Yesterday's Results. At Portland—Portland 5-3, Sacramento 3-4.

BY BOSCOE FAWCETT. Portland's two jumps up the percentage column yesterday over the fallen forms of Sacramento and San Francisco, by virtue of a double defeat.

Line Drive Ends Game. The star of the 1912 horizon took one squint along a curve ball sent quivering up by the dusky Hawaiian, Jack Williams, and the line drive he sent skimming into left field tallied Rapps and McDowell and the game was over.

Eight thousand frenzied spectators rose as one man and peeped up enthusiastically burst forth in one resounding roar of excitement. Bancroft was cheered to the echo and so was Bill Rapps, the Missouri first baseman who had started the fireworks and whose stick-work loomed up as one of the features of the day.

Good, bad and indifferent baseball added spice to the game. Hightinbottom began mound duty for Portland but gave way to Klawitter in the sixth inning, when the Beavers made three runs and tied the score and had the bases full with two out. Klawitter walked Tommy Sheehan, the next man, and forced in the final tally, and then retired the side.

Double Play Saves Beavers. This count of 4 to 2 went through to the final ninth, with both sides often in close juxtaposition to a score, the visitors having the bases populated on two different occasions—in the seventh with nobody out, and in the ninth with one down, when a sensational double play, Rodgers to Rapps, pulled the skins out of the embers.

Imagine this situation when Rapps, as first man up, faced the Sacramento right-hander in the ninth, stepped, walked and then began to file mournfully away to dinner, halted their footsteps, for Rapps had driven in runs twice before. In the second inning his drive, leading Deane, all but cleared the left-field fence for the first home run into the new bleachers.

Their hesitancy was well timed, for Deane walked and was sacrificed to second by the recruit backstop, Burch, who went behind the bat after Lind, who hit for Howley in the seventh. Klawitter then drove one to Irish, going safe on the little shortstop's bobble, Rapps pulling up at third.

Hopes of Fans Slak. Manager McCredie showed good generalship at Krumpholtz's expense, but McDowell, a speedy man, in to run for Klawitter and sending Gus Fisher up to pinch hit for Chadbourne. The heavy-hitting American League slugger, however, and hopes for a victory sank close to the bulb when O'Rourke gobbled in his puny fly. McDowell immediately stole second and Bancroft stepped up for his devastating swing that turned defeat into victory.

Pitcher Williams pulled the prize lapse of his career, in moments, but the explosion, when he had McDowell cornered between first and second, but for some reason held onto the ball, tentatively speaking, he looked like the poor baseball to send McDowell to second with a man on third and one run needed in the, but the unexpected steal moment after the first attempt, eventually worked out to a tie.

Sixth Inning Crowded. Hits by Williams, Madden, O'Rourke and Swain, walk by Irelan, Lewis and Sheehan, an error by Bancroft, in setting a drive get past him, netted the visitors their four in the sixth inning, when Hightinbottom was derided. Up to that point, however, the poor baseball to send McDowell to second with a man on third and one run needed in the, but the unexpected steal moment after the first attempt, eventually worked out to a tie.

Commuters Take First Game in Ten Innings—Ables Pounded in Second. OAKLAND, May 29.—Oakland and Vernon broke even in a double-header, and both games were of the kind that drive the fans frenzied. It required 19 innings to settle the morning game, which was won by Oakland, 9 to 2. In the afternoon, Vernon took revenge, 9 to 7. Ables, Oakland's crack pitcher was driven from the mound in the second. He left the bases full and none out and a record of three runs made off his delivery in the first, and one in the second. Malskey was Hamilton in and three runs were made off him in the second. A one-hand catch of Hamilton's long fly by Carlisle in the ninth, was a feature and probably prevented an extra inning, for as it was Oakland made two runs in that inning. Score:

Morning game: R. H. E. R. H. E. Vernon... 16 10 Oakland... 3 10 3. Batteries—Brackenridge, Brown and Sullivan; Gregory and Mitze. Afternoon: R. H. E. R. H. E. Vernon... 9 18 Oakland... 7 13 9. Batteries—Hitt and Hogan; Ables, Malarkey and Mitze, Tiedemann.

Brown and Helling Suspended. SAN FRANCISCO, May 29.—Catcher Brown, of Vernon, and Third Baseman Helling, of Oakland, were suspended today for two days by President Baum, of the Coast League, as the result of their conduct on the field during the morning game between Vernon and Oakland. A fine goes with the suspension, but the amount has not been announced.

M., May 29.—Promoter Charles O'Malley, of the Flynn-Johnson bout, today received a message from Al Palmer in New York, stating that he would be at the ringside on July 4 to challenge the winner. VICTORIA, B. C., May 30.—(Special.)—In the double-header this afternoon between the Bees and the Colts both got a game. The visitors had all the earmarks of winners in the initial half, until the third, when Pitcher Tonneson was hammered all over the lot. The net result was six runs and the outcome was the Bees' victory by 12 to 3.

In the second the tables were reversed, the Bees starting by establishing a comfortable lead of three, but just when the fans were congratulating themselves the Colts began to find Twilley Kaufman, Four singles, Merritt's poor stab at a center field fly and Brantley's error, resulted in another run for the plate netted Nick Williams' squad five and won them the game, score 5 to 4.

Tonneson Meets Waterloo. The first two innings of what was pending, because both McCreevy, of Victoria, and Tonneson, of Portland, appeared to be in form. In the third, however, the Colts began to lay the wood against the Bees' mound artists, Harris and Smith banging out two-runners which resulted in another run. But this was nothing to what was about to happen to one of Williams' prize pitchers. Four hits were rung up against him in successive innings, and he contributed an error in his fielding which added to the gaudy of local enthusiasts.

When Pitcher Stanfield was called to the rescue there were two seated on the sacks who were promptly brought across the plate and two double-batters, Morris and Rawlings, being the players responsible. Six runs had been inscribed on the scoreboard before the atmosphere cleared and the game settled down to serious business again.

Colts' Rally Nipped. Pitcher McCreevy in the eighth allowed the visitors to get away from him for a space. Merritt and Brantley, who were batting, contributed a boot which filled the bases. But then the twirler tightened, and with the assistance of some of the regular runners, he was able to win an ordinary game. Kennedy and Weed hammered out two-runners, but they were not the cause of all the damage, for the young slugger was the principal explanation of the way the records read.

As different as night and day, which is the state of the second game, in which was limited to seven innings. Here both Kaufman, of Victoria, and Doty, of Portland, pitched well. Saltee was strong until the break came in the fifth and sixth. Just before this the Bees got on the run, the result of Kibbie's indifferent work and Meek's poor play.

Tide Turns in Sixth. In the fifth the visitors fell to pieces and Victoria got another, making a lead of three. The tide was turned in the sixth, when the Bees, led by Harris, in center field, dropped a simple fly. Good, solid bingles from Williams, Eastley and Doty fell the rest, enough to tall the bases well. Merritt tried to redeem himself in the final, finding Doty for a four-bagger, but, luckily for the Colts, the bags were empty, and those that followed fell in order. The scores:

First game: R. H. E. R. H. E. Portland... 12 4 0 Victoria... 5 1 0. Batteries—Tonneson, Harris and Smith; Kaufman, Merritt and Brantley. Second game: R. H. E. R. H. E. Portland... 5 4 0 Victoria... 12 3 0. Batteries—McCreevy, Kennedy and Weed; Eastley, Doty and Meek.

Another pitcher's battle in the afternoon with the home team man having the better of the contest. The Seattle pitcher weakened in the eighth and the home team scored two runs on hits. The game was costly in the first part of the game and gave the Spokane team its first two scores.
