Councilman Implies Company Misrepresented Facts in Bond Sale.

WERLEIN REPLIES HOTLY

Representative of Transportation Lines Declares Earnings Statements as Filed in Portland Show Correct Figures.

"The officers of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company are either liars, thieves or fake's," said Councilman Maguire to J. E. Werlein, a representative of that company, during a verbal clash in the Council chamber, at the meeting of the Council street committee yesterday.

"Do you mean to make such a charge as that, Mr. Maguire?" inquired Mr. Werlein, who was defending the company's application for a special permit to day two blocks of track on Adams street, which Mr. Maguire had attacked. "According to figures on file in this City Hail and those published in the Lendon Daily Mail, they are either of the three," replied Mr. Maguire.

"Tou cannot make such a statement," anapped Mr. Werlein, "Would you take the statement published in a newspaper in preference to the aworn statement.

preference to the sworn statement the company, filed here?" "Well, which statement is correct?" Maguire retorted.

Pigures on File Correct. "Why, the sworn statements filed here every quarter are the actual fig-ures, I am prepared to say," replied Mr. Weriele.

Werlein. "Then," rejoined Mr. Maguire, "the figures published in the Daily Mail showing some $518,660 more earnings last year than you have filed here are a lie. Your company is either trying to bilk the city or the people in London, to whom it wishes to sell its honds. In either case, it seems to me to show that the company is officered by men who are either fakers, theyes who are either fakers, thieves or liars."

"Any man who lies will steal," hurled back Mr. Werieln.

"Then I say that the officers of your company will steal, for certainly they have lied, either in the one case or the other." was the heated reply by Mr.

Magnire.

bitter had the words become be

So blitter had the words become between the two that Councilman Baker, committee chairman, stopped further clashes by announcing that Mr. Maguire's remarks were out of order.

That is a ruling that I am very glad the chairman made," said Mr. Werlein, for I cannot see that it is worthy of consideration by this committe as to what statements were published away off in London. We have simply asked for a permit here to lay tracks for two blocks on Adams street. Why? Simply in order that the company might provide transportation for passengers on the north East Side lines who must get across the river after the old steel the north East Side lines who must get across the river after the old steel bridge is closed and the new one opened. It makes no difference to us. "We want to do all in our power honorably to get this permit for the purpose stated: if we cannot have it at the hands of the committee, we do not suffer, but will have to carry the people to the end of the present line at the land of Holladay avenue and let them walk the Councilman Maguire charged that the company wishes the special permit un-der discussion so that it will have con-nections with the new Steel bridge and can then dofy the city as to other franchises now pending before the tractice of the Executive Board for valuations.

"I tell the members of this commit-tes that, if you grant this special per-mit, the company has got the cream of all the franchises now pending and can tell the city to whistle," said Mr. Maguire. "And another thing is that the company has no franchise over the new Steel bridge and it has got to come to the Company to set one."

"Oh, now, you are wrong there," said Mr. Werfeln. "We have to get a franchise from the county authorities for the Steel bridge. The city does not ewn it; it was built by the railroad comman."

No Permit, Says Maguire.

No Permit, Says Maguire.
"It was built by the railroad com-pany, yes," replied Mr. Maguire, "but the company had no more right to build it than you or I did. They never got any permit from the city and they will find out sooner or later that they will have to take action to get something from the city. The city will have some-thing to say about the approaches to that bridge."

that bridge.

Having shut off further verbal thrusts along the lines followed for several minutes, Councilman Baker demanded that the committee take action on the application. Mr. Maguire then moved that the applications be held up, pending the report of the Executive Board on the valuation of the franchises.

Councilman Burgard, who had not said anything on the subject until then, remarked that he wished to be recorded as voting against that motion, as he felt that the people of the North East Side should be given the opportunity to ride, instead of having to walk in the mud or the dust for two blacks on Adams street. locks on Adams street. It is the con-tention of Mr. Maguire and those voting with him that it will be sufficient time to grant a permit when the bridge is completed, provided the Executive Beard has not reported back the fran-chies now before it and the people eally need the tracks to convenience

The contention of the company is that a street improvement is soon to be under way on Adams street, and that the tracks should be laid with it. The company, said Mr. Werlein, is willing to pay its full share of the costs of the improvement taking its chance on setting a franchise, if the special permit is now granted.

The committee voted to held over the action on the permit as moved by Mr. Maguire. All efforts to reconsider the vote failed, and the committee ad-journed in an uproar.

While Mrs. Monagle was coming West, Mrs. Lehner was speeding East with the baby. When the mother reached the Coast she found that the child was gone. On Saturday Mrs. Monagle refused to accompany her husband to the theater, pleading a headache. Monagle left the hotel and his wife returned to her room. When Monagle returned to the rooms he found that she had taken poison.

Emetics were given at once and Mra Monagle was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where she died. SCHOOL TEACHERS RIFE land yesterday. The visitors will be met at the depot in Nehalem Thursday afternoon at 1:20 o'clock and will be taken in automobiles to Necarney and Neakahnie beaches and to Neakahnie Mountain. Later they will be taken in launches up the forks of the Nebalem River. They will also attend a public mass meeting at the Commercial Club. Mr. Gersoni says the people are very enthusiastic over the opportunity to show the possibilities of their city to the people of Fortland. The excursion party will represent about $100.000,000 in property and capital.

C.C. Chapman, of the Portland Commercial Club, who has the excursion in charge, reports that there are more persons already signed up for the trip than can be accommodated.
