It was nearing midnight when the Governor retired. He was reminded that tomorrow was a holiday.

"Theoretically, I know it." he said. "It's a legal holiday, but I fear it will be a strenuous one for me."

The Governor, however, did not show that he minded it. He had a smile for each newcomer and a handclasp even for the smallest girls and the boys who don't vote for a dozen years or When they would not come in hand or took off his soft brown hat.

the midst of all this present day activity, bit by bit, there are coming to light incidents of Governor Wilson's making during the convention and thereto. Today his secretary told the history of the telegram to William J. Bryan in answer to Mr Bryan's message declaring against the selection of Alton B. Parker as temporary chairman of the convention. "As soon as Mr. Bryan's message came public, even before it reached the Governor," the secretary said, "the Wilson managers at Baltimore got the Governor Wilson included James Nu-gent. When informed that Mr. Nu-gent was reported to have given out an interview declaring he would sup-port the nominee, Governor Wilson ex-pressed a keen desire to see it and "get acquainted with Mr. Nugent". Many have declared that the Gover-nor's plan in starting the moral cru-sade was actuated by the belief that he has that the woman's suffrage vote will carry in the state this November. They state that with West as an open advocate of woman's suffrage, and with his further stand taken at the present time, he would be in a position to de-

TOLEDO, Or., July 3.-(Special.)-The County Court of Lincoln County has just signed the contract with R. E. Mieth. Wilson managers at Baltimore got the Governer on the telephone. "Don't answer the message until you hear from us,' they begged. And the Governor said he would not. "Down at Baltimore they rigged up a rough draft of a reply and sent it to the Governor. He read it, and handed it to me. It dodged the issue. The Governor took it from my hands. "It won't do, Joe.' he said, as he tore it into bits. The people expect more than this of me.
