CENTRALIA HAS FETE

Hub City Festival Attended by Big Crowds.

AVIATOR MAKES FLIGHT

Claude Berlin Ascends 1000 Feet and Circles City—High School Building Is Dedicated—Big Programme Today.

CENTRALIA, Wash., May 30.—(Special.)—Hub City Festival, the three-day celebration planned for Centralia in connection with the mid-summer meeting of the Southwest Washington Development Association, began here today. The programme was opened with the presentation of a flag to the new high school, Mayor Thompson delivering the presentation address. Claude Berlin, Centralia aviator, made a sensational flight from the fairgrounds to Centralia and return, circling several times over the city. The aviator ascended about 1000 feet. Almost the entire afternoon was taken up with open-air Memorial day exercises, under direction of the Centralia Grand Army post. The programme included an address by W. H. Cameron, Centralia attorney, music and recitations, and exercises by public school children. The ball game between Centralia and Chehalis, which was won by Chehalis 2 to 2, was attended by 1000 fans and visitors from Centralia.

Centralia's new $125,000 high school was dedicated tonight. The building was thrown open to the public during the day and thousands of visitors inspected it. Henry B. Dewey, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, delivered the dedicatory address tonight. Addresses also were made by Dr. Thomas F. Kane, president of the University of Washington; Dr. Knock A. Bryan, president of Washington State College; A. S. Burrows, president of the Washington Educational Association; and W. E. Wilson, N. E. Snow, and E. T. Mathea, principals respectively of the state normal schools at Ellensburg, Cheney and Bellingham. Several thousand visitors to the celebration arrived today. The programme tomorrow includes the dedication of the new postoffice and the laying of the cornerstone for the new $125,000 Carnegie library. The Tacoma Ad Club, 200 strong, will arrive in Centralia tomorrow afternoon to attend the festival and development association meeting. The club will entertain the officers of the Centralia

Commercial Club, Chehalis Citizens' Club, Development Association, Mayor Thompson of Centralia, and Mayor Coleman of Chehalis, at a big banquet at the Centralia Hotel tomorrow night. A telephone message from Olympia received here today said that the Olympia Commercial Club would send a delegation of 150 in automobiles tomorrow. The Development Association's meetings will begin tomorrow morning. Rivers Commercial Club in the association has guaranteed to send a big delegation and in view of the festival visitors, Centralia probably will entertain the biggest crowds in her history.

Chapman Goes to Centralia. C. C. Chapman, of the Portland Commercial Club, left last night for Centralia to attend the convention there of the Southwest Washington Development Association.

NOMADS HIT HOOD RIVER
Wandering Laborers Ride Freight into Berry Districts.

HOOD RIVER, Or., May 30.—(Special.)—The wandering class of laborers that pass the Summers in the Middle Western grain fields, the Springs in the Oregon berry fields and the Falls in the California orange groves, is being lured to the Hood River and White Salmon berry fields. Every freight train brings in its load of men looking for jobs. However, the city authorities allow but few of them to dismount. "We have had more tramps to contend with during the past three or four days than during all the rest of the year," says Marshal Robert T. Lewis. The officer declares that the record load of passengers on a freight train was brought into the city on a west-bound freight train Saturday night. "Night Officer John Castner and I counted them," he said, "and we had a merry time getting them rounded up and out on the train. They didn't look good to us."

GRESHAM LINE REPAIRED
Wires Demoralized by Silver Thaw Being Permanently Renovated.

GRESHAM, Or., May 30.—(Special.)—The Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company has a crew of men at work repairing all lines in Eastern Multnomah. The "silver thaw" of January left the lines badly demoralized and only temporary repairs were made at the time. The work now being done is permanent, and the lines will be in better condition to stand the storms of next winter than they have been for several years.

FLYER DROPS ROSES

Aeroplane Girl Pays Tribute to Dead Aviators.

VANCOUVER DECKS GRAVES
Flags and Flowers Are Placed on Plots in Cemeteries and Women Strew Blooms on Water of Columbia—Children Help.

VANCOUVER, Wash., May 30.—(Special.)—A pretty girl passenger in an aeroplane today tossed roses from the machine as it was cutting a figure eight, 200 feet above the ground. The flowers were in memory of aviators who have lost their lives in promoting the science of flight. This service was at Vancouver Barracks, where Elias Christofferson, an aviator, was flying. Miss Alma Pedersen, who is learning to operate an airplane, was taken up as a passenger. Her arms full of roses, which she tossed to the winds as the machine sped through space at 50 miles an hour. Part fell in the Columbia River and part on land, and cheer after cheer went up from the hundreds gathered in the field below. Flowers were cast upon the waters of the Columbia River by members of the Women's Relief Corps, decorated veterans of the Civil War, assisted by the gray haired wives and children, decorated the graves of the departed comrades in the cemeteries of Vancouver and the Spanish-American War Veterans, and Sons of Veterans, joined in the ceremonies of honoring the dead. Early this morning committees from the Women's Relief Corps, and from Ellsworth Post, No. 2, G. A. R., in wagons gathered a wealth of roses and other beautiful flowers, which had been left at designated places, and going to the cemeteries, these were placed upon the graves of veterans. The Spanish-American War Veterans, in addition to strewing flowers, placed a small flag on each grave. In the afternoon veterans formed in line and marched from the library to the City Park, where exercises were held. Several musical selections were rendered, and school girls, dressed in white and with a sash of the stars and stripes, decorated a centaph in the grandstand, in honor of the unknown dead. H. W. Arnold delivered an eloquent address. After this ceremony 2000 persons marched to the Northern Pacific dock at the foot of Columbia street, where bushels of roses were cast upon the water, in honor of the dead sailors.

Barracks Observes Day. VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash., May 30.—(Special.)—With muffled drums, the bands playing a solemn dirge, the soldiers of this post today marched to the military cemetery and there held short services in honor of the aviator dead. Taps was sounded by the buglers and three volleys were fired over the graves.
