

SMUGGLING IS HIT

Ruse Used by Japanese Vexes Immigration Agent.

INVESTIGATION IS DUE

J. H. Barbour Complains That Oriental Seamen "Desert" When Entering American Ports and Some Are "Drowned."

That the Japanese laborer has discovered a new way to enter the United States, contrary to the treaty agreements between the two countries, has become fixed in the mind of Special Agent J. H. Barbour, of the Immigration Bureau. Under the treaty a Japanese laborer cannot come into this country unless he has a passport from his own country, and the Japanese government has frowned upon so many of its laboring class going away from home, so the granting of passports is not frequently done.

Since this law has been operative it has been noticed that whenever a Japanese vessel reaches an American port there are several desertions of the seamen. The penalty for this desertion is a head tax of $4, which is collected from the captain of the vessel, and who usually complains of his crew being depleted, but as a matter of fact it is believed the owners of the vessel receive a much larger amount from the American resident friends of the deserter.

With the payment of the $4 the incident is closed as far as the Immigration Bureau is concerned, and often this small amount is escaped payment by the statement the missing man had jumped overboard and was drowned.

Amateur, Capsizing After Run of 100 Yards, Rescued Just in Time.

The name "Suicide Club" that has been locally placed on the amateur canoeists by their habit of giving promise of being a correct one in the near future unless some regulation is placed on the use of these boats by the inexperienced.

PORTLAND GETS MORE SHIPS

American-Hawaiian Company to Send Four Vessels Here.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 18.—(Special.)—Definitely adopting the plan of sending the four vessels of its fleet to Portland and turning them south from that point instead of to Puget Sound, except during the season when salmon shipments are heavy, the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company now has the freighter Nevada, loading at the Oregon port, and will maintain that vessel, with the Isthmian, Nebraska and Lyra, in the Salina Cruz-San Francisco-Portland line.

RIVER ARRESTS ARE NUMEROUS

Inspectors of Customs Determined to Enforce Regulations.

Continuing their efforts to enforce the Government regulations with reference to small boats on the river at night, customs inspectors made the following arrests Monday night: E. J. Bloomfield, 281 Morrison, operating launch Rusey Rec, carrying six passengers without life preservers; L. Blum, foot of Ellsworth street, no lights in launch Van, and the following for having no lights in their canoes: I. Anacker, Seventh street; J. W. Coughlin, 46 Sixth street; R. W. Kohler, Kohler & Chase; John Collins, Nineteenth and Loveloy; A. Stewart, 456 Columbia; T. H. Russell, 1888 East Seventh.

STEAMER MAKES QUICK TRIP

Joseph Kellogg Goes to Kelso in Three Hours, Five Minutes.

The steamer Joseph Kellogg made a run Sunday between Portland and Kelso that is believed to have been a record-breaker. She took several automobile parties that far on their return, Puget Sound after they had taken in the Rose Festival. The distance is 58 miles and the run was made, slowing up in the Willamette to comply with the regulations, in three hours and five minutes.

ALASKA BOAT SAILS JUNE 28

Indications That More Than Enough Freight Will Be Secured.

The second sailing of the Portland-Alaska Line, operated by the E. J. Dodge Company, will be June 28 from the Oak-street dock, the receiving of freight commencing on June 26. The recent volcanic disturbances in Alaska have no effect on the operations of this line as its points of call are in the far northern part of Alaska in the Behring Sea.

Rain in Missouri and Texas Sends Corn Prices Down—Oats Sympathize With Backset in Other Cereals—Provisions Higher.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special.)—The market for grain today was depressed by a net decline of 1/2% to 3/4% for corn finished the same as last night to 1/2% for lower and oats at 1/2% to 1/4% for provisions closed at 1/2% to 1/4% for cereals.

It was said that 1,000,000 bushels of July wheat had been sold out of the pit today for the second largest interest in the market. Rain reports from Missouri and Texas, weakening fear of crop losses, weakened the corn market.

