THAW OPENS THIRD FIGHT FOR LIBERTY

Hearing on Sanity of Slayer of Stanford White on at White Plains.

ALIENIST AIDS PRISONER

William White in Charge of Gov ernment Hospital at Washington Declares No Sign of Para-

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 17 .- The third attempt of Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, to obtain his freedom opened here today with the testi-mony of Dr. William A. White, an allenist, in charge of the United States Gov-ernment hospital at Washington.

Dr. White testified that he examined Thaw on three occasions recently and found no evidences of paranola.

Thaw is not insane," he said, "and it would not be unsafe to the com-munity to liberate him now. His memory was very good and his talk was entirely rational."

Prisoner Old Acquaintance.

William A. Stone, ex-Governor of Pennsylvania, the next witness, said he had known Thaw four years and had seen him yesterday. He described Thaw's manner and appearance as "perfectly natural."

As to Thaw's sanity, Mr. Stone said:

"He is perfectly rational—no question about it in my mind."

It was charged by Dr. Austin Flint, the alienist who testified for the state in Thaw's two trials, that "the pegs have been set" to obtain Thaw's freedom Clarence J. Shearn, chief counsel for Thaw, made the counter-charge that great and hidden influences have been exerted to keep the young man in the madbouse for life. He intimated that money has been lavishly used to this end, for fear that Thaw, once at large, will make certain disclosures which will implicate prominent citizens who were close friends of Stanford White.

White.

Dr. Flint has asserted that Thaw's sphere of influence extended even to the appointment of Joseph F. Scott as Superintendent of Prisons and that following the day he took office, a little over a year ago, every official in Matteawan unfavorable to Thaw has been replaced by men who believe White's slayer to be of sound mind. Thaw himself has been quoted as having admitted that he started "an agitation" in favor of placing the institution upon in favor of placing the institution upon a "hospital basis" and as having ex-pressed delight when officials opposed to this plan resigned.

Mother Issues Statement. Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, the prisoner's mother, went even further. In a signed statement issued at the time Dr. Robert M. Lamb resigned the superintendency, to be succeeded by Dr. James V. May, she expressed great satisfaction at what she termed the success of her son's efforts, and added:

"Now that success is computed. My risoners.

In both trials Thaw brought forward obted alienists by the score to declare im sage and harmless. In both trials be justices ruled against them in favor of the Matteawan officials.

Shinto-ism, notwithstanding that it has no "sacred books," no dogmas, and no code of morals, has a powerful charm for the people, rich and poor alike. Its revival now as the basis of the "new religion," could only be interpreted as springing from the desire to make the religious life of the Japanese tributary to the political power and growth of the empire. With a "divice" ruler, what would not his loyal subjects sacrifice for the glory and prestige of their country.

Thaw's "campaign of agitation" began after two attempts to regain his freedom had falled. The first fight, begun three days after the commitment, ended May 25, 1908, when Supreme Court Justice Morschauser declared that Thaw's mental condition had not changed and that his liberation would be "dangerous to the public." At the second hearing, which came to a conclusion August 12, 1908, Supreme Court Justice Mills held the Same views and Thaw was sent back to Matteawan.

Thaw's efforts have cost him nearly $1,000,000, it is said, and have involved the state in endless expense.

Many of these legal moves have kept Thaw for weeks at a time in county lalls instead of Matteawan, and once a public scandal resulted. The feature of today's programme

The feature of today's programme was the presentation under the pines on the campus of Shakespeare's "As You Like It" by students in the department of public speaking. The production was truly Shakesperian, for the only scenery used was an embankment of green boughs, which served as a background and the action of the play was continuous. The costumes were picturesque and the actors showed the effect of careful drilling.

The principal parts were taken by Walter Dimm, in the role of Orlando; Alexander Martin Third, as the ban-lished Duke, and Miss Janet Young, as Rosalind, who adopts masculine attire during part of the play. All acquitted themselves well, as did Alfred Skei, who deserves special mention for his work in the comparatively minor role of the old shepherd. Professor A. F. Reddle, of the department of public speaking, trained the caste and took speaking, trained the caste and took the par tof the melancholy Jacques.

Senior Memorial Unveiled.

Immediately following the play came the unveiling of the senior memorial, at the north entrance to Villard Hall. The memorial is a replica in brass of the University of Oregon seal, embedded in the concrete walk.

At 5 o'clock the large crowd which had witnessed the earlier ceremonies gathered about the inclosure where the May-pole dances were to be presented. There were six dances and each was a pretty and original picture in gay colors set against the green background of the campus. Dr. Bertha

A Word to Visitors

You like Portland-no use denying it. Before you leave the city you will regret you did not come here years ago to buy a little property. A Portland man made a gift of $100,000 to the Willamette University recently. How was he able to make such a munificent gift? Well, like others, he bought a few lots in Portland years ago, when values were low. That's the secret. The property has made a very wealthy man of him.

REMEMBER-There's a second Portland springing up on Tillamook Bay-Oregon's second metropolis, BAY CITY, the new deep-water seaport and railroad terminus. BAY CITY is assured of a deep channel, transcontinental railroads, immense sawmills and other industrial establishments. WISE INVESTORS are going to Bay City on every train out of Portland. BEFORE YOU leave Oregon come in and investigate BAY CITY. Secure a lot or two while they are selling at low prices. Prices will advance rapidly and you will make big money. Come and make us show you WHY AND HOW. If you cannot call, write for information.
