BY JAMES H. CASSELL.

When Walter McCredie and his hapless Beaverettes journeyed south, leaving behind Fred Lamline in place of Dave Gregg, slabster brother of the famous Vean, Nick Williams couldn't resist the temptation to grab his 1911 twirling star. He regretted the step after Fred had reeled through two and one-third innings at Vaughn-street park yesterday afternoon, but before his regret took physical shape four Canucks had crossed the plate. The quartet of registrations proved the downfall of the Colts, and the Bees won, 4 to 1, scoring a percentage column retaliation by jumping ahead of the one-day leaders. Spokane's defeat at Vancouver placed the Bees back at the top again.

While Lamline's wildness was the primary cause of the defeat, the Michigander passing five men during the short period he graced the center of the diamond, he had several accomplices in the tumbling skit. Two days of errorless ball proving that the Colts are capable of that brand of diamond procedure, Speas and Kibble chose the third inning, the most erratic of Lamline's short regime, to demonstrate that they can mishandle the ball. Speas dropped an easy fly and Kibble juggled a sacrifice bunt, while Coltrin, whose six other plays were all of the sensational order, rid his system of an overdue boot by dropping a pop-fly in the next round.

Narveson in Fine Fettle.

Narveson, Moose Jaw hurler of the Twilight Circuit last season, gave a splendid interpretation of the twirling art and except for the groover Strait pummeled over the right field fence for the only Colt score, would have scored a shutout. He was invincible in the pinches, kept his hits well scattered and had splendid control of the ball.

However, the stellar pitching of the game was offered by Southpaw Klein, the youngster Williams secured from Seattle. He entered the game with the bases full and one man gone in the third frame, forced Rawlings to hit into a double play, and then held the Bee wreckers to two hits for the remaining six innings. He walked two men and hit two but no more than four men faced him in any of the rounds, the Bees falling easy prey to his deceptive drop.

It was Victoria's turn for a perfect fielding performance, and the fans rooted in vain for a rally which would turn defeat into an uphill victory. The last few periods found the Colts hitting Narveson's offerings hard but they went into the hands of the outfielders, and the Nicks expired waiting for the bobble which would signalize the "break." In the first inning five Colts faced Narveson, two of them hitting safely, but that was the high water mark for the day, with Strait the only man to pass third and his jaunt around the paths was unassisted.

Lamline Always in Trouble.

Lamline was wobbly in the first inning, a sensational stop by Coltrin probably saving the Colts from a score, and in the second was worse. Nordyke, the first man up, hit safely and Brennan walked after Keller had flied out. Rawlings bounced one past Coltrin and Narveson scored Nordyke and Brennan with a hit to left.

In the third inning Adams walked, Speas permitted Kennedy's fly to filter through his fingers, and Kibble juggled Meek's sacrifice bunt. Nordyke hit sharply to Kibble, who mussed the ball until it was too late to nab Adams at the plate. Then Lamline failed to agree with Augie Moran as to strikes and Kennedy was forced across the plate for the fourth and last Bee run. Klein took up the burden and the double play finished the disastrous frame.

Coltrin's fielding and Mensor's hitting, the latter scoring three hits in four trips to the plate, were the features of the game. A kid with a mirror furnished the side attraction, Lou Nordyke and Ed Kennedy chasing to the right field bleacher rail in an effort to discover the culprit. Umpire Moran ordered the players back to the field, arguing that he was running the game and it was not necessary for them to take matters into their own hands.

Notes of the Game.

It will probably be Veasey for the Colts and McCreery for the Bees for the mound work today.

While Lamline faced "Dad" Meek for the first time in a ball game, he carried hats for the Port Huron, Mich., team back in 1908, when Meek was catching for the club. Meek was even then called "Dad," but he had been in the game only two years.

Meek is unquestionably the slowest man in the league getting down to first. On the other hand, Mensor is the fastest.

Stadille had a busy day in the left field. He misjudged one fly and was forced to make a one-hand stab of Fries' smash in the sixth.

Klein is a southpaw pitcher, but bats from the right side.

Had Speas made a good peg he could have saved himself by nipping Adams at second when he dropped Kennedy's fly, but he failed to come through with the putout toss.

The result was a general surprise, but Pendleton played in much better form than yesterday, while the Walla Walla team is badly patched, three regulars being out of the game. Mensor's batting was a feature. He secured three hits out of four times up. In the ninth Walla Walla had the bases full and two down. COULON DEFEATS SOLSBURG

Bantamweight Champion Easily Gains Ten-Round Decision.

NEW YORK, May 8.—Johnny Coulon, of New York, the bantamweight champion, easily defeated Young Solsburg, of Brooklyn, in a ten-round bout here tonight.

The bout went the full 10 rounds and Coulon had the better of nine of them, Solsburg getting the initial round by a fair margin.

