COLUMBIA TROOPS

General Maus Receives Orders From Washington to Prepare for Maneuvers.

MARCH WILL START TODAY

VANCOUVER BARRACKS, Wash. July 9.—(Special.)—General Marion P.
Maus, commander of the Department of the Columbia, late today received orders from Washington to mobilize the troops for Summer maneuvers at once. Between 5000 and 6000 troops, once. Between 5000 and 5000 troops, regulars and guardsmen from Oregon, Washington and Idaho, will take part in the maneuvers, beginning July 20 and continuing until July 30.

The first troops to leave this post will be Battery D, Second Field Artillery, under command of Captain C, H. Lanza, and a mounted detachment of Company F. Engineers, who begin their 90-mile march tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, taking their own rations, supplies and all necessary equipment, including one ambulance.

Thursday morning at 2 o'clock the following organizations will leave en route to Centralia: Twenty-first Inand supplies for the various columns so as to reach points along the line of march in time for their use. The troops of cavalry from Boise Barracks are expected to arrive here tomorrow, and they will be permitted a short rest. They are in command of Major Thomas H. Hughes.

Captain E. J. Dent is in command of the angineers.

Captain E. J. Dent is in command of the engineers.
Captain Edgar H. Yule, of the Second Field Artillery, who was sent out more than a week ago to select camp sites for the troops between here and Centralia, returned today. The troops are all expected to arrive in the central camp near Centralia about July 18. The march is approximately 90 miles, and about 15 to 20 miles a day will be made, conditions being favorable.

In the Twenty-first Infantry, there are only about 200 seasoned soldiers, the other 600 being recruits.

PAIN CAUSE OF SUICIDE Y. W. C. A. TOURISTS NEARLY Michigan Man at Eugene Asks Pardon of Lodge for Self Shooting.

EUGENE, Or., July 3.—(Special.)— Dimmick Hannas, a timber cruiser, aged 53, recently from Iron Mountain. Mich., despondent because of an in-curable aneurism, committed suicide yesterday by shooting himself in the breast with a revolver. After the shooting he wandered out on to the street and later was found dead.

Coroner Gordon found this note, scribbled in lead pencil:
"In the good name of God, this is more pain than I can stand. I beg pardon of the good Order of Eagles. more pain than I can stand. I beg pardon of the good Order of Eagles, but this is more pain than I can stand— pain, pain, pain, and it is for life. Dector says I cannot be cured." Hannas leaves a widow and two sons. is the point of law, entirely flew in this state, so far as known by lawyers, that is being tried before Judge Donald McMaster, of the Superior Court of Clark County.

Steve Winterburger, who died here October 21, 1911, left an estate of about $2500 in mortgages, and his life insurance policy in the A. O. U. W. was in favor of Mrs. Anna M. Graef, his youngest daughter. In the will Winterburger appointed his daughter, Mrs. Carrie Stainger, executrix, and bequeathed his estate, including the $2006 insurance policy, to the four children, to be divided equally. The children are the two mentioned, and Mrs. Katie E. Thompson and Edwin Winterburger.

The insurance policy was first made out in favor of his wife, Mrs. Barbara Winterburger, but when she died the policy was changed to make the youngest daughter the beneficiary. She paid the insurance on the policy for nine months, but this was repaid to her by her father before he died.

Mrs. Graef, who collected the $2006 after her father's death, answers in court that under the law in general and the statutes of Washington, the only way to deprive her of her interest in the policy is to change the policy.

W. E. Yates, representing the executrix, Mrs. Stainger, is trying to establish a trust in the beneficiary for the benefit of the whole estate. Mrs. Stainger has cited Mrs. Graef, her own sister, to show cause why the $2000 should not become a part of the whole estate.

All manner of signaling will be tried out, including wireless telegraph, wireless telephone, heliograph, telephone, wigwagging, mounted messenger, motorcycles, and even aeroplanes, if the necessary arrangements can be made with private owners, who have shown their interest in the Army by making offers of the use of their machines. or "War Horse" Susie, was another sis-

CAUGHT IN DEATH TRAP.

Help From Seaside Reaches Gearhart Visitor After Hours of Exposure in Place of Danger.

SEASIDE, Or., July 9 .- (Special.)-

SEASIDE, Or., July 3.—(Special.)—
Death trap, a narrow, rocky enclosure on Tillamook Head, came near being the scene of a tragedy last night when Adele Boehles and Mabel Presnett, two members of the Y. W. C. A. party visiting at Gearhart, were shut in by the treacherous tide. The girls are none the worse for their hazardous experience, but had not Miss Presnett succeeded in escaping through the breakers and summoned help, the affair might have been more serious.

They returned to find that the incoming tide had covered the pathway along the rocks and had rendered the passage dangerous on the side from which they had entered the trap. Realizing the gravity of the situation, Miss Presnett determined to force a passage along the rocky path and succeeded only after having been knocked down several times. On her return a call for help was sent to Seaside.

A party was at once organized to A party was at once organized to attempt a rescue. A little after midnight the trap was reached and the frightened girl extricated from her narrow foothold.

"Miss Randall is unable to walk now unassisted, not because her legs are too weak, but simply because she does not know how and cannot maintain her equilibrium," said Dr. Crane.

The cast which has held the child's legs in place since June 5, when the operation was performed at St. Luke's Hospital by Drs. Crane and G. Downs, was removed Sunday. A portion of the muscles on the back of her legs was removed and placed on the front of the deformed members. Her legs had been bent backwards since birth.

Miss Randall is now to take daily lessons in walking, just as though she were an infant.

'BAD INDIAN" ARRESTED

Columbia George Taken in Connec tion With Squaw's Murder.

PENDLETON, Or., July 9.—(Special.)
—Sheriff Taylor placed Columbia George, a "bad Indian" living on the reservation, under arrest Monday in connection with the murder of Mrs. Timot, the squaw who was found brutally murdered on the edge of the Umatilla River near the city limits yesterday.

Several years ago Columbia George, with another Indian, Toytoy, asserting their victim to be a witch, gave Anna Edna poison in whisky, the dose resulting fatally. Both men were tried and convicted of murder in the first degree, sentenced to life imprisonment, but within the last year were pardoned.

Anna Edna was a medicine woman and had failed to save the life of Toytoy's daughter. Columbia George was the last person seen with the Timot woman, and a good deal of strong circumstantial evidence points to the guilt of George in the murder.

Buy the Flour Made From othe Best Wheat-then you get your money's worth.

Costs More - Worth 1

That is due to the Choice wheat we use exclusively for Occident. We select only the best North Dakota Hard Spring Wheat—the most famous bread-making wheat grown. It is the highest priced wheat—richest in gluten. And Occident goes through a more complete cleaning and purifying process than any other flour milled.

It goes further—makes more bread. You use less flour for every batch of bread. Your bread stays fresh longer—moist and sweef. It is whiter, lighter, better tasting. And more important than anything else—every loaf has more autriment—more of the muscle-building properties that strengthen the body. Ask your Grocer for one sack. Try it.

If it doesn't suit you your money will be refunded without any argument.
