BIG FREIGHTHOUSE IS DUE

Through Aid of Section to City Charter and by Use of Loop North Bank and Allied Hill Lines May Gain Entrance.

SECTION 105 OF CITY CHARTER KEY TO HILL EXTENSION OF EAST SIDE SHIPPING DISTRICT.

The Council of the City of Portland shall have at all times power to regulate by ordinance street railroads, tramways and other railroads and the use of tracks and cars; to compel the owners of two or more such roads using or having the right to use the same streets, bridges or elevated railroads for any distance not exceeding five blocks over said street, and over the entire length of bridge and elevated roadways, to use the same tracks and to divide the cost of construction and maintenance thereof equitably between them.

By taking advantage of section 105 of the city charter, and by using a loop described by East Main, East Third, East Oak and East Hill lines, the North Bank Road and allied Hill lines, will be able to effect a complete invasion of the East Side shipping district and serve almost every important industry between the Hawthorne and Burnside-street bridges.

Carl R. Gray, president of the North Bank and Hill lines in Oregon, appeared before an enthusiastic and sympathetic meeting of the East Side Business Men's Club at the East Side branch library last night, and explained his plans for providing the East Side with competition in the delivery and distribution of freight.

He spoke as the authorized representative, not only of the lines of which he is the head, but of the lines of the Northern, Northern Pacific and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy roads, comprising the so-called Hill system.

Big Warehouse Is Planned.

He displayed maps of the East Side property recently acquired by the Hill lines and of the plans for the development of the East Side by building new lines, by taking advantage of the common-user privileges on existing lines and by the construction of a magnificent eight-story steel and concrete freight warehouse on the west side of Union avenue, between East Morrison and East Belmont streets.

Mr. Gray's plan will require the adoption of an ordinance by the City Council giving the Hill lines a franchise in East Oak street between Union avenue and a point 100 feet west of Water street, as well as on parts of East Second and East Third streets. The Hill lines have tracks in East First and East Second streets, and it is Mr. Gray's intention to secure additional franchises there, so that he will be in a position to use them through the powers of section 105.

Ferryboat to Be Used.

Connection with the existing properties of the Hill lines on the west side of the river will be provided by means of a ferryboat system operated to a dock between East Madison and East Main streets.

The Hill system has secured possession of the entire strip of property, 200 feet in width, extending from the harbor line to East Water street. It also has purchased three full blocks immediately east of that property. The block bounded by Water, East First, East Madison and East Main streets was acquired from the Standard Oil Company, and the double block bounded by East First, East Third, East Madison and East Main streets from the Ladd Estate Company.

In East Third street is a track of the Southern Pacific Company built a few years ago with common user privileges. The Hill people will ask for the use of this from Hawthorne avenue to a point midway between East Pine and East Ash streets. This will form the east side of its rectangular loop. While the north side of the loop will be formed by the proposed new line in East Oak street, the extension on the common user track beyond that point is to serve existing industries north of East Oak street as well as to provide for future development in that section. The National Biscuit Company and Rasmussen & Co. now have property there.

Old Structures to Go.

PAPA AWAY, MAMMA ILL, CHILD ELOPES

DAUGHTER OF SEATTLE COUNCILMAN WEDS CHAUFFEUR.

Ethel Blaine, 17, and Ralph Watson, 20, Wed While "Dad" Attends Big Church Quadrennial.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—Miss Ethel Catherine Blaine, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. S. L. Blaine, 37 years old, and a High School student, believes in doing things at the psychological moment.

And Ralph Watson, arrived at the age of 20 years, a chauffeur, handsome and dashing, is a young person who is for doing things with dispatch.

As for Dan Cupid, he is no respecter of the fact that sometimes that "popper" are away, and so Miss Blaine and Watson slipped off to Vancouver, B. C., last Friday afternoon without the knowing or consent of the former's parents and were married.

Papa Blaine was and is in Minneapolis attending a Methodist conference.

Mamma Blaine was ill, and Miss Blaine and the chauffeur were "Oh, so very much in love," Dan Cupid simply cried for action. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson returned to Seattle and repaired to the Blaine home.

"Mamma, I have married Ralph," said Mrs. Watson, not without enthusiasm. "I had expected as much," said mamma coldly.

And then, Mrs. Blaine opened her arms very wide and the proud daughter, in the twinkling of an eye, was fondly inclosed therein.

They will live at the Blaine home for the present.

SMALLEST ELK TRAINING

Vancouver Lodge After Prize for Santiam Member.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—The prize offered by the Portland Grand Lodge of Elks for the smallest Elk in the parade in July, will be sought by a member of Vancouver Lodge No. 525.

While the members who are training the young Elk will not give his weight, it is known positively that he does not weigh 30 pounds when he is "real fat," so if he trains down there is no telling how small will be his weight.

