BRANCH LIBRARY PLANS APPROVED—The plans for the North Albina Branch Library, to be built on the quarter block on Commercial street and Killigworth avenue, east of the intersection, have been approved and returned. Architect Jacobberger is now engaged in preparing the specifications for the building. The cost of the building has not yet been estimated, but it will not be above $45,000. Miss Mary F. Ison, librarian, said yesterday that work will be started as soon as possible on the foundation and construction pushed forward. The North Albina residents have paid off the first street assessments on the site of the new branch library.

DR. STROWBRIDGE DEAD

WELL-KNOWN PHYSICIAN VICTIM OF APOPLECTIC STROKE. End Comes Suddenly to Member of Prominent Pioneer Family in Midst of Labors.

Dr. George H. Strowbridge, a well-known physician and member of a prominent pioneer family, died at noon yesterday at his home, 325 Fifth street, following a stroke of apoplexy. Dr. Strowbridge had been in good health until Thursday night, when he complained of severe pains in the region of the heart. Dr. George F. Wilson and James C. Zan were called and did what they could to relieve his suffering. He recovered from the attack and on Monday morning the attack and the apoplectic stroke came without warning and the end followed quickly. Dr. Strowbridge was born in Portland 45 years ago. He was the son of the late J. A. Strowbridge, a pioneer of this city, and Mrs. Mary B. Strowbridge. For a number of years Dr. Strowbridge conducted a drugstore at Second and Yamhill streets. After pursuing a medical course in Philadelphia and the University of Oregon, he began practice in Portland in 1887, and was engaged in this profession until the time of his death.

Dr. Strowbridge was unmarried. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mary B. Strowbridge, three brothers and a sister; Alfred B. Joseph A. Jr., Harry J. and Miss Mary H. Strowbridge. He was a member of the Elks, Woodmen of the World, A. O. U. W. and Improved Order of Women.

He was a member of the City Council in Mayor Penoyer's administration. One of the reforms in which he took pride was the change he introduced in bringing about humane execution of dogs in the City Pound. He was a great lover of dumb animals and was greatly interested in the work of the Humane Society.

During the Spanish-American War he served as surgeon in an army transport running between San Francisco and Manila.

The funeral will be from the family residence Sunday at 2 P. M.

BARBE CHARGE FAILS

Constable Weinberger Exonerated by Grand Jury.

TESTIMONY IS CONVINCING

Men Arrested for Gambling Say They Did Not Pay to Have Case Dismissed—Official Alleges Political Spite Work.

By testimony submitted to the grand jury yesterday, Constable Andy Weinberger was completely exonerated of the charge of having accepted a bribe of $20 from Herman Leve and Herbert Seward, whom he had arrested on a charge of gambling. The exoneration of Mr. Weinberger followed the testimony of Leve and Seward, who, with their attorney, Henry Westbrook, went before the grand jury. Both Leve and Seward testified that they never had given or attempted to give Mr. Weinberger $20 or any other sum. The alleged bribery, which was called to the attention of the grand jury, was committed last November. At that time Leve and Seward were arrested at 127 Thirteenth street by Constable Weinberger and a charge of gambling lodged against them. When the present grand jury was assembled, complaint was made that Mr. Weinberger consented to a dismissal of the gambling charge on the payment by the arrested men of $20.

"I had accepted a bribe was trumped up from beginning to end and collapsed completely when the facts were brought before the grand jury," said Mr. Westbrook, who with Leve and Seward were arrested at 127 Thirteenth street by Constable Weinberger and a charge of gambling lodged against them. When the present grand jury was assembled, complaint was made that Mr. Weinberger consented to a dismissal of the gambling charge on the payment by the arrested men of $20.

"My platform will be right to the point," said Mr. Riesland, yesterday. There will be no question as to where I stand on any issue relating to the schools and their administration. Involved in this campaign is not only the question of the administration of the schools themselves, but the administration of the business affairs of the district as well. There are two things to be considered. First, the city in the school, and second, the taxpayer, who must provide for the maintenance of the schools. His interests must also be considered.

SHARP ISSUES DEFINED

CANDIDATE FOR SCHOOL DIRECTOR HAS PLATFORM. Ben Riesland Says He Considers Child and the Taxpayers Both. Change in Law Wanted.

Amendment of the school laws to the end that a better administration of public schools in every city be effected by Ben Riesland, candidate for school director in the annual school election, June 17, this will constitute one of the chief planks in Mr. Riesland's platform, which will be announced within a few days. Mr. Riesland's opponents in the election will be J. W. Beach, retiring chairman of the Board of Education, and O. M. Plummer.

$10,000 CASE NON-SUITED

Woman Accused of Being Shoplifter by Negro Porter Sues Firm. A non suit was granted yesterday by Judge Wolverson in the United States District Court in the case of Mary Nolan against the E. P. Charlton Company to recover $10,000 damages for disgrace experienced and a nervous shock as a result of being accused of being a shoplifter.

The complaint alleged that while she was making a purchase in the store of the defendant, a negro porter, dressed in uniform, seized and searched her, at the same time stating in the presence of a number of other customers that she was a shoplifter. After this indignity, she declared, she was released and pushed out of the store in a manner to lead those who witnessed the affair to believe she was a thief. The above facts were presented in evidence and after its conclusion Judge Wolverson directed a verdict for the defendant company because it had not been shown that the negro was acting in the line of his employment when he seized and searched her. This ruling would indicate that the suit should have been brought against the negro and not against his employers.
