

TAFT LACKS 4 OF ENOUGH WHEN 22 INSTRUCTED FOR T. R. ARE ELIMINATED, SAYS DIXON.

McKINLEY CONFIDENT, TOO Full Strength Not Yet Shown. Says Barnes—Colonel Counts on Gaining Votes in Oregon, Illinois, Maryland and Pennsylvania.

Table titled 'HOW THE STATES VOTED FOR TEMPORARY CHAIRMAN.' with columns for State and Votes. Includes states like Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming, District of Columbia, Hawaii, Philippines, Porto Rico.

CHICAGO, June 18.—"We have them whipped," said Senator Dixon, manager of the Roosevelt campaign, after the convention had elected Senator Root temporary chairman. The vote this afternoon proves it. It demonstrates beyond a doubt the impossibility of Taft's nomination for president.

Twenty-two More Votes Claimed. Senator Dixon claimed for Roosevelt 22 votes cast today for Senator Root, which are instructed for Roosevelt, and expressed confidence that the credentials committee would be able to make good on some of the contested delegates seated by the National committee.

Three States Grouped. OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO DELEGATES TOGETHER. Binger Herman Arrives in Chicago and Seeks Vainly to Find Hotel Accommodations.

Wisconsin Split Discussed. The action of the Wisconsin delegation in splitting on the temporary chairman has been regarded as ominous by some of the Roosevelt leaders. Some of the delegates are said to be considerably aroused because Senator La Follette urged the delegation to take no active action on the temporary organization.

T. J. Admit Weakness, Says McKinley. "Mr. Roosevelt acknowledged his own lack of strength by declining to place before the convention a candidate for temporary chairman. His managers attempted a coalition with the candidate of Senator La Follette, but the combination was repudiated. Sen. Root's splendid victory assures the nomination of President Taft."

THE FULL LIMIT of the Roosevelt strength has now been polled and Mr. Roosevelt still lacks 70 or more votes of the necessary majority. Every effort will be made to delay the consideration of all questions in the hope that opportunity will be given to make further inroads into the column of Taft pledged and instructed delegates. Their methods will prove futile in the future as they have in the past. The defeat which they sustained today is the beginning of their disastrous end. President Taft will be elected.

SNAPSHOTS TAKEN AT CHICAGO OF REPUBLICAN CONVENTION NOTABLES.

Upper Row (Left), Bruce Dennis, State Chairman for Oregon; Henry Waldo Cox, Ormsby McHarg; (Right), James Watson, of Indiana—Middle Row (Left), H. L. Anderson, of Florida, and Charles A. Scott, of Alabama; (Left Center), Senator Borah; (Right Center), A. M. Stevenson, of Colorado; (Right), Lefe Gleason, of New York—Below (Left), William D. Haywood, Secretary National Committee, and Charles D. Miller, Secretary to the President; (Center), W. B. Austin, President of Hamilton Club, New York; (Right), Ex-Senator Lefe Young, of Iowa.

COLONEL SAYS LITTLE

"I AM A BETTER WARRIOR THAN PROPHET," HE SAYS. Receiver to Ear, Candidate Stays in Room, Directing Convention Battle Over Telephone.

THREE STATES GROUPED

OREGON, WASHINGTON, IDAHO DELEGATES TOGETHER. Binger Herman Arrives in Chicago and Seeks Vainly to Find Hotel Accommodations.

DR. ELLIOT GETS ANOTHER DEGREE

The degree of doctor of laws has been conferred upon Dr. Thomas L. Elliot, pastor emeritus of the First Unitarian Church, of this city, by Washington University, of St. Louis, according to a message received last night. Dr. Elliot left here 10 days ago to deliver the principal address at the 15th annual commencement exercises of the university. He was a member of the first graduating class and the son of the first president of the university. He already holds the degree of bachelor of arts from that institution and doctor of divinity from Harvard University.

EX-FESTIVAL KING IS HOST

Fred Kribs Entertains Float Participants at Banquet. Fred A. Kribs, King of the recent Rose Festival, gave a banquet in the Multnomah Hotel last night to 100 of those who participated in the electrical parade floats and who helped to make the festival a success. The decorations were roses. Music was furnished by the hotel orchestra.

PRE-CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—William Jennings Bryan's seat in the reporters' box is number 13 which fact was loudly announced by an usher. Mr. Bryan smiled broadly and remarked that Colonel Roosevelt's headquarters are on the 13th floor of the Congress and his manager's room is number 1312.