Oats sympathized with the backset to wheat, but showed steadiness for a while, in consequence of reports of rain growth in Iowa.

The hog run was turned out to be lighter than expected and furnished a basis for lifting. Provisions were higher.

SURVEYORS MOVE CAMP

Railroad Engineers Find Grades on Humburg and Little Fishhawk.

ASTORIA, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—What is known as crew No. 2 of the Southern Pacific surveyors, the force which has been at work for several weeks on the Humburg River, is moving its camp to a point on the Little Fishhawk, near the Wooden ranch. The surveyors are believed to be seeking a route for a railroad down the Little Fishhawk from the Humburg River to the Nehalem, near Jewel, which would be much shorter than a route down the Humburg via Elsie. The engineers are reluctant regarding their work, but it is known that those in charge have received orders to employ all the men they can use to advantage, and to spare no expense in hurrying the surveyors to completion.

The 17 engineers, who have been making surveys along the Lewis and Clark River and have been encamped for several days in the vicinity of the Peterson & Prye Logging Company's camp, moved today to a point near Clatsop station and will continue their work in that vicinity.

BATTLE RAGES ALL DAY

Minority Cheers, Roots and Hises Elected the Statute for McGovern.

The roll call proceeded, however, the Pennsylvania men finally taking their seats. Rhode Island's ten votes were cast for Root. South Carolina's 18 were divided, Root 11, McGovern 7. The ten Roosevelt delegates from South Dakota voted solidly for McGovern. One vote out of Tennessee's 24 went to McGovern; the other 23 to Root. The Texas vote of 46 was divided, 31 for Root, eight for McGovern, and one not voting.

Halleran Makes Root Safe. C. E. Loose, the National committee man, was the only Utah delegate who voted for McGovern. The Utah vote was for Root 7, McGovern 2. The Vermont delegation gave Root 2, McGovern 2. Virginia's 24 votes were divided, Root 22, McGovern 2.

Jority for temporary chairman was cast by Patrick Halleran, of the first district of Washington, at 5:42 o'clock. When the solid delegation was recorded for Root, giving him the full 14 delegates, padlockers broke loose in the hall. The New York delegation yelled and cheered and endeavored in vain to raise the heavy iron standards bearing the state banner. With the Washington vote recorded, Root had 544 votes, four over a majority. Immediately afterward, West Virginia's 16 votes went to McGovern. The Wyoming cast her six votes solid for Root.

The Wisconsin delegation divided its vote between three men, two of whom were not candidates. Walter L. Houser and eight others of the more ardent La Follette men cast their votes for Judge W. S. Laidley, North Dakota, an action which brought hisses from Roosevelt enthusiasts when the result was announced.

McGovern Does Not Vote. Governor McGovern got only 13 votes out of his own delegation. He did not vote himself. The Wisconsin vote was: McGovern, 13; Laidley, 9; Walter L. Houser, 1; Senator Gronna, of North Dakota, 1; not voting, 1.

Root got Alaska's two votes and two from the District of Columbia. Hawaii voted with California, registering six votes for McGovern. The Philippines and Porto Rico each got Root two votes from the district roll call. The total vote was announced by Secretary Hayward as follows: Root, 558; McGovern 503; Gronna, 1; Laidley, 9; Houser, 1.

Immediately after the vote was announced Senator Root appeared on the platform. The crowd yelled, while the band swung into a lively march. Sergeant-at-Arms Stone had the utmost difficulty in restoring order, and the cheering broke out anew as Chairman Roosevelt, after a brief speech which could not be heard, handed the big gavel to Root.

Flinn demanded attention from his place in the Pennsylvania section, but was drowned in the hubbub. A minute later Senator Root stepped to the front of the platform to begin his speech. A storm of catcalls and jeers broke out from the galleries.

Acknowledgment Met by Jeers. "How, how, how!" came in raucous tones from the floor and galleries as he referred to his "appreciation" of the "honor" accorded.

