CARS WILL BEAR INVADERS

J. H. Nolta Secures Flats After Ne gotiations With Street Railway Company - Aeroplane Will Drop Roses on Crowds.

The Portland Railway, Light & Powor Company has granted the request of J. H. Nolta for flat care for use in the shower of roses and battle of flowers, that is to be held Friday of the Rose Festival, and he will have five or maybe more cars at his disposal for the

At first he was informed that they would not be available, but he declared that unless cars could be had, it would be necessary to cancel that fea-ture of the Festival entertainment.

The plan for the rose shower is for the cars to pass, laden with roses and rose petals, through the principal streets of the city, showering the bion-soms on every side. In front of the grandstand the cars will stop for the battle of flowers.

Missiles Will Fly.

Missiles Will Fly.

On that morning the only ticket of admission to the grandstand will be a basket of blossoms, and no one will be allowed in the stand who is not so equipped with ammunition. The people upon the grandstand and the people upon the cars that have served in the rose shower will engage in a pitched battle in which for many minutes the air will be filled with flying missiles consisting of rose blossoms and buds. Another novel blossom shower will be Tuesday morning, June 11, when Silas Christofferson will fly from the roof of the Multnomah Hotel in a Curtiss biplane, owned by Fred A. Bennett, of thig city, and soaring over the crowds of people will scatter roses upon their heads. After his rose shower is finished, the aviator will fly away to Vancouver.

Vancouver.

This will be the first occasion in which an acropiane has crossed the Columbia River, and will be the first time in the history of the world that an aviator has started from the roof

A wireless message received yester-day indicates that the cruiser Mary-land will reach Portland easily in time for the Festival. Commander Ellicott in his message said that probably she would arrive in the harbor late Sunday night, June 2, if weather conditions re-main favorable.

Buildings Are Decorated.

On every building and in every atreet in the city active preparations for the festival are manifest and decorators are at work. Crews from half a dozen decorating companies are in the field and miles of bunting and electric light festoons will be in place before Sunday. Many of the decorations are being put in to do service for both the Rose Festival and the Eiks' convention. This is the case with the big official grandstands, which are now in process of construction and which will be managed under the auspices of the Elks' committee for both events.

Elks' committee for both events.

In the buildings on the Fair Grounds the last touches are being put on the floats for the big electric parade, and George L. Hutchin, manager of the George L Hutchin, manager of the Festival, declared that this feature is to outshine any parade of its kind that has been previously held in the West. In every part of the city the finishing touches of preparation are ready to be made, and by Saturday night Portland will be fully arrayed in her heliday draws ready to welcome Historicans. holiday dress ready to welcome His Floral Majesty Rex Oregonus.

There are not many lads of 18, or girls either, who have not seen a clown, an elephant or a circus. But you could find a few, anyhow one, if you tried real hard. My little man was born and brought up in the country, far from a railroad, and no circus had ever come near his home town. Recently his parents removed to this city, and it was my great pleasure to take him out to the tented city yesterday afternoon and give him the first degree in American citizenship.

Tillkums of Elitaes Plan to Take Part in Programme.

SEATTLE, Wash, June 4.—(Special.)

—The Tilikums of Elitaes will hold one of their bi-weekly luncheons at Tate's tomorrow and the Portland Rose Festival and the part the Tilikums and Ad Club are to play in it probably will be the sole topic of conversation. The Portland Ad Club is framing a programme that is nothing less than sensational and they have sent all kinds of cordial and urgent invitations to Seattle.

In response to these invitations the Ad Club and Tilikums got together and will send a special train to Portland, carrying a delegation of not less than 100 of their members. Of course the Potlatch, being the pet hobby of both organizations, will be exploited as much as good taste will permit.

Just what is to be the nature of the demonstration will be settled at tomorrow's luncheon. It is settled that it must be in all ways in keeping with the Potlatch liself and at the same time of such nature that Seattle shall formance.

It is true, quite true, that I robbed the young man of one of the pleasures of the first circus. He went attended, "chaperoned," if the word fits better, he had all of the candy, pink lemonade and peanuts I thought good for his soul and digestive organs, and I paid his way in and gave him a reserved seat right close beside the ring.

"In our country, no man may be admitted as a member of the Socialist party unless he also is a member of the labor union," said Mr. Legien. "We believe in the absolute necessity of political organization. If we had the same opportunities as the American workingman, we would own Germany outright. Our trades unions do not fight each other; on the contrary, there is complete harmony between them. Out of 110 Socialist members of the Reichstag, all but seven are trades union officials. We are today 44 per cent of the voting strength of the Fatherland, and we are growing.

"The German army is the greatest Socialist factor in the empire," continued the speaker. "Every man who grows up must serve in the atmy, and the treatment they receive is so dreadful that these who are not Socialists when they enter the service are pretty sure to have become Socialists when they come out. The Socialist vote in the German army today is 4,500,000, every man a trained soldier, and we stand solidly, shoulder to shoulder, against war."

Emma Goldman, anarchist leader, by her manager, Ben Reitman, last night authorized the announcement that she would lecture in Alisky Hell, Third and Morrison streets, tonight and to-morrow night, despite the protests of George Wright Grand Army Post, No 1. Mrs. E. W. Shaver, who is in charge of Alleky Hall, admitted last night tha the hall would be occupied by the two apostles of anarchy for two nights, be

Prior to the arrival here of Miss Goldman and her manager, Mr. Reit-man, Mrs. Shaver arranged with the of-the use of the hall for another night this week and permit the hall on their

This arrangement apparently was satisfactory until the fact became known that the hall was to be used by Miss Goldman. It was then that the members of the Grand Army preferred a vigorous protest and insisted on an annulment of the agreement they had entered into with Mrs. Shaver. As a result, the veteruns gained the impression that the Goldman meeting would