Solsburg started off with a rush and landed left and right to Coulon's head and wind, but the blows were not very effective. Coulon contented himself with feeling out his man and Solsburg won the first round on points. From the opening of the second round until the end of the tenth Coulon was at all times holding the lead.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 8.—(Special.)—Patsy O'Rourke is willing tonight to bet milestones to monuments that he wins the series and breaks all past records.

This all because the Senators won a 1 to 0 game from the Portland bunch this afternoon and did it handily. McCredie tonight is disgusted. He has only one real thing to be thankful for and that is that Girot proved himself a capable pitcher. He is wild and will need coaching, but he gives every evidence of being another Tom Seaton, an equal of Koestner and Henderson, when said Henderson is of sound and sober mind.

"Tell the Portland fans to watch the Northwestern team now and to watch us later," said McCredie tonight.

Girot Forces in Run.

Taken all in all, the visitors played a good game. Eliminating the sixth inning, when Girot was way up in the air and handing out walks to men who were perfectly willing to run, it was a good game. In that sixth inning the Senators made their lone run. It was the only run of the game and it won the game for Sacramento.

Kreitz had grounded out, Rodgers to Rapps. Williams then lined out one of the few clean hits of the game. After this Girot went up. He walked Madden. Then Shinn popped out. After this O'Rourke and VanBuren waited patiently for wide ones and their patience forced Williams home with the lonesome tally.

From then on it was a tight game. Twice Sacramento had men put out at the plate and once a man reached third on Doane's inexcusable error. Once Doane reached third when he rapped for three bags, and Girot put out a pretty double, but they were unable to complete the circuit.

Ralph Kreitz Hurt.

Ralph Kreitz, the new catcher purchased by Sacramento and sorely needed by the team, suffered a compound fracture of the middle finger of his right hand. He was hit by a pitched ball and had to retire from the game.

Some excitement was created when the grandstand caught fire, but an amateur bucket brigade quickly extinguished the blaze. McCredie sounded the alarm, the smoke first being noticed over the bench occupied by the Portland players. The score:

Oakland Lands on Both Whalen and Carson With Timely Hits.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., May 8.—Oakland found Whalen easy today, while Vernon was unable to connect with Ables' curves when hits meant runs and the visitors won 5 to 4. Carson, who succeeded Whalen in the beginning of the eighth inning, yielded two hits in as many innings. The score:

WASHINGTON DEFEATS LINCOLN

SOLDIERS SEE LAST SPORT

Infantrymen, Leaving for Honolulu, at Polo Game.

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., May 8.—(Special.)—The last polo game the First Infantry will have a chance to see here was played this afternoon on the artillery drill grounds between the officers' team of the post and a team from Portland. The Portland team won the hotly contested game by a score of 3 to minus ½.

The star player of the Portland team was Fred W. Leadbetter, who furnished six fast ponies. The other Portlanders were Harry Corbett, Sherman Hall and Gordon Voorhees. The absence of Hamilton Corbett and Dr. Whiteaides was regretted.

The Vancouver Barracks' team included Captain A. B. Warfield, Captain W. F. Jones, Lieutenant Seth W. Scofield and Lieutenant W. H. Rucker. It was Lieutenant Scofield's last game. He leaves tomorrow for Honolulu. However, his ponies will remain and be in the game for the coming month. Another game is soon to be played.

KIPPERT AWARDED TO INDIANS

Vancouver Ordered to Turn Over Fast Fielder to Spokane.

SPOKANE, Wash., May 8.—(Special.)—Player Edward Kippert, now with the Vancouver Club, has been ordered delivered to Spokane, according to a telegram received by Harry L. Cohn, secretary of the Spokane Club, from August Hermann, chairman of the National Board of Arbitration. Kippert was sold to Philadelphia last Summer for $1000, $500 of which was paid down, $500 to be paid if the player had made good with Philadelphia by May 1. The Spokane club has shown that Philadelphia has not paid the remaining $500 and Kippert therefore must be returned by Philadelphia to Spokane.

Hermann's telegram clears one of the "mysterious deals" of last Summer by which it appeared for a time that Spokane was to be defrauded of the services of one of the best all-around players in the Northwest League.

ANDERSON WINS HOT FIGHT

Portland and Vancouver Man Puts Out Tommy McFarland.

MEDFORD, Or., May 8.—(Special.)—Bud Anderson, the clever Portland and Vancouver pugilist who recently knocked out Australian Arthur Kelly in four rounds here, last night beat up Tommy McFarland so badly that the police stopped the fight in the third round.

The bout was scheduled to go ten rounds. Anderson entered the ring a favorite.

ALL-COAST CONFERENCE MAY COME HERE NEXT YEAR.

Los Angeles and Seattle Also Competitors for Big Athletic Event of Pacific Colleges.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, May 8.—(Special.)—Graduate managers Geary, on his return from the all-Coast conference track and field meet held at Berkeley last Saturday, announces that Portland may be the scene of the all-Coast meeting next year.

