The difference between good and bad pitching and the immediate effect on the aspect of the percentage table was ably emphasized at the Coast League park yesterday, when Elmer Koestner pitched the Beavers to a 2-1 victory over the Vernon Tigers in the final game of the three weeks' stay at home. Keestner is one of those flingers who has to eat garlic or raw onlons to let you know he is around. Beside him the Sphinx would appear garrulous. But that tall, lanky right-hander can be depended upon in the pinch, as witness his two wins over Hogan only three days apart.

witness his two wins over Hogan only three days apart.

"If I had two other men as reliable as Elmer I'd be up in the first division today. He's the grandest pitcher in the league," said Manager McCredie after the ninth inning finale. McCredie's enthusiasm is well founded for Mocarter has won five of the electric Koestner has won five of the eight Portland victories this season. Thanks to the Piper, Ill., youth the Beavers took two of the five games of the Vernon series.

"Dolly" Gray Is Rammered.

"Dolly" Gray, a former Los Angeles southpaw who has been injecting himself into numerous major league box scores for several seasons back, began the offensive work for Hap's visitors. But despite the fact that the Hoganites gave him the usual working basis of a run in the first inning, he was continually in deep water.

Finally, with one out in the fourth inning, and after the Beavers had made their winning tally, the straggling California rooters were given an oppor-tunity to warble at that familiar Southern melody: "Oh, my darling 'Dolly' Gray: they have taken you away," for "Soldier" Carson rushed to

From that on the two heavers enstaged in a magnificent battle of brains, Vernon threatening on one or two occasions to trespass from the phlegmatic tenor of the going.

Korstner Cool Under Fire.

Koestner's remarkable coolness un-der fire and his ability to muster latent energy pulled the Beavers out of an extremely tight hole in the seventh in-ning when Vernon filled the bases with only one man out and the two slug-gers, Patterson and Brashear, waiting to murder the subers. Peterson to to murder the sphere. Referring to Patterson the office boy pens: "Eight thousand eyes were on him as he rubbed his hands in 'doit'—

Four thousand hearts stopped beat-Mister Koesther writhed in secret anger. Then—Plowie! Strike one. Plowie! strike one. Plowie! again. Strike two. Plowie! some more. And a very exasperated Patterson had struck out in the pinch. A few seconds later 4000 fans broke into a still more featters.

into a still more frantic outburst of cheering, when Koestner doled out the same dose of poison to the slugger Brashear, except that Brashear had three balls in his favor before Elmer settled to his task. It was beautiful

Bayless' Peg Saves Run.

Vernon scored Hogan's one in the initial inning on doubles by Carlisle and Brashear. The McCredicites tied it up in the third on Bancroft's double into center, Butler's single and Krueger's two-base swat to the same hole. Butler brought in the fally and only sensational pegging by Bayless to the plate cut Bancroft down by inches.

McDowell opened the fourth inning by walking. Gray held Rodgers to an infield out but McDowell reached second from where he second or House ond from whence he scored on How-ley's drive to left field. Then Hogan derricked his southpaw, and well and wisely he acted, for the Beavers should previously have grabbed off a couple more in the second inning, when they had the bases full and nebody down on hits by Krueger and Rapps and Mc-Dowell's free transportation. Rodgers, Howiey and Koestner, however, walked the plank in quick succession.

of the season in the minth inning, when he threw away Hogan's chance of pulling out a victory. And it was a grand opportunity, too. Carlisie was Yesterday's game was one of many features. In the sighth luning an odd situation developed. Krueger was on first from his third hit, when Captain Brashear engaged in an argument with Umpire Hilderheand over ground rules covering the spectators on the right field overhead walk. Carson did not hear Hilderheand order time and pitched to Rapps, who lined the ball for a double into right field. Hilderheand made them do things over again and Rapps grounded out.

Portland baseball fans have been ac customed to look upon Monday as the "off day" of the week because of the absence of scheduled games in the Pacific Coast League. The Northwestern League, however, begins each new series on Monday afternoon and so it will be this afternoon at Twenty-fourth and Vaughn streets, when the Portland Colts and the Victoria Bees open the 1912 Class B League season in Portland. Frank Eastley, the former

Frank Eastley, the former Seat twirler, has been selected by Manager Williams to twirl the opening game, with Stanfield as the alternate. Stanfield is the Vernon filinger sold to Vancouver this Spring and evidently secured within the past day or two by Williams. President Wattelet and Manager Variation of the Base have chosen Williams. President Wattelet and Manager Nordyke, of the Bees, have chosen Concannon, a new hurler, who pitched Tuesday's game against Seattle.

Mundorff, the hard-hitting outfielder, has been given up as lost to Williams, so Fries, a hard-hitter but a slower man, will likely continue to hold down right field. President McCredie said last night over the telephone from Vancouver, where he is laid up by illness, that he had received no word of acceptance from San Francisword of acceptance from San Francisco, in whom title in the "Russian" is vested, consequently entertained little hope of purchasing him. Mundy is still adorning the bench for the Seals,
President McCredie will not be over until Wednesday.

The Northwestern season has now been on for three weeks with Victoria and Portland, the celiar champions of a year ago, enjoying their heyday of popularity by reason of being up near the top. Williams has three new regulars in his lineup—Fries, Strait and Kibble; Nordyke, too, will present three recruits outside his pitching staff—Stadille, Meek and Rawlings. Meek is the behemoth batting king who is cleanup man for the Bees. A glance over the batting array shows a striking similarity in the makeup of the teams. Both managers are first-sackers, Nordyke having been with Spokane for dyke having been with Spokane for three seasons back; both are batting down in the fifth notch, while the catchers on the teams are inserted high Pitcher Bill Bloomfield, one of the star right-handers of Williams' club, reached Portland late Saturday night, a day ahead of the club, as he came straight through from Vancouver.

"Our team looks much stronger than last year," said Bloomfield. "Vancouver and Tacoma are both good, but Seattle looks wobbly. Barry has only two veteran pitchers, Pullerton and Harrenkamp, and his infield has not been very reliable."

TACOMA, Wash., May 5 .- (Special.) Vancouver won a rather listless game from the Portland Colts on the Tacoma grounds this afternoon 8 to 4. Tonneson was ineffective and was forced to retire at the close of the fifth inning in favor of Thomas.

A bad throw by Coltrin proved to be the turning-point of the game in the fourth inning. After Bennett, the veteran Beaver second-sacker, had struck eran Beaver second-sacker, had struck out, Kitty Brashear was presented with a base. Frisk doubled and Bra-shear pulled up on third. Kippert came to bat and Nick Williams held a whispered conference with Tonneson and Kippert was given an intentional base on balls. The infield came in and James drove one right at Coltrin. The youngster fielded it cleanly and then made a wild peg to Harris, permitting two runs to score.