The name of the contestant is Clarence Salisbury, an active member. He will be one of the stars in the Elks' minstrel show tomorrow night.

Mr. Salisbury impersonates a woman with ease, even acting as tightly as some of the girls are said to. His hands are small and his feet not large, and his complexion as smooth as a woman's.

James J. Padden today ordered 250 Elks' suits for the grand parade in Portland. Vancouver will try for the cash prize for the largest number of members in line. The suits will be white and purple, colors of the order.

PHEASANT SLAYER IS OWL

Monster Bird Falls Victim to Poison When He Comes to Kill.

State Game Warden Pinley yesterday received from Corvallis a full grown horned owl that was killed at the State Game Farm by Superintendent Simpson. The bird was killed with poisoned meat after it had killed six China pheasants in the breeding pens. Mr. Simpson had been unable to discover how the birds were being killed each night. After a careful watch without results, he resolved to use poison. The next morning the huge owl was found in the pen. It measured two feet high and the wings measured four feet from tip to tip. The owl is to be mounted and presented to Mr. Simpson.

FISH PRICES GO SKYWARD

Shortage on Southern California Coast Worst in Years.

LOS ANGELES, May 7.—Because of a shortage of fish along the Southern California coast, wholesale prices have taken a jump of nearly 100 per cent within the past few days, and may go higher.

Fishermen who have been in the channel for 30 years say the only reason they can give for the shortage is that tugs fishing with seines a mile long have destroyed many small fish and much spawn.

MRS. GRANT GOES ABROAD

General's Widow to Make First Visit to Daughter in Russia.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(Special.)—Mrs. Frederick Dent Grant, widow of General Grant, and her daughter, the Princess Cantacouzene, sailed today on the Kaiser Wilhelm II.

Mrs. Grant will accompany her daughter to St. Petersburg and remain on the continent indefinitely. It will be her first visit to her daughter's home.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, May 7.—The sum of $2,360,000, subscribed by the public for construction of a battleship for the Swedish navy, was brought today to the King by a deputation representing the donors.

King Gustaf expressed profound gratitude for the magnificent gift.

MARYLAND RESULT CAUSES AGRIMONY

Taft Managers Charge Money Was Used.

DIXON MAKES HEATED REPLY

Two Congressional Districts Claimed for President.

COMMITTEE RULE INVOKED

Naming of Solid Delegation Is Declared to Defeat Preference of Voters in Those Districts.

MARGIN IS SMALL.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The Taft and Roosevelt National headquarters clashed today over the Maryland primary result. The word "lie" was used freely by Senator Dixon, head of the Roosevelt committee. Early in the day the Taft headquarters put out a statement on the Maryland results, part of which was as follows:

"More than half of Mr. Roosevelt's entire delegate vote came from the city and county of Baltimore, where it is stated the Roosevelt managers placed $10,000 among their workers at an early hour yesterday."

Free Use of Money Charged.

"In Prince George County, which definitely decided the contest so far as present returns indicate, Roosevelt money in large amounts was poured into the county. Large rolls of small bills, accompanied by checks to be used if needed, were sent out from Washington on Sunday, at least one well-known leader in the district having voluntarily exhibited such a 'roll' in Washington on Sunday afternoon."

This statement was duly delivered to the Roosevelt headquarters about noon, the rival organizations having an amicable arrangement whereby they exchange daily bulletins and statements.

Dixon Exceedingly Indignant.

Here is Senator Dixon's answer: "Every one of these statements is a deliberate, willful lie. Every man connected with their circulation is a deliberate and willful liar. These lies are circulated for the purpose and for the only purpose for which liars always lie."

President Taft's managers said today that "the President is entitled to and will receive the votes of four of the delegates from the State of Maryland," to the Republican National Convention.

The Taft managers said that the naming of a solid Roosevelt delegation from the Maryland state convention would defeat the expressed preference of the

FOOD GONE; STORM RAGES ON HIGH PEAK

ALASKA MOUNTAIN EXPEDITION BY SOCIETY GIRL PERILOUS.

Up 12,000 Feet, on Mt. Blackburn, Dora Keen Awaits Succor While Avalanches Slide.

CORDOVA, Alaska, May 7.—Three men of Dora Keen's Mount Blackburn expedition returned to Kenecott today to obtain a new supply of alcohol and provisions, the party's stores become exhausted. The alcohol

The camp in tents at an altitude of 8000 feet on the mountain, and when the three men left the climbers had been waiting ten days for the abatement of a frightful, blinding storm.

The men, with their fresh supplies, will depart for the main camp tomorrow. They fear that the expedition will be unsuccessful owing to the mild winter and the early opening of Spring. Already many avalanches have dashed down the mountainside, making the ascent slow and perilous.

