

PROGRESSIVES' RE- SOLUTIONS CONDEMN DELEGATES WHO SUPPORTED TAFT

Methods in Any Manner.

CHICAGO INTERVIEW CITED

Ackerson, Coe, Boyd, Carey, Hale and Swift Commended for Voting in Accordance With Oregon's Choice for President.

Resolutions adopted unanimously at the meeting of the National Progressive Club and dealing with the action of Oregon's delegates to the Republican National convention were not as drastic as expected. They dealt largely in general terms but reviewed the votes of the individual members of the delegation on questions coming before the convention and forming a part of the Roosevelt "programme" of organization and control of that body.

The resolutions were signed by Sanford Macdonald, Lute C. Pease, O. W. Hickey and Dr. H. R. Bierdorf, four of the five members of the committee, the fifth member, O. W. Griffin, not affixing his signature. At the outset, the resolutions give credit for the vote for President in this state, showing that Roosevelt received a plurality of nearly 6500. Reference is made to the delegates and an interview by Thomas McCusker, published in a Chicago newspaper, in which the Portland man said six of the ten delegates from Oregon would switch from Roosevelt to Taft or La Follette at the first opportunity.

Remembering the use by Delegate McCusker of Roosevelt's name and remembering the tenor of his oath as a delegate, your committee believes that no more convincing evidence of Delegate McCusker's insincerity could be offered, and in so far as he spoke for other Oregon delegates who would switch from Roosevelt to Taft or La Follette at the first opportunity, he is to be commended.

Loyalty is tested. The loyalty of the Oregon Progressive delegates was tested before the convention. The first was the election of a temporary chairman, that, Sibru Root represented the standpoint, anything-to-keep Roosevelt element. Governor McGovern, of Wisconsin, represented the progressive side. It is generally conceded that the election of McGovern would have meant the nomination of Roosevelt.

Delegate McCusker was present, but sided with the enemies of Roosevelt by not voting.

We are pleased to name Delegates Ackerson, Coe, Boyd, Carey, Hale and Swift as voting on the side of progressivism—voting in accordance with their pledge, in support of the cause of Oregon's choice for President.

The second important matter coming before the convention was the motion of Governor Hadley, of Missouri, to substitute a minority report for the majority report of the credentials committee, which, in effect, was to take the temporary roll call as made up by the credentials committee, the fraudulent list of delegates to substitute the Roosevelt delegates, in certain contested states. Ex-Congressman Watson, of Indiana, moved to amend the motion, and we find Delegates Carey, Campbell, Bynon, McCusker and Smith voting to table the motion, and Delegates Coe, Boyd, Hale and Swift voting against Congressman Watson's motion. In other words, Carey, Campbell, Bynon, Smith and McCusker assisted the Taft steam roller.

Arguments are useless. Your committee has no comment to offer upon the various sophistical arguments of "stirring" delegates to the effect that "there was really no steam roller, after all," or that the steam roller was "justified," that "anyway not much merit existed in most of the Roosevelt contests," and therefore the convention was "cheated" enough to justify the nomination of Taft. That Roosevelt would have been nominated "if he had not bungled"; that La Follette would have been nominated if something had happened; that Roosevelt's loyal supporters "ruined his chances" by protesting against fraud; that there was "trickery" in the naming of McGovern as temporary chairman, but no "trickery" in packing the convention with fraudulent delegates; that care was to be "precedent" and "parliamentary practice" is more important than smashing precedent and practice; that the delegates to the convention were "simple minded," "little dogs" or "liars."

In conclusion, your committee desires to emphasize the fact that this matter has nothing to do with partisanship for any leader; we believe it to be simply a question of principle: The falsification of an elected official to the letter and spirit of his platform and oath of office.

The original motion, adopted at a former meeting, calling for the appointment of the committee submitting the resolutions, provided for the condemnation not only of McGovern, but of Coe and Ackerson for the reason that the latter two not only remained in the convention and failed to vote for Roosevelt, according to their instructions, but also voted to elect the Taft delegates to Senator Borah, who received the popular vote in this state as the party's choice for Vice-President.

"FRISCO" NOT RECOGNIZED

Treasury Department Refuses to Permit Nickname for City.

San Francisco, July 10.—"Frisco" as an abbreviation of the name of this city has been placed officially under the ban of the Treasury Department of the United States, and an attempt to use it has put several transcontinental railroads to considerable expense and more inconvenience. Customs regulations provide that goods shipped by rail in bond must be sealed in the cars, and July 1 a new regulation provided that an automatic tin seal bearing the printed destination of the car to be used.

Judge Butler, of The Dalles, Happy.

Among the out-of-town visitors to Portland yesterday was R. R. Butler, of The Dalles, ex-Circuit Judge of the district embracing Gilliam, Sherman and Wheeler, and Republican nominee for State Senator from Wasco County to succeed N. J. Sinnott, who received the nomination in the last primary election for Representative in Congress from the Second Congressional District. The smile Judge Butler wears, he contended to his friends, is not due entirely to his approval of the elaborate decorations for the Elks' convention. Ten days ago a nine-pound daughter arrived at the Butler home. "She is a genuine suffragist of the Progressive Republican persuasion," said Judge Butler yesterday, "and if she were a week older she would be in the Elks' parade tomorrow."

Chicago Elks Opposes Innovation.

CHICAGO, July 10.—(Special.)—A prominent member of Chicago lodge No. 4 of Elks was interviewed today with reference to the recommendation of the grand jury that dispensations for charters when requested in towns of 3000 inhabitants. He is of the opinion that this would be unwise for the reason that it would tend to cheapen the order, as in a town of 3000 inhabitants only about 600 of them are male voters and eligible to membership in a fraternal order, and in the Southern states some towns of this size are composed of from one-third to two-fifths negroes.

Then there are "mushroom mining towns," which exist for a while and finally become deserted and forgotten, he argues.

CHILD BARELY BURNED ON LEG

Between Knee and Ankle, Skin Loose, Leg Dark Red, Cuticura Ointment Entirely Cured Her.

300 Fuller St., Redwood, Cal.—"My two-year-old daughter tipped a basin of hot water on her leg between knee and ankle. She was burned so badly, in places as large as a man's hand, that the skin was loose. The appearance of the leg was dark red. I applied the Cuticura Ointment at once and put on a bandage. I removed the bandage twenty-four hours later, opened the water blisters, applied more Cuticura Ointment and bandaged again. The skin did not come off and I did this until she was completely cured. I did not let her walk much until it was healed. She did not complain after the first day, and after the Cuticura Ointment was put on, slept as usual. The scars are gone; Cuticura Ointment entirely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. E. O. Chapman, Mar. 12, 1912.

Let's go to BAY CITY, the place we hear so much about!

A capital idea, old man. I believe it is a good place to buy a few lots, as it is bound to be Oregon's second metropolis. The new jetty and the deep channel direct to BAY CITY will make it a big seaport. By securing a few lots now they will be very valuable by the time the improvements and the Panama Canal are completed. We can leave Portland Saturday morning at 8:45 and return Sunday or Monday before
