Militant Workmen on Oregon Electric and I. W. W. Agitators Plead for Ald From Laborers-Unsanitary Camps Alleged.

SALEM, Or. April 28 - (Special) Strikers from among the steel gang of the Oregon Electric extension orew and I. W. W. workers appeared on the the Oregon Electric extension crew and I. W. W. workers appeared on the streets here today, giving their version of the strike from soaphones. The men declare that the work is tied up and will be tied up until the contractors relent and give them their demands for nine hours work. They further made more open charges that there has been a scheme between the employment agents in Fortland and the men. more open charges that there has been a scheme between the employment agents in Fortland and the men in charge of the crew to secure fees, split-them and discharge the older employes them and discharge the older employes as fast as the new ones come in.

They claim that no man on the job has been allowed to remain at work for more than two weeks, and that many of these were turned away after working a day or two, when new crews arrived from Portland.

Unsanitary Camps Charged. Unsaaitary Camps Charged.

The men charge that the quarters at the camp are unsanitary, that the men are not even given an opportunity to wash, nor basins to wash in: that the sleeping quarters are unsanitary and that some of the cars used to sleep in are ordinary boxcars with no windows cut in them. They allege that it is necessary to leave the doors open all night or go without air and that it is much too cold to leave the doors open. There are now over 200 men on

POSSIBILITIES and PROBABILITIES

MAKE COMPARISON WITH RAYMOND

Compare BRIGHTON BEACH, with its commanding location on a safe barbor, practically on the Pacific, it being just inside the jetty on NEHALEM BAY, with RAYMOND, the thriving city in Washington.

SIN YEARS AGO Raymond had a population of about 50 souls, with nothing but FAITH in POSSIBILITIES OF A GOOD FUTURE. With this germ in the hearts of a few progressive people (who did not hesitate to invest their capital) investors have seen a BUSY MANUFACTURING CITY grow up like a young Titan. HOW ABOUT BRIGHTON BEACH?

THE DEEP-WATER SEAPORT, ON A GOOD HARBOR, RIGHT ON THE PACIFIC OCEAN, WITH ITS ALMOST UNLIMITED RESOURCES, WITH RAILROAD AND SHIPPING FACILITIES?

Brighton Beach is right in the path of progress—a path that will throb with the traffic of the world diverted through the Panama Canal. Nehalem Bay is the mouth of one of Oregon's most prolific Cornucopias. Tillamook County is the land of timber plenty, and ships of the world will

PRIZE FUNDS INCREASING

Business Men Are Aiding Children's Garden Contest.

While school children in every disrict in Portland are zealously cultivating their littie gardens and striving each one to produce the "finest over" in the staple garden products for which prizes are to be offered in the coming school garden contest, business men and organizations of the city, with equal sest, are raising funds and preparing a fine list of prizes with which to reward the efforts of the amateur gardeners. Subscriptions of cash and other valuable prizes are being pledged, and an active solicitation is being made by those interested in the movement to increase still further the amounts of the awards.

Several real estate companies of Portland have donated to the schools the use of some of their lots, plowing and harrowing them and placing them in preparation for seeding. These ing their little gardens and striving
