WATER IS TUMBLING INTO LEVEE BREACH

Worst Situation in Lower Mississippi Flood History Is Precipitated.

TRAIN PATROLLING ZONE

Estimated Number of Homeless Persons Being Cared for by Government Is 115,000 - Small Towns Under Water.

NEW ORLEANS, May I.-Hope of natching the break in the Mississippi River levee at Torras, La., expected to cause the worst situation in Lower Mississippi flood history, was aban-doned this afternoon. Water is rush-ing through the 800-foot breach at the rate of 12 miles an hour and several small towns are inundated.

The dike protecting the penal farm Angola let go in the afternoon, but e flood will be confined to a small ction. Reports from other places show the gauge readings steadily going Baton Rouge has been made the condreds were taken there yesterday and last night. The work of caring for the people went on rapidly.

Precautions Save Lives.

Doubtless preparations for a break at Torras prevented loss of life. As at other threatened points, a train had been placed at Torras, ready to go at a moment's notice. When the break came, the inhabitants rushed for this Even some livestock was put aboard and the train was run out of the danger zone. Steamboats picked up many persons and took them to Baton Rouge, where Government ra-

Sheriff Parker, of West Baton Rouge Parish, is in charge of a Southern Pa-cific cattle train running through the Atchafalaya Swamps of Iberville and St. Martin Parishes, removing inhabi-tants to places of safety. The train will continue to run until all are re-moved, unless the track is washed away. The Frisco Railroad sent out a special train to pick up inhabitants and livestock all along the line.

Government Cares for Thousands

It is estimated that 115,000 homeless persons are being taken care of largely through Government efforts, in refugee camps that have been estab-lished at various points during the last nonth. How many will be added to his number by the Torras break can-lot be estimated, but it will be many tions for handling several thousand

Persons at Baton Rouge.

Pointe Coupee Parish is flooded by this last break, but the flood waters may extend over eight more parishes. Fourteen parishes had been flooded before the Torras break.

In defiance of the Fish and Game Commission's order, closing the Wil-amette River to conform with the sea-son covering the Columbia River, two fishermen were arrested Saturday night for fishing near Oregon City After their arrest the men took their case before the Circuit Court at that place for the purpose of testing the commission's right to close the Willamette River. After taking the question under advisement Judge Campbell rendered a decision sustaining the commission. The fact that the men were arrested at inidustry and were arrested at inidustry and were arrested. rested at midnight and were apparently endeavoring to elude the deputy fish wardens, led Warden Clanton to believe that they were disobeying the law instead of testing it. Judge Campbell's decision is expected to go far toward settling the difficulty that has arisen since the salmon fish-ing season on the Willamette River was changed to conform with that on the Columbia River.

SETTLERS MAY SELL UNITS

New Regulations Permit Any Part of Farm to Be Assigned.

OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washigton, May 2 .- Under amended reguations issued by the Secretary of the Interior, settlers on Government irrigation projects will be permitted to as- tanic," sign any part of a farm unit with the approval of the project engineer upon filing with the local Land Office a plat amended farm unit. When one-of the amended farm unit. When one-half the irrigable area ras been reclaimed entrymen may make proof of reclamation without regard to the number of payments of building charge which have been made and will receive evidence of acceptance of such proof.

Provision is made for recording mortgages which will facilitate making of loans and at the same time protect muncy lenders. The department believes the new regulations will result in great improvement of conditions on many projects where settlers have been severely handicapped through inability to borrow money on their lands.

Titanic Survivor Says She Heard No Shooting.

LIFEBOATS' MARKS WRONG

Mrs. A. Woolcott Declares Craft in Which She Left Sinking Vessel Was Certified for 60 and Crowded by Only 35.

Mrs. A. Woolcott (Miss Marion Wright), survivor of the Titanic disaster, who passed through Portland Wednesday midnight on her way to her new home at Cottage Grove, gave a brief description of her experience on the sinking vessel. Mrs. Woolcott con-tradicted some of the reports pub-lished about the wreck.

"When the ship struck, I was thrown out of my berth," said Mrs. Woolcott, "The berth was inside starboard, the side of the ship that struck the icetaneously with the shock of siriking the iceberg. I put on my clothes hur-riedly and went on deck to learn what had happened. There I was told what was the matter, but, like many others. was not aware that the Titanic was in danger of sinking.

"The lights on the Titanic made the ship and those on her decks plainly visible. I heard no shooting nor music, nor did I hear the cries of the people struggling in the water.

Berths Furnished Women "The boat plunged down after while and we waited with some other boats for the Carpathia. Once on board, we were treated with the utmost kindness both by passengers and crew. The male passengers gave the first cabin women survivors their berths, and the sailors gave the second-cabin women passengers their bunks.

"As soon as we were taken on board the Carpathia we received hot water and brandy. Ismay disappeared to his stateroem. The White Star Company first refused to consider any claim for damages, but after the inquiry started, I was told that if I would put in a claim that I would be recompensed for the loss of my belongings."

Mrs. Robert Tate, state president of the Congress, told of a plan to have the Congress represented by suitable floats in the parades at the Rose Festival. She said that at a recent meeting of the board of managers the appointment of a committee to take charge of this work was authorized and that she expects to have its per sonnel completed today. The commit tee will meet next Tuesday at Young Women's Christian Association.
At the meeting the mothers were addressed by Mrs. L. H. Additon, National lecturer of the social welfare work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, who discussed the present laws of the state for the welfare of women and children. She said that on the whole they were good, but pointed out where a few new ones were needed. Most important of these, she said, was a law making wife desertion a crime. She said that there was urgent need for a law instituting a state industrial for a law instituting a state industrial school for girls and another changing the age of consent from 16 to 21 years. Mrs. W. J. Hawkins, president of the Portland Council, said that there was a lack of enforcement of existing laws.