All of the party are well. There is a feeling of disappointment, but all the members of the expedition share Miss Keen's determination to reach the summit if the feat is possible.

Miss Keen, who is a member of a distinguished Philadelphia family, sailed from Seattle April 10 to undertake the conquest of the great Copper River peak, which is 16,140 feet high.

WEST TO ASK STATE COST

Governor Will Call for Statement From Each Department.

SALEM, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—To show the people of the state the actual cost of the state government and to give an opportunity to every Commission Board and department of the state government a chance to justify its existence, Governor West has announced that he proposes soon to furnish a list to the press showing the cost of maintenance and various features concerning every department.

By this, he says, the departments will be placed on the defensive to explain of what benefit they are to the taxpayers.

"The members of the press may call upon the heads of the various departments with these statements and ask to know just why they are in existence and what they have accomplished," stated the Governor.

"Candidates for the Legislature may also take these lists into consideration and use them to show the people what they think of the existing state of affairs as far as the state government is concerned."

BRYCE WILL NOT RETIRE

House of Commons Learns Diplomat Will Return to Washington.

LONDON, May 7.—Sir Edward Grey put a quietus today on the rumors of the retirement of James Bryce as British Ambassador to the United States.

The Foreign Secretary announced categorically in the House of Commons that the Ambassador, who is now on his way to Australasia to study political and sociological conditions, would return to Washington at the beginning of September and resume his duties.

THE CAMPAIGN UP TO DATE

ANCIENT THRONE TO BE RESTORED

NEW YORK O'CONNOR REVIVES DYNASTY IN IRELAND.

Estate of King O'Connor, on Banks of Shannon, Falls Once More Into Friendly Hands.

NEW YORK, May 7.—(Special.)—The O'Connors are to be kings in Ireland once more. Every student of Irish history knows that Roderick O'Connor was the last King of Ireland and Prince of Breffney, but future historians must record that it remained for Michael J. O'Connor, a Broadway saloonkeeper, to restore the clan to the regal grandeur which is theirs by right.

The new O'Connor dynasty is to be established on the banks of the River Shannon, where King Roderick O'Connor took his last stand and fought with his clan at his back. There it was, too, that Tom Moore sang "The Valley Lay Smiling Before Me."

The old estate of King Roderick, long since fallen into unfriendly hands, has been bought by Michael O'Connor, who restored the family fortune through the medium of two cafes in Broadway and one in One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street. The new "Prince of Breffney" has returned from Ireland, and he announced his purchase this afternoon.

POOR DOGGIE IS SPRAYED

Rich Mrs. Pullman Quits Honolulu Because Pet Is Mistrated.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 7.—(Special.)—Chagrined because the quarantine officials at Honolulu persisted in imposing hardships upon her high bred dog, Mrs. George M. Pullman, widow of the Pullman Palace car magnate, cut her visit in the Islands very short and returned today on the Oceanic liner Sierra.

Mrs. Pullman explained that she had expected to pass another month in Honolulu and its environs, but that the quarantine officers took her pet Spaniel away from her and gave it a course spraying and disinfectants. Then the Honolulu newspapers took the matter up and gave it publicity, which was displeasing to Mrs. Pullman, and she decided to "cut" the paradise of the Pacific and hastened to leave, bag and baggage.

After many unsuccessful attempts to get her dog out of quarantine, she gave up in disgust and arranged with an agent here to send the Spaniel up on the next steamer to San Francisco and it will be forwarded by express to Chicago.

RECALL AIMED AT COURT

Letter to Attorney-General Indicates Action in Klamath.

SALEM, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—That an effort is being made to recall the County Court of Klamath County, and that petitions are being circulated, is indicated in a letter received by Attorney-General Crawford today from C. R. DeLap, Klamath County Clerk. He asks what course he shall pursue if such petitions are submitted to him.

In the light of the recent ruling of the Attorney-General he will advise the County Clerk to file the petitions if they are presented.

Although it is not stated in the letter, this evidently is the outcome of a factional fight in Klamath County, which was taken up by the Governor several weeks ago, when charges were hurled at the Klamath County Court and counter charges returned.

WOMEN AID ROSE FESTIVAL

Grants Pass Commercial Club Auxiliary Furthers Work.

GRANTS PASS, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Commercial Club met yesterday with a large attendance and laid plans for the Rose Carnival in June. The school children are being drilled to take part in the parade. It is expected there will be several hundred participants. There will be many other interesting features. One evening will be given to a concert.

And on the last night a grand ball will be given at the coliseum. Every effort is being made by the women to work the festival a bigger success than ever.

The Commercial Club has promised hearty co-operation.