TAFT WILL BE STRONGER, SAYS BARNES

Mr. Barnes had this to say: "The result of the convention is conclusive proof of two things, first, that this convention is in no sense a Roosevelt convention, and secondly, that the vote that was given for Mr. McGovern exceeds by a large number of votes the Roosevelt strength in the convention. Mr. Taft's full strength in this convention is not represented by the vote for Senator Root because in my judgment Taft's vote will exceed that given the temporary chairman. I regret that a few delegates in the State of New York have failed to comprehend their patriotic duty and through the lure of possible political advancement have misrepresented the backbone of the Republican constituency which they were elected to represent."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

KID IRISH CAN'T KEEP DATE

"Kid" Irish, the Portland 115-pound wrestler, visited The Oregonian office last night to report that he would be unable to fulfill a wrestling engagement with Jimmy Rivers at Los Angeles July 4. Irish broke a bone in his left hand and was unable to leave last night.

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

COMMISSION IDEA UPHELD

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—Senator Root, in his address delivered upon assuming the gavel in the Republican National convention, said in part: "Gentlemen of the convention, the struggle for leadership in the Republican party, which has so long engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of its members, is about to be determined by the selection of a candidate. The varying claims of opinion for recognition in the political arena of the party are about to be settled by the adoption of a platform. The supreme council of the party in this great National convention, representing every state and territory in due proportion, according to rules long since established, is about to appeal to the American people for the continuance of government which it has received with but brief interruptions for more than half a century."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

COMMISSION IDEA UPHELD

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—Senator Root, in his address delivered upon assuming the gavel in the Republican National convention, said in part: "Gentlemen of the convention, the struggle for leadership in the Republican party, which has so long engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of its members, is about to be determined by the selection of a candidate. The varying claims of opinion for recognition in the political arena of the party are about to be settled by the adoption of a platform. The supreme council of the party in this great National convention, representing every state and territory in due proportion, according to rules long since established, is about to appeal to the American people for the continuance of government which it has received with but brief interruptions for more than half a century."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

COMMISSION IDEA UPHELD

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—Senator Root, in his address delivered upon assuming the gavel in the Republican National convention, said in part: "Gentlemen of the convention, the struggle for leadership in the Republican party, which has so long engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of its members, is about to be determined by the selection of a candidate. The varying claims of opinion for recognition in the political arena of the party are about to be settled by the adoption of a platform. The supreme council of the party in this great National convention, representing every state and territory in due proportion, according to rules long since established, is about to appeal to the American people for the continuance of government which it has received with but brief interruptions for more than half a century."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

COMMISSION IDEA UPHELD

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—Senator Root, in his address delivered upon assuming the gavel in the Republican National convention, said in part: "Gentlemen of the convention, the struggle for leadership in the Republican party, which has so long engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of its members, is about to be determined by the selection of a candidate. The varying claims of opinion for recognition in the political arena of the party are about to be settled by the adoption of a platform. The supreme council of the party in this great National convention, representing every state and territory in due proportion, according to rules long since established, is about to appeal to the American people for the continuance of government which it has received with but brief interruptions for more than half a century."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

TAFT POLICY INDORSED

"The Republican party stands now, as McKinley stood, for a protective tariff, while the Democratic party stands against the principle of free trade and for a tariff of revenue only. We stand not for the abuses of the tariff, but for the beneficial uses. No tariff is so objectionable as one which is so reasonable that it will not be rejected by the Democratic party, provided its duties be adjusted with reference to the protection of the American products against being driven out of the market by foreign underselling made possible through an excessive rate of duty on the tariff. The American foreign merchant service has been driven from the face of the waters because the wages of the American seaman are not on a par with the standard of living did not compete with foreign shipping."

COMMISSION IDEA UPHELD

CHICAGO, June 18.—(Special).—Senator Root, in his address delivered upon assuming the gavel in the Republican National convention, said in part: "Gentlemen of the convention, the struggle for leadership in the Republican party, which has so long engrossed the attention and excited the feelings of its members, is about to be determined by the selection of a candidate. The varying claims of opinion for recognition in the political arena of the party are about to be settled by the adoption of a platform. The supreme council of the party in this great National convention, representing every state and territory in due proportion, according to rules long since established, is about to appeal to the American people for the continuance of government which it has received with but brief interruptions for more than half a century."