

"SCOTTY" INVOLVES PROMINENT MEN

Head of Chicago Insurance Company "Grubstaked" Him Is Confession.

MINES ALL ARE "MYTHS"

Spurge of "Death Valley" Character Filled Pockets of Backers While He Got Only "Handout."

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 18.—(Special.)—"Death Valley Scotty" told to the county grand jury today that A. M. Johnson, president of the National Life Insurance Company of Chicago, grubstaked him for years, and that E. Burt Gaylord, a mining engineer of New York, put up the $10,000 which "Scotty" paid for the special train in which the Death Valley man made his spectacular trip across the continent several years ago.

"Scotty" also testified that he had tried to persuade the officers of the Death Valley Scotty Gold Mining & Development Company to locate a few mining claims in the mountains in order to give the mining scheme the appearance of genuineness, but alleged that they refused to do so, saying it was unnecessary.

F. C. Goodwin, secretary of the company, will go before the grand jury tomorrow with books and records of the company. "Scotty" told the grand jury today that his "hole ground" down in Death Valley is a myth, which has been used for years to fill the pockets of promoters. With the sanction of F. C. Goodwin, the secretary of the company and its treasurer, Goldworthy, the officers of the mining company have apparently dropped from sight.

"Scotty's" confession contained this other bit of interesting history: He never located a mine, either in the Panamint range of the "Funeral Mountains" or anywhere else. He never owned a mine; was not a miner; his only role was to make a big spurge to advertise himself as the spectacular and unbridled spender, while all the time cunning schemers were formulating plans upon which they should profit by this show.

And all "Scotty" got, he says, was an amount of money that could not be defined by a lotter ticket than a "handout." "Scotty" said the most he ever had at one time was $3,000, and that the yellow complexioned roll he carried was upholstered with $1 bills.

SEELEY WINS AT MEDFORD

Challenger for Woman Candidate to School Board May Contest.

MEDFORD, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—Dr. E. R. Seeley was elected School Director over Mrs. Mabel H. Parsons at the election of the school board today by a vote of 232 to 180, a majority of 212. The total number of votes cast was 574, two being discarded on account of faulty marking.

The election was remarkable for the amount of interest shown, the heaviest vote in the history of Medford school elections, and the victory of Dr. Seeley, who was rated a poor second. Considerable warmth cropped out during the voting hours, and as an aftermath contests are threatened by the women.

John M. Root, challenger for the women in the voting booth, announced after the count that the matter would be taken up in court. He is supported by R. F. Mulvey. It being held that many of the voters were not taxpayers and the voting list and the tax rolls would be compared. Mr. Root asked Councilman Watt, who acted as an election official, to "take good care of the ballots." It is also stated that a contest would be waged on the ground that the election was illegal, being held in one place instead of separate wards.

CLUB AT ALBANY ELECTS

J. S. Van Winkle President of Commercial Organization.

ALBANY, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—J. S. Van Winkle was elected president of the Albany Commercial Club in the annual election of officers last night. Other officers chosen are: Vice-president, F. P. Nutting; Secretary, C. H. Stewart (re-elected); Treasurer, William Bain (re-elected); Directors, W. B. Dyer, H. D. Davis, M. H. Ellis, F. M. French, G. A. Flood, F. J. Fletcher, P. D. Gilbert, L. E. Hamilton, A. M. Hamner, J. C. Holbrook, E. H. McClinton, Charles H. Stewart, George E. Sanders, C. E. Sox and D. O. Woodworth.

DE LARMS' POLICIES VOID

$24,000 Insurance Forfeited Two Weeks Before Death.

SEATTLE, Wash., June 18.—If W. E. De Larms, owner of the Columbia River Orchards Company, who died a tragic death at Placerville, Cal., could have raised approximately $300,000, his young wife, now awaiting his body in Clarksville, Mich., would today be worth $24,000 instead of being practically penniless. On the night of May 31, hardly 15 days before the death of the promoter, an insurance policy for that amount held by the fugitive in the Western States Life Insurance Company, in this city, lapsed because of the nonpayment of premiums.

No Politics in Move, Says Board.

