The First $1000

It has often been said that the first $1000 is the hardest to save. It requires a denial of little luxuries and it may be inferred that it requires determination, prudence and thrift to save this first $1000. The young man or woman who has these qualifications to save has proved to be possessed with character and courage, qualities which always win in the battle of life, and is well on the way to independence. There is no aid to saving so powerful as a four per cent interest-earning savings account.