WILEY'S JOB STILL VACANT

Wilson Satisfied With Conduct of Bureau by Board.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—Dr. Harvey W. Wiley's place in the Chemistry Bureau is still vacant, and the indications are that it will not be filled for some time.

Since the resignation of the pure food champion as chief, the affairs of the bureau have been administered by Dr. Dunlap, Dr. Mitchell and Dr. Donnell, composing the pure food board. Secretary Wilson is said to be well satisfied with this arrangement, and he is in no hurry about bringing the question of appointing Dr. Wiley's successor to the attention of the President.

BOY'S THROW SNAPS ARM

Youthful Twirler Pitches So Hard Bone Breaks Above Elbow.

ALBANY, Or., May 7.—(Special.)—Glen Eblevin, a 15-year old boy of Tangent, sustained a broken arm yesterday by throwing a baseball.

The lad was practicing with some other boys when he threw the ball as hard as he could he snapped one bone of his right arm just above the elbow.

CLARK MEN STORM MAD CONVENTION

Speaker Sweeps All at Walla Walla.

CHAIRMAN LEAVES THE HALL

Heifner Tears Off Badge as Wilson Forces Are Routed.

POLITICAL FRAUD CHARGED

Attempt to Stampede for Bryan Precipitates Riot — State Leader Huris Accusations of "Crime." Delegates Unpledged.

CONVENTION HALL, Walla Walla, Wash., May 7.—(Special.)—Clark managers stood off an attempt to stampede the Democratic State convention this afternoon for William Jennings Bryan, voted an endorsement of the Speaker of the House, put through their own slate of delegates, bound them by the unit rule and programmed a formal endorsement of Clark's Presidential candidacy by the delegation.

Three months ago Champ Clark was little more than a campaign rumor in this state and Woodrow Wilson's name was one to conjure with and swear Democratic candidates by.

Today Wilson made a showing pitiful in its weakness and even failed to stop the rush to Clark by ringing the changes on the magic name of the Nebraska "Commoner."

Heifner Tears Off Badge.

It was the finish of a remarkable political upset and one that Democratic State Chairman C. G. Heifner, Western manager of the Wilson campaign, refused to stay and witness.

Together with Mayor George F. Cottrell and most of the other members of the King County delegation, Heifner tore off his convention badge when the convention by an overwhelming vote decided to send the two contesting King County delegations with half a vote apiece, and a few minutes later walked out of the hall.

Later in the day Heifner wrote and gave out a bitter arraignment both of the King County Clark leaders and of the convention which sent them. He said, in a signed statement:

Political Crime Charged.

"George Murphy, chairman of the King County Democratic committee, and his advisers, committed political larceny and embezzlement in King County. The crime was conceived months ago, carried out in King County and ratified by a majority of the Democratic State convention. The Democrats of King County were disfranchised under the democracy of the state, obtained with political fraud. Their action therefore was not binding on any honest Democrat."

As its last act before adjournment, the convention unconsciously gave its answer to Heifner, for the convention did not know of the Heifner statement when it elected D. J. Williams, of Tacoma, as chairman of the State committee. This is an attempt to unseat Heifner, and is of doubtful effect, as the direct primary law provides the only legal method of organizing state political committees through the election of representatives of county committees elected at the biennial September primaries.

Clark's Strength Supreme.

Though Clark subsequently polled 455 votes in the convention, the real test of Clark strength came when the fight to seat the warring King County delegations with half a vote apiece was brought to a rollcall. On the vote to seat the two King County delegations, the Clark forces polled 335 delegates to 221 cast in opposition. This vote showed that Clark could still control even if the so-called primary delegates were seated for King, for Clark had 35 delegates in that set, while Wilson would have added 196 to his total.

Action of the convention in seating both contesting King County delegations had the effect of giving Wilson 52 new votes, added 92 to Clark's total, and distributed four between Bryan and Harmon.

On the question of a Presidential preference the vote stood: Clark 455, Wilson 196, Bryan 135, Harmon 15.

Bryan Stampede Fails.

The attempt to stampede the convention to Bryan was an incident that retained dramatic interest for but few minutes. The Clark managers had the situation too well in hand to be disturbed by the demonstration, and there was an apparent lack of organized cheering and concerted action in swinging the Wilson vote to Bryan, which would give the movement the importance of a stampede. When the Clark forces stood firm the convention was easily quieted, and when tally clerks figured up the net result, they found Clark had actually gained three votes during the excitement.

The Wilson-Bryan managers did not create confusion enough to mix up the tally clerks, and as a rule, it does not take much to confuse a convention tally clerk in such circumstances.

Joe Sessions, a Davenport lawyer, sitting with the Lincoln County delegation, attempted to start a stampede. He, the Clark managers say, wanted to