Senator Root prefaced his prepared speech by a few extemporaneous remarks. "I thank you," he said, "and I beg you to believe that I deeply appreciate this expression of your confidence."

"How, how, how!" came a guffaw from the floor. Cries from members of the Pennsylvania delegation took a group of policemen in that direction.

Sergeant-at-Arms Stone called upon the chief of police to restore order in the rear ranks of the Pennsylvania delegation, but Richard R. Quay, sitting in the front, put his hand to his mouth and called out, "Receiver of stolen goods" while officers about him called for order.

Root had scarcely begun his address before hundreds of spectators on the floor and in the galleries began to leave the hall noisily and hurriedly.

Senator Root suspended his speech and requested Sergeant-at-Arms Stone to remove those who wished to leave to go out at once.

Spectators Begin to Leave. "As soon as those desiring to leave have gone, the Senator will continue," shouted Stone through the megaphone, and the spectators began to crowd out. Root, scowling, resumed his place at the table.

Senator Root's voice could not be heard half way down the hall. As Senator sat there, "Bill" Flinn, with a cigar stub in the corner of his mouth and his straw hat jammed down on his head, climbed over the stage railing. He stepped up to Senator Root and shook hands and conferred with him for several minutes, leaving just as Root resumed speaking.

When Mr. Root resumed the entire rear part of the floor and gallery were empty. Those who remained crowded to the front, and the empty seats were emphasized by the sharpness of the contrast.

Minor Officials Appointed. Senator Root concluded his speech at 7:35 P. M. and was applauded. The formal appointment of the minor temporary officials followed.

Senator Clark, of Wyoming, moved that until rules were adopted the convention be governed by the rules of the States National convention. The motion was adopted unanimously.

Mr. Watson, of Indiana, offered the formal motion for a roll call of the states for selection of the various standing committees.

Governor Hadley, who had again taken a place on the stage, renewed his motion to substitute a Roosevelt list of delegates for the temporary roll made by the National committee. An agreement had been reached that after the roll call, the convention should adjourn with the Hadley substitute list the unfinished business, to be taken up immediately upon convening.

THREE CHARTERS MADE

COASTWISE VESSELS TO CARRY LUMBER TO CALIFORNIA.

French Sailors Have Near-Monopoly on San Francisco Trade Handled by Canvas-Propelled Boats.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(Special.)—Three coastwise charters have just been announced as follows: Steam schooner Shna Yala, lumber from Puget Sound to San Francisco, at $5; schooner John A. Campbell, lumber from Grays Harbor to San Pedro, at $5.50; schooner Elva, lumber from Puget Sound to San Francisco, at $4.75, with the option of San Pedro at $5.50.

The French bark Bourbaki has been chartered by Balfour Guthrie & Co. to load general cargo at Rotterdam for San Francisco.

There are 15 sailing vessels 14 of which are French, under charter to load at European ports for San Francisco, of which number 11 are consigned to Balfour Guthrie & Co. and four to Balfour Guthrie & Co. Virtually all the sailors carry no wage and pig iron, the regular line steamers getting the bulk of the general cargo and consequently the list of sail tonnage coming this way is becoming smaller each year.

British sailors virtually have retired from this trade and the French have assumed almost full control. Four of the well-known South steamers were chartered today by A. P. Thane & Co. of this city, to load lumber on the Columbia River, Puget Sound or San Francisco for Australia. They were taken at 6 cents per ton and 7 shillings exceptionally high rates. The vessels are the Strathmore, Strathairn, Strathardie and Strathguy, all coming to this port with coal for the Government.

The British steamer River Fort, arriving from Sydney today, is under charter to J. J. Moore & Co. to load

European Resorts and Hotels.

TRIP WILL BE MADE ON FRIDAY TO SUCKER LAKE.

Chaperoned by the Women's Annex of the Multnomah Athletic Club, the junior girls of the club will leave Friday for Oswego and will pass their annual picnic at Sucker Lake. Basket dinners will be taken and swimming and athletic exercises will be the program of the day.