The places mentioned for the meet are Los Angeles, Seattle and Portland, but Portland seems to be the favorite with the University of California and Stanford managers. However, unless the probable expenses of the meet at Portland can be reduced somehow the managing board may decide to elect Seattle. Dr. Hall, who represented Washington at the Berkeley business meeting intends to place the proposition before the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and Commercial Club in the hope that they will furnish athletic grounds gratis or else make a flat guarantee of the expenses sufficient to attract the managers to Seattle.

Managers from eight colleges met at Berkeley under the chairmanship of William Donald, the newly elected graduate manager at the University of California. On motion of Manager Stanton, of Pomona College, the graduate managers of the University of Washington, University of Oregon, Stanford University and University of California were chosen to govern the affairs of the conference during the coming year. These men will judge upon all soliciting entries and, in general, conduct the details of the programme for the 1913 meeting, wherever it is to be held.

At the next gathering it is hoped that all of the colleges of California, Nevada and of the Northwestern states will be represented. The 1913 session will come about the middle of May.

HITS ARE UNTIMELY

Mundorff Clouts Ball for Seals Just Before Sale.

WILLIAMS SEES HOPES GO

Colts Lose Almost Every Chance of Getting San Francisco Player When He Sails in and Hits Five Times in Two Games.

When Nick Williams, manager of the Colts, heard that Howard Mundorff lined out five hits in two games for San Francisco Sunday he threw up his hands and virtually acknowledged that his hopes of securing the hard-hitting "Russian" have gone aglimmering.

"Just our luck to have 'Mundy' go in and star at the moment he was ready to be turned over to us," woefully explained the Portland leader last night. "I worked hard to get him up here and everything was fixed for his transfer, when he mussed up plans with his hitting. He is a grand player and just the man we need to make the Colts a combination hard to beat in this race."

Nick wrote another letter to Danny Long regarding Mundorff last night and expects to hear definitely within a few days regarding the player. The fact that Long has not called off negotiations leads him to believe that there is slim chance to grab the ex-Northwestern star, and he is going to work that chance to the limit.

Nick turned Pitcher Thomas over to Centralia, of the Washington State League, last night, and with the recent acquisition of Fred Lamline will be compelled to lop another salaried employe off the staff if the 16-man limit includes the manager. Nick is confident that Lamline will round into shape soon.

Veazey, the Southerner turned over to the Colts by the Beavers, will be sent in for his warm-weather debut today. He needs plenty of warm weather to get the best out of his arm, and Nick is confident that the past three sunny days have turned the trick. McCreery, the stellar moundman of last year's Bee squad, will work for Nordyke.

'U' ASKED TO PAY EXPENSE

College Must Foot Bills for Hawkins' Trys to Olympic Trials.

If the University of Oregon boosters will meet the expense of sending Martin Hawkins, the crack hurdler, to the Olympic trials at Stanford on May 18, the Multnomah Club, of Portland, will be represented by two men—Sam Bellah, pole vaulter, and Hawkins. Otherwise Bellah alone will wear the winged M emblem.

"We are under exceedingly heavy expense in sending Bellah to San Francisco and to New York and back, should he be chosen to go to the Stockholm Olympiad, so I think if we agree to stand for Hawkins' New York trip the Eugene folk will consent to send him to the tryouts," said T. Morris Dunne, of the Multnomah Club, yesterday.

"Stanford sent Bellah to the London Olympiad in 1908, and Oregon has also shown progressiveness in such matters before, so we are hoping that Hawkins will be with us. Were it not that we have just moved into a new club, and are naturally handicapped a little on finances, we would send Bellah, Holman, Hawkins and McClure."

Bellah will leave Portland for San Francisco tonight, stopping at Eugene for the Oregon Agricultural College meet, where he will give an exhibition of vaulting in competition with Williams and the other state experts. Bellah's highest mark is 12 feet 6 inches, made at Pittsburg, but he has already cleared 12 feet 5 inches with ease this Spring, and hopes to beat his record at Stanford.

The Multnomah Club squad received a notable track addition yesterday in D. H. Ahrens, a former star 440 and 880 dash man of the New York Athletic Club team. Ahrens has been absent from New York for three years, so is eligible to compete for Multnomah at once.

Hunt Club Plans Chase.

The first May paper chase will be held by the Portland Hunt Club Saturday afternoon, starting from the club grounds at Bertha station at 2:30 o'clock sharp. The course will be along the roads towards Portland. The hares selected are Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Tucker. The sunny weather of the last few days, it is believed, will bring out a good number of riders. Members only will participate.

Clatskanie Beats Giants.

CLATSKANIE, Or., May 8.—(Special.)—Clatskanie Gardners defeated the Cathlamet Giants at Cathlamet in last Sunday's game, 3 to 2. The features of the game were the hitting of Conyers and Alex McDonald for Clatskanie when hits were needed.

A 52 lb. Salmon

It was caught upon a No. 5 brass spoon at Oregon City yesterday. The river is now clearing rapidly, and we will have good spoon fishing all this month.

We still have plenty of good salmon tackle.
