

THOUSANDS CHEER GOOD ROADS SHOW

Parade of Boosters Through City's Streets Is Brilliant Spectacle.

CELEBRATION FOR VOTERS

Men Prominent in City and State in Demonstration to Further Legislation and Bring Its Necessity Before Public.

Good roads held the center of interest in Portland yesterday forenoon. Bedecked with gay hunting and banners, bearing legends boosting the cause, more than 100 automobiles with other vehicles, forming a procession more than a mile and a half long, and filled with Oregon's prominent advocates of better highways, filed through the streets at noon. Thousands of people lined the sidewalks and cheered.

Yesterday's celebration ushered in a two weeks' campaign for the initiation of the six good roads bills now before the voters. Until May 15, the men handling the campaign will go at the work in whirlwind style and try to obtain all necessary signatures to put the measures on the ballot.

Rain did not lessen the ardor of the good roads men. Governor West, Mayor Ruslight, County Commissioners Lightner and Hart, President Piper of the Commercial Club, Samuel Hill, C. T. Prall, Frank Riggs, Frank B. Riley, of the Pacific Highway Association, and a host of other prominent men were in the parade. The event was voted a big success.

A Few of the Signs.

Here are some of the signs that attracted particular attention: "Bad roads lead to the poor house." "Stuck in the mud" (set out by signing the good roads petition). "Bad roads are a luxury no state can afford." "Good roads mean a lower cost of living. Sign the good roads petition." "Good roads are the lungs of a healthy state. Make our state healthy."

Governor Is Pleased.

Governor West, whose harmony committee drafted the bills, was pleased with the results of the first Good Roads Day. He declared after the parade that it was a wonderful beginning for the bills, and that now on there should be little difficulty in getting signatures.

Favors Committee's Bills.

"I am heartily in favor of the harmony committee's bills, and they ought to meet with the united support of the people of the entire state. This committee is entitled to great credit. The bills as they now stand represent advanced ideas in road legislation. They provide for a limited bond issue and leave the control and expenditure of the funds almost entirely in the hands of the County Courts and Commissioners. If the people find the highway commissioner, or the county, as the case may be, is building better roads at less expense, the bills can be amended."

Advantage to Entire State.

"I suppose there will always be honest differences of opinion as to what constitutes the best method to be followed in road construction, but I feel provide for a limited bond issue and leave the control and expenditure of the funds almost entirely in the hands of the County Courts and Commissioners. If the people find the highway commissioner, or the county, as the case may be, is building better roads at less expense, the bills can be amended."

Elks in Parade.

Features of the parade were two cars filled with Elks and the car of the Pacific Northwest, filled with school children. The cars used by the Elks were decorated with flags. Elks' colors—purple and white—were prominently displayed. The Elks' National convention in Portland in July. One machine was provided by Guy W. Talbot and driven by H. T. Scott. In it were C. C. Bradley, excited ruler; Dr. A. E. Marshall, Dr. T. L. Perkins and George A. Henry, also officers. The other car was furnished by Fred A. Krebs and contained Harry C. McAllister, secretary of the convention committee; Harvey O'Bryan, L. Winther, John Adams, a member of the Oregon City lodge, and Henry Price, a member of The Dalles lodge. In the car of the Pacific Northwest were Phil S. Bates, publisher of the Journal, and representative of the United States Department of Agriculture, department of good roads, and the following children: Winifred Benson, Gladys Smalen, Walter Bunker, William Crickbanks, Glen Dougherty, D. Woodward, Kenneth Krupnik and Stephen and Carson Bates. A large banner bore the injunction, "Keep the Children Out of the Mud."

ADMEN'S IDEA MAKES HIT

Nearly every civic organization of Portland was represented. Two cars filled with policemen attracted considerable attention. The campaign for the bills will continue with lectures and a general system of education. The next lecture will be given tonight at the East Side Library, East Eleventh and Alder streets. Phil S. Bates, director of the Oregon Highway Association, and Marshall N. Dana, secretary of the Greater Portland Plans Association, will speak. More than 300 colored stereoscopic slides will be shown. Members of the East Side Business Men's Club will attend in a body.

JOY FOR SMOKERS.

The high cost of living has forced many men to cut down expenses. You can do this with pleasure and profit by smoking "Sam Sloan" 5c cigar.

REPORT OF EXPERT READY

Mayor Has Findings of Accountant Who Examined City Books.

Mayor Ruslight announced at a meeting of the Water Board yesterday that he has the complete report of the expert accountant, who recently examined the department's books, and asked that a special meeting be held at which the report will be read and considered. The date for this session was fixed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It is not known what the report contains. It will undoubtedly detail the facts with relation to the speculations of Fred H. Snodgrass, who was a clerk in the head office of the department at the City Hall until a few months ago. When the books were audited, Snodgrass fled. It was found that he was short in his accounts several hundred dollars. It is not believed that it will be shown that the department's affairs as to supplies, labor and distribution are not handled systematically.

The Board yesterday voted to ask the City Council to authorize the sale at auction of a large amount of junk. A sale was recently held, but complications arose and the bids were rejected.

Rufus W. Sheldon Returns.

Rufus W. Sheldon, agent of the O. R. & N. Company until 1889, returned to Portland Tuesday, for the first time since he left. Mr. Sheldon has lived in Detroit and Pittsburg since he left Portland, having given up a position as assistant manager of a glass factory in Pittsburg that he might return to Portland. He came by way of Panama and was repaid for the long trip by the scenes of activity which he saw at the isthmus. While looking over the city, he was completely lost. The old Sherlock home on Washington street, where he used to pass many evenings, was the only place he recognized.

A POOR WAY TO HIDE

The ostrich endeavoring to conceal itself from danger, thrusts its head into the sand, doubtless believing that if it cannot see, neither can it be seen. This is a poor way to hide because it leaves the body almost entirely exposed to attack.

Just as ineffectual is the attempt to cure Skin Diseases by the application of salves, cosmetics, lotions, "creams," "skin foods," etc. True, such treatment may gloss over or temporarily hide the outward eruptions, in some cases, but this method does nothing to destroy the impurities, humors or acids in the blood, which produce skin disorders, and the trouble is no more cured than is the ostrich hidden.

Lying just beneath the outer covering or tissue-skin is a membranous flesh which surrounds and protects the tiny veins, pores and glands. It is here the impurities from the blood are deposited and the acid matter causes irritation and inflammation, which splits or breaks the thin, tissue-like cuticle, and the result is manifested in Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Acne, pimples, or some other disfiguring or annoying eruption.

Since Skin Diseases are the result of bad blood it can readily be seen that there is but one way to produce a cure, and that is, to purify the blood. Local treatment can only afford temporary relief.

S. S. S. cures Skin Diseases of every kind by neutralizing the acids and removing all humors from the blood. S. S. S. cools the acid-heated circulation, builds it up to its normal strength and thickness, multiplies its rich, nutritious corpuscles and adds to its purity in every way. Then the skin instead of being irritated and inflamed by sour impurities, is nourished and soothed by this cooling, healthy stream of blood, and all disfiguring blemishes or eruptions gradually but surely disappear. S. S. S. is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and therein lies its ability to cure skin diseases. The trouble cannot remain after the cause has been removed, and S. S. S. will certainly remove the cause. It cures Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Acne, pimples, boils, rashes, and all eruptions of the skin.

Go to any reliable drug store and ask for S. S. S. and accept nothing in place of it. Any druggist can supply you and most of them wish their customers to have what they call for. Book on Skin Diseases and any medical advice free to all who write.
