the production," said a member of the concert committee last night, "is where Queen Esther charges Haman, in the presence of King Ahasuerus, with having laid a plot to kill all the Jows in the province of Babylon, and where the King (M. L. Bowman) in his basso profundo, pronounces a terrific denunciation, and finally orders Haman to be hanged on the gallows which he himself has erected. The parting scene between Haman and his wife and child is very effective. He is then stripped of his robe and crown, the black cap is adjusted and he is led away to his execution. The principal characters will be costumed in the original Oriental costumes of the royal court of Babylon. The following well-known soloists are guarantees that the singing and acting will be more than the equal of any former production. Mrs. E. S. Miller, as Queen Esther; M. L. Bowman, King Ahasuerus; H. I. Bowles, Mordecai; L. T. Chandler, Haman: Mrs. J. E. Wolff, Zerish. The chorus will also be in costume and their concerted work will be of the best. tume and their concerted work will be

Sale of Horses at Low Price Arouses Suspicious Officer. .

Harry E. Linton, believed by officers to have a record, was arrested Wednesday night at Johnson's livery stable. East Twelfth and Hawthorne, where he was attempting to dispose of two horses, apparently stolen early yesterday. Linton visited the stables yesterday morning with a large bay mare about 12 years old and an older horse. He offered the team for sale at $200, and when the offer was refused he continued to dicker and finally agreed upon $100 for the team. The livery men gave him $20 and requested him to return last night and get the balance.

Suspecting irregularities in the transaction: the Sheriff's office was notified and when Linton returned at 11:30 last night, Deputies Arthur Leonard and Harry Bulger, who were in hiding and heard the conversation, made the arrest.

Carlton Hotel Leased Anew

A deal was consummated Wednesday by which Dr. C. W. Cornelius purchased from Phillip Gevurtz the lease and furnishings of the Carlton Hotel for a sum approximating $75,000, pessession to be given on May 1. Dr. Cornelius announces that H. E. Fletcher, ex-manager of the Cornelius Hotel and at present chief cierk of the Multnomah Hotel, will become the active manager of the Carlton. Mr. Gevurtz, in speaking of his disposition of the property, said that he did so solely because his other interests would not permit him to devote the time necessary for its direction, and at the same time it is a valuable business proposition and he by which Dr. C. #### NO NEED OF TAKING COLD Habitual colds are due to an ill-kept skin on the outside and dyspeptic mucous membrane on the inside, the result of indigestion, coupled with carelessness. Cold water, proper food and common sense are the foundations upon which a preventive must rest. A cold sponge bath, one to three minutes long before breakfast, with a brisk dry rub, is excellent—usually all that is necessary to keep the outaneous circulation alive and the skin reactive to sudden changes of temperature.

One should "keep moving" when wet or chilly and not stand on a street corner or elsewhere without taking a deep breath. The lungs used in this way act as a pump to drive the blood along. This practice, with the others named, will reduce to a shadow the liability of taking cold every little while.

If you should contract a cold, get rid If you should contract a cold, get rid of it as quickly as possible, for every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality, and paves the way for more serious diseases. This is best accomplished by the use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, a preparation that can always be depended upon, and that not only cures the cold, but counteracts any tendency toward pneumonis.
