popped a foul fly to Wuffil on his attempt. He played in left in Chadbourne's place and looks like the goods. Klawitter walloped in deep trouble only once after the first inning, then through the agency of Mundorff's spectacular dash from first to third on Mohler's sacrifice bunt. Hartley followed with a walk, but on an attempted double steal Mundorff was nabbed at the plate on two perfect throws by Fisher and Butler. Simultaneously Corhan fanned and thus retired the side on the double.

The fans got their first peep at the youngster, Wuffil, traded by Spokane for the Altman-Powell-Noyes combination yesterday, but did not failer. Two hits came as his portion of the punching and if you ask Cal Ewing today what B. P. O. E. signifies he will promptly reply: "Wuffil—Best Plunker on Earth."

Both teams enjoyed the sunshine and played accordingly. The score:

THOMPSON ELUDES SWINGS OF COLTS

Bloomfield Falls Victim to Assemblage of Hits That Spells His Defeat.

OPPORTUNE EIGHTH PASSES

With Sacks Filled Bloomfield and Harris Are Unable to Give Portland Necessary Hits to Win Contest.

Northwestern League Standings.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—(Special.)—Portland found Thompson a serious obstacle when a hit was needed, and, on the other hand, Seattle was lucky in crowding theirs into limited space. Whaling's throwing was deadly accurate, which cut off the runners at second and had much to do with preventing the Colts from getting a start. Jackson's timely two-bagger put the finishing touch on a game that had been any one's to that point. Final score, Seattle 7, Portland 2.

COLTS LOSE CHANCE.
Portland's best chance, outside of the second, was in the eighth, when they got three hits and filled the sacks. Again Thompson came to his own rescue with the fanning process. Harris and Bloomfield falling victims. Cruikshank muffed a fly and Williams threw a ball into a runner's back in the sixth, the eventual result being two runs on good sprinting by Thompson and Raymond, but the incident did not affect the outcome, as Seattle had enough to win anyway.

McDOWELL WALKS THRICE.
In the fifth Raymond, Stralt and Mann got singles in a row. Raymond came over on an infield out and Jackson's liner over first, which took a bad bound and let in the other two. One out in the sixth, Speas hit for a home run.

There was no more scoring, although Portland had the bases bulging in the eighth. Speas and Mann led in the hitting with three each. McDowell had the odd record of walking three consecutive times, scoring once and then hitting for a single. The score: Seattle 7 0 0 0 0 0 0 0. Portland 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0. Batteries—Ray, Speas, McDowell. Two-base hit—Jackson. Home run—Speas. Sacrifice hit—Mann. Stolen bases—Shaw, Chick. Struck out—By Thompson 3. By Bloomfield 4. Bases on balls—By Thompson 4. Off Bloomfield 3. Wild pitch—Thompson. Hit by pitched ball—Harris, by Thompson. Time—1 hour 45 minutes. Umpire, Toman.

CHICAGO 1, BROOKLYN 0.

Suggs retired after the second inning because of a stiff neck, while Rucker retired in the eighth to allow Erwin to bat for him. Score: Cincinnati 1 0 0. Brooklyn 0 0 0 1.