SALEM, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—That there will be no politics in the selection of a successor to Superintendent Looney at the State Training School, was the sentiment voiced by members of the State Board after they had met last night to go over the list of applications that have already arrived. Governor West and Secretary Olcott will be away much of the week, and consequently no selection will be made until next Saturday. Members of the board declared that they would not ask the applicant whether he was a democrat or a republican, but would endeavor to name a man for his qualifications.

Cathlamet Defeats Kelso.

CATHLAMET, Wash., June 18.—(Special.)—Kelso was defeated yesterday in a game with Cathlamet on the home field. The score was 12 to 2. The Kelso team was accompanied by two bands and 250 rooters.

FORMER PITTSBURG GIRL WHO WILL WED NOBLEMAN AT COURT OF SAXONY.

MISS MARGARET QUINBY.

TITLE TO CROSS SEA

Miss Margaret Quinby, of Pittsburg, to Wed Nobleman.

AFFAIR IS LOVE MATCH

Young Woman, Recently Presented at Court of Saxony, Wins Praise for Her Simplicity of Dress and Manner—Mother With Her.

PITTSBURG, June 18.—(Special.)—Another American beauty has fallen captive to a titled European. This time it is the money bags of Pittsburg which are unloosed to bring the American family into alliance with one of the old families of Saxony.

Miss Margaret Quinby is, according to cable dispatches received here, to marry a nobleman attached to the suite of the King of Saxony. Miss Quinby and her mother resided at Pittsburg up to about ten years ago. Then they went abroad and established a residence at Dresden, the capital of Saxony.

The dispatches announcing Miss Quinby's approaching marriage to the titled European also bring an account of their presentation at the court of Saxony. She was presented by Consul General Gaffney, of the United States. The young American woman is said to have won immediate favor, not so much on account of her beauty, which is, nevertheless, striking, but because of her simplicity of dress and manner. Despite her long residence abroad, Miss Quinby is truly American, and she is that type of American women that Americans most like to hear of—a self-reliant, refined woman with every womanly attribute. Rumor has it that her approaching marriage is the result of a real love affair, and that it is not so much the attraction as title and money which responsible for this latest international alliance.

TAFT FORCES ELECT ROOT

attitude those of the Roosevelt contestants.

One Struggle Consumes Whole Day.

It was in precisely this effort on the part of the Roosevelt men that the whole day was spent in struggle.

The chaplain had hardly finished his invocation of the divine blessing upon the convention before Governor Hadley was on his feet objecting to the personnel of the convention itself.

This led to a long and intricate parliamentary argument.

Chairman Rosewater, of the National Port of New Jersey, of the Roosevelt side, who whose shoulders had fallen the ordinarily perfunctory duty of calling the convention to order and presenting the recommendations of the committee for the temporary officers of the convention, found himself over what seemed to be a turbulent and passionate set of factions.

The chairman's initial ruling was on the Hadley objection and was to the effect that until the National committee had presented the temporary roll, made up from the credentials from the individual states and districts and its judgment upon contests, there was no convention; the gathering was a mere mass meeting, and nothing could be done until a preliminary organization had been effected by the selection of a presiding officer.

Claims Argued by Leaders.

He held that absolutely no business was in order except the selection of such an officer. He said he had no desire to be arbitrary in his ruling and would allow 30 minutes to each side to present arguments on the subject. These arguments were presented by Governor Hadley and ex-Governor Port of New Jersey, of the Roosevelt side, and by Representative Payne, of New York, and ex-Governor Watson, of Indiana, on behalf of the Taft side.

LAST CLASS GOES FROM LINCOLN HIGH

Largest Body of Graduates in History Marks Close of Old School.

DIPLOMAS ARE GIVEN TO 69

Rev. W. B. Hinson Delivers Final Charge to Seniors and Says Failure to Use Education Aright Is Criminal.

Not any more will the graduates from Lincoln High School pass out from the auditorium of the old school as they did last night and as they have done since 1883.

When the sixty-eighth commencement comes to pass it will be in the magnificent new building, which Lincoln High School last evening declared was among the finest on the Coast. This was the last commencement, and as a fitting climax it was also the largest class that had ever been dismissed from that hall. There were 69 graduates, of whom 42 were girls.

The proceedings opened with a march by the school orchestra in the direction of Frederick E. Chapman. The chorus, gave a fine rendition of Mendelssohn's "The Lord is Great."

