Daunt Passengers on Board Liner Refuse to Accept Precious Bag When It Is Offered Them.

NEW YORK, May 30.—(Special.)—About a dozen persons on board the Kaiserin Augusta Victoria and on the Hamburg-American dock were offered a bag containing about $100,000 worth of jewelry and spurned it. The possessor of the bag was a lad who had been engaged by a woman passenger to carry it and another parcel to the vessel. The lad lost the woman among the 5000 on the pier and on board the Kaiserin. He did not know her name. He hunted about the vessel for half an hour and as bugles were blowing for "all ashore," he walked down the gang-plank and there offered the bag to a dozen men who were going aboard.
