

KING'S BODY TAKEN TO PUBLIC MORGUE

Frederick VIII of Denmark Not Known to Those Who See Him Fall.

CHRISTIAN BECOMES RULER

Prince Out Riding When News of Tragic Death of Father Is Received at Copenhagen--Half-Mast Flags Warn Him.

HAMBURG, Germany, May 15.—King Frederick VIII of Denmark dropped dead on the streets of Hamburg last night and there was no one around who knew that the dead man was other than an ordinary business man.

Late at night Queen Louisa and others of the royal suite became alarmed at the continued absence of the King and hearing of the incident in the "Goose Market," they proceeded to the Sailors' Hospital, where they found the body of the unidentified man who had dropped almost unnoticed to the street hours earlier in the evening.

The King, traveling incognito, arrived here Monday on his return from a long trip to the South, where he had been convalescing from a serious attack of inflammation of the lungs.

King Frederick and Queen Louisa, who had traveled from Nice under the name of the Count and Countess of Kronberg, had their youngest three children, Princess Thyra, Prince Gustav and Princess Dagmar, with them.

The King was regarded by his physicians as completely restored to health by his trip to the South. Yesterday he felt unusually well and during the day expressed joy at his expected return to Copenhagen today.

It was announced this morning that arrangements for taking the body to Denmark would be completed during the day. His Majesty's relatives and royalty throughout Europe were notified of his death before daybreak.

CHRISTIAN X PROCLAIMED KING

Princess Christian, as he was then, went out for his customary ride early today, unaware of the death of his father.

The people of Denmark are momentarily stunned by the sudden death at Hamburg of the popular King Frederick, who only two days ago, they were informed in official communications, had completely recovered from a serious illness which had afflicted him early in the year, and was returning to Copenhagen in excellent health.

Copenhagen in Mourning. Evidence of the deepest sorrow and sympathy are visible everywhere. Copenhagen is fast assuming the garb of mourning.

Frederick VIII was a great friend and admirer of the United States. He read the daily newspapers and was a student of American literature. He always was glad to greet American visitors at the palace.

The royal yacht Dannebrog, escorted by a warship, started for Lubeck, Germany, today, to embark the body of the King. The Dannebrog is expected to return to Copenhagen Friday.

WILLIAMS BRANDS BOLAND TRAITOR

Witness Repudiates Letter About Archbald Deal Signed by Him.

TESTIMONY TRUE, HE SAYS

Talk With Judge Prior to Investigation Admitted but Declaration Made That He Was Told to Tell Facts.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—Edward J. Williams, of Scranton, Pa., chief witness so far in the House judiciary committee's investigation of the alleged transaction between Judge Archbald, of the Commerce Court, and the Erie Railroad, furnished a sensation at today's hearing when he denounced William P. Boland, also of Scranton and author of the charges against the jurist, as "a traitor, a cut-throat and a dangerous man."

While Williams hotly denounced Boland, who sat within arm's length, he also charged him with once having "loped" a law in Scranton to obtain certain information. Williams repudiated a letter signed by him and sent to Vice-President Conn, of the Laurel line, who had contracted to buy the Katydild Culin Bank from Williams and Archbald after they had obtained an option upon it from the Erie.

Photograph of Letter Held. A photograph of the letter in the possession of the Department of Justice. A reference in the letter to "a party with whom you have been dealing" was construed to mean Judge Archbald. Attorney Worthington, for the judge, sought to bring out an inference that Boland had inspired the letter and photographed it before it was sent to Conn.

Williams, on the stand, declared he had never seen it. "Do you think it possible that you might have been under the influence of liquor when you signed this letter to Conn?" asked Representative McCoy.

"Yes, it is possible," answered Williams. "Boland might have taken advantage of me. He's that kind of a man, according to his words to me."

Talk With Archbald Cited. "Did you talk to Judge Archbald after you were subpoenaed about this case?" asked Chairman Clayton. "Yes, and all Judge Archbald told me was to tell the whole truth; to tell all I know about it."

"Did Judge Archbald ever tell you that you might be rewarded in the future if you gave favorable testimony?" asked Representative Webb. "No, sir."

Representative Webb asked Williams if he knew of any reward for him to ask Judge Archbald, against whom he was going to testify, for money to pay his fare to Washington. Williams said it made no difference where he got the money; he had told Boland for money, but was refused.

WARREN, MORE AND NEELY RETIRED BY CONFERENCE.

Stormy Scene Follows Charge by Dr. Day That Candidates Have Influenced Committee.

MINNEAPOLIS, May 15.—(Special.)—The mill began its grind today and when the burrs came together the excitement was severe. The committee on episcopacy reported advising the retirement of Bishop Warren, the senior Bishop, and Bishop Moore, and presented the name of Bishop Neely without recommendation. Dr. Day, of Syracuse, made a speech in defense of the men whose names were presented to the committee. His remarks were telling until the close, when he intimated that the presence of candidates in the committee was a disgrace.

was awarded to the work of the Epworth League in the negro conference, where the growth and work was declared to be remarkable. Substantial gains in the Junior League was reported and the conference was informed that financial independence had been attained by the league as a whole.

Missionary work in Mexico, India, China and the Philippines was declared to be progressing with the organization of new leagues and the translation of Methodist literature. The report closed with these words: "The Epworth League comes before this general conference prepared to do a larger service than has hitherto been deemed possible. Yet all that has been done brings to view a vast field of usefulness for which larger resources and further development are imperatively needed."