The address to the class followed. Rev. W. B. Hinson prefaced his remarks by stating that a commencement sermon was like a swan's throat cry, rather long and very dry. He demonstrated successfully that it was not essential to be either "ideal education," he said, "is the fullest possible equipment for the largest possible service. Therefore a graduate today needs to be equipped not only bodily and mentally, but also spiritually. Advance in education has been so great since I was at school that teachers no longer try to cram knowledge in but to draw it out. Failure to attain knowledge under the magnificent conditions that obtain today is criminal, as is also the failure to use that knowledge."

"Try not to go upon the principle of those who won't work that the world owes you a living—which is a lie—but upon this: I own the world. Remember that you are here for every wrong that needs resistance, every right that needs assistance, the future of the nation and the good you ought to do."

Mrs. Brodie Recites.

There followed a rendition of "Waldesgesprach" by Mrs. Imogene Harding Brodie, who in response to repeated calls for an encore gave "Maurouven."

The graduates were presented by I. N. Fleischner, of the Board of Education. The programme closed with "Butterflies" sung by the girls' chorus. The complete programme was as follows:

March (Holmann), overture, "Mosses" (Rothmann), High School Orchestra, chorus, "The Lord is Great" (Mendelssohn), High School Chorus; address to the class, by Rev. W. B. Hinson; recitation, "The Church" (local solo, "Waldesgesprach" (Schumann), Mrs. Imogene Harding Brodie; recitation, "The Butterflies" (Margaret Lang), Girls' Chorus; Frederick E. Chapman, superintendent of music, director of orchestra and chorus.

BUGGY GOES OVER INCLINE

Horse Smells Powder, Bolts and Injures Pendleton Woman.

PENDLETON, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—Becoming frightened at smelling powder from a blast which had been set off 15 minutes before, a horse driven by Cora Crowley, proprietor of the Columbia lodging house, ran away to a steep embankment on Wild Horse Creek. Mrs. Crowley was badly bruised and her arm was broken, while a woman companion was seriously shaken up and bruised. The horse ran some distance, when it encountered a barbed wire fence and was finally stopped by nearby laborers.

SLAYER IS EXONERATED

Coroner's Jury Finds Hardman Justified in Killing Adams.

ROSEBURG, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—After a deliberation of less than five minutes a Coroner's jury empaneled to investigate the circumstances of the death of John Adams, who was shot and killed by Ben Hardman at the latter's home near Reston Friday, rendered a verdict today in which Hardman was exonerated of all blame. In brief the verdict was to the effect that Hardman was justified in taking Adams' life.

The jury concluded that Adams went to the Hardman home with the intention of murdering the family and not in search of his wife as was alleged by Adams in his dying statement. This conclusion was reached by the jury after considering the contents of several letters recovered near the spot where Adams received the fatal wound. Hardman was released from custody today and returned to his home in the mountains tonight. It is probable that the evidence adduced at the inquest will be submitted to the grand jury at the November term of the Circuit Court.

FINAL CONCERT IS TONIGHT

Mrs. Kathleen Lawler Belcher to Give Entertainment.

What will be the last concert given in this city, by Mrs. Kathleen Lawler Belcher, the coloratura soprano, for at least three years, will take place tonight at 8:15 o'clock, at the Heilig Theater, under the patronage of notable society and musical friends of this distinguished singer, who only returned several months ago from two years' vocal studies in Europe.

The program will be assisted by Charles Duncan Raff, cellist, and Edgar E. Brown, pianist. Landon, Ronald, Thomas and others. For extra numbers, she will sing ballads and has been specially asked to sing "The Last Rose of Summer."

'BLUE SKY' PETITIONS OUT

Initiative Documents Are Turned Over to Portland Chamber.

SALEM, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—Petitions carrying copies of the "Blue Sky" law have been turned over by the printers to the Chamber of Commerce in Portland for circulation and have also been received here, according to a statement made Monday by Corporation Clerk Babcock.

The petitions are being sent to different parts of the state. Already requests have come in from various sections urging that petitions be forwarded so that they may be circulated gratuitously.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism.

The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton St., Boston, Mass., is another victory for Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed.

Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years, it kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as iron. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's."

Get it today in usual liquid form or chocolate tablets called Sarsatabs.
