

The Oregonian

Entered at Portland, Oregon, Postoffice No. 238, Second-Class Matter. Subscriptions: Invariably in Advance.

Portland, Friday, June 21, 1912.

THE POSTOFFICE BOLE.

Colonel Roosevelt on Wednesday night urged his followers to bolt, but they did not bolt. He urged them again yesterday, but they did not bolt. A few of them started a bolt from the meeting of the credentials committee Wednesday night, but they bolted back again on Thursday.

FREE SPEECH PUZZLE.

Is the patriotic band that has marched on Spokane, on Aberdeen, on San Diego, and on other cities, to enforce the glorious principle of "free speech" as guaranteed by the Constitution of the United States?

A PRIVATE AFFAIR.

Whether a man chooses to employ negro girls or white ones as stenographers is his own concern. The public has no particular interest in the complexion of anybody's employees.

Legislatures with limited powers, and any law which they attempt to pass in excess of those powers is no law at all. It is simply a nullity, entitled to no obedience.

THREE DAYS FOR FESTIVITIES.

Portland, June 19.—(To the Editor.)—The writer wishes to call the attention of the people to one defect, and really a very serious drawback, to the success of the Rose Festival, and that is the failure on the part of our supposed well-to-do and rich people to decorate and enter their autos and carriages in the parade.

WHERE ALASKANS SECURE COAL.

Collector of Customs Presents Facts About Import of Fuel. JUNEAU, Alaska, June 15.—(To the Editor.)—I want to say that the Peninsula Park is a great credit to the city.

Home From College.

Cleveland Plain Dealer. "I suppose your boy at college will be home pretty soon?" "Oh, yes, we had a letter from him today. He's awfully proud of his standing."

them and the British, whose principal post, as everybody knows, was at Vancouver, under the benign but sufficiently shrewd management of Dr. McLoughlin.

POINTS TO NEED OF WARSHIPS.

Writer Sees Serious Error in Failure to Build Ships. PORTLAND, June 18.—(To the Editor.)—The writer wishes to call the attention of the people to one defect, and really a very serious drawback, to the success of the Rose Festival.

MODESTY AND FASHION.

Detroit Free Press. "But don't you think this bathing suit somewhat—a trifle immodest?" "I don't know. That is what all the fashionable people are wearing this year."

An Anxious Moment in Golf.

London Punch. Novice (with great determination after numerous attempts)—"I'll stay here till I hit this ball. I'll stay here till I hit this ball. I'll stay here till I hit this ball."

and the British, whose principal post, as everybody knows, was at Vancouver, under the benign but sufficiently shrewd management of Dr. McLoughlin.

FEATURES OF THE SUNDAY OREGONIAN.

Dude Ranching—A delightful page about a new industry that has grown up out West—that of making men out of dudes. War of 1812 Survivors—With the centenary of that struggle at hand 200 widows of men who fought in the ranks are now living.

the other cause of Oregon's backwardness is the scarcity of railroads penetrating the timber belt, when compared with other states.

THE WOMAN OF 25,000 SHOES.

A real reason of the business world in which a plucky woman makes good. Written by Richard Spillane. Two Short Stories, Complete. The Jump-Ups go in for tennis, and there are new pranks by all the color cutups. Many other features.

ORDER TODAY FROM YOUR NEWSDEALER.

Several of our citizens design commencing important improvements in our city as soon as the water works are in the erection of substantial business houses and dwellings. Two large brick stores are now under contract to be erected on the levee and in the First street.

them and the British, whose principal post, as everybody knows, was at Vancouver, under the benign but sufficiently shrewd management of Dr. McLoughlin.

PREOCCUPIED.

Ask me no more, while here I stand imbibing Convention bulletins, incessant coming. That I should pause and go with thee to luncheon, is still a hum-ming.

Half a Century Ago.

From the Oregonian of June 21, 1862. The following communication containing a set of resolutions adopted by a meeting of the citizens of Washington County held at Forest Grove on the evening of June 17, relative to the construction of a good, passable wagon road from Portland to the Tualatin plains, should receive the attention of our citizens and especially our merchants and traders.