

CANDIDATES IN NO HURRY TO FILE NOW

Washington Law Gives Friday as First Day to Declare Candidacy.

NATIONAL MIXUP MIXES

If It Is Decided to Put Roosevelt Ticket in Field, Some Most Prominent Anti-Taft Men May Try to Change Fortunes.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 10.—(Special.)

Friday, July 12, is the first day for the filing of declarations of candidacy for nonpartisan primaries to be held September 10, but this year no grand rush is expected, as the Washington primary law now provides that the names of the various candidates shall appear at the head of the list in rotation. Thus, there is no particular advantage in being first to file, and it is predicted that comparatively few will be in a hurry to get their names on the ballot.

Owing to the mixup in National affairs there is some reason to think that candidates will file as Republicans. A number who have been waging aggressive campaigns are hesitating over whether to file and declare themselves Republicans or to wait and see if a new party is to be organized. If it is decided to put a Roosevelt ticket in the field some of the most prominent anti-Taft men may decide to try to land the nomination in the convention which will have to be held on the primary election day, rather than to trust the political fortunes to the voters at the polls.

Rumors of all kinds are heard, some of which are to the effect that a state ticket and county ticket will be put up by the Roosevelt people, while other reports are that there will be no new party in the field, and that the Republicans, Democrats, Socialists and Prohibitionists will fight it out again as in the past. At the present time the candidates for judges of the Supreme Court are removed from partisan politics, and the names of all judicial candidates appear on all party ballots.

Law Strictly Partisan.

However, the Washington primary law is a strictly partisan affair, so far as the rest of the ticket is concerned, and the candidates will have to decide whether they will run as Republicans, Democrats, Socialists, or Prohibitionists, or take their chances with the new party. One of the features of the whole affair is that with the primary election only about two months away, nothing definite is known as to who the candidates will be for the various offices, or rather it is not known just what their affiliations will be. They will have to decide shortly, and then their declarations will become a matter of public record.

The fact that the Roosevelt National convention will not be held until August 1 is doing more, it is said, to prevent the putting up of a third ticket in Washington than anything else, for August 10 is the time for filing of declarations of candidacy, and as a result the candidates will have but a short time to reach conclusions as to what their course of action.

From present indications those who will file on the Republican ticket for Governor are Governor Hay, J. C. Lawrence, Robert T. Hodges, S. A. Case and Orville Billings. On the Democratic ticket William Dunphy, M. M. Goldman, Hugh Todd, William Goldman and E. C. Millon are mentioned as possibilities. On the Republican ticket for Lieutenant-Governor it is possible that the candidates will be Robert F. Booth, W. B. Bannan, H. B. Smith, George C. Teats and A. V. Favett, while A. C. Edwards and Ernest Lister are mentioned as Democratic possibilities.

For Auditor C. W. Clausen and W. E. Cromwell are likely to be contestants for the Republican nomination, while the Republican list for Treasurer at present seems to include Edward Meath, D. H. Cox and R. A. B. Young.

Tanner Out For Attorney-General. W. V. Tanner at present is the only one mentioned for the Republican nomination for Attorney-General, while H. Howell, present Secretary of State, Robert L. Kilne, Edward Clayton, Sr., and Ben R. Fish have all been mentioned as Republican possibilities for the nomination for Insurance Commissioner at present is between J. H. Schwelby, incumbent, and Senator H. O. Fishback. Up to the present time four are in the race for the Republican nomination for Commissioner of Public Lands, the quartet being Charles V. Seaside, Perry H. Niles, Maud H. Tamblin and W. H. Kaufman. A. S. Burrows and Mrs. Josephine Preston have the Republican nomination for Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Just who are running for Congress in the first district for the Republican nomination against W. E. Humphrey, who now holds the place, is not known, although Thomas Revelle, Thomas Murphree and John F. Murphy are mentioned as candidates. In the second district James A. McNeely and possibly C. E. Clapp are mentioned as shifting about while over in the third district William L. LaFollette, elected by the Republicans, will have to contest his seat with George Shaffer, Nelson W. Durham and possibly other. The race for Congressman at large, two to be elected, is decidedly interesting, and just who the candidates will be cannot be predicted until the declarations are closed. Those mentioned up to the present time are Albert Johnson, Henry B. Dewey, Harry Rosenbaum, J. W. Bryan, J. J. Biggs, J. J. Frost, John E. Ballantine, A. Falconer and Henry A. McLean. This list, however, is likely to be greatly changed, and there is more uncertainty concerning it than any of the others.

MEXICANS NOT TO FORTIFY

Salina Cruz Is Officially Designated as Commercial Port.

Coinciding with the visit of the steamer Nebraska, of the American-Hawaiian line, which plies between Portland and Salina Cruz and handles cargo in conjunction with the Tehuantepec railroad, word has been received that the Mexican government has decided to designate Salina Cruz as a commercial port. Under the direction of President Diaz the work of fortifying the harbor was undertaken, but the present administration has given out that there will be no additional operations of a military character there at present. Besides the four carriers running to and from Portland a second fleet of the American-Hawaiian flag operates as far north as Puget Sound, all sailing from Salina Cruz, so as the western terminus of the Tehuantepec route it is becoming a busy port, but may lose most of its trade with the opening of the Panama Canal.

GLASSBORO PARK'S AMUSEMENTS GROW

Scotch Collie With Capacity for Mental Suggestion Delights 2000 Spectators.

JUDGE SADLER MAKES HIT "Chautauquan," a Quarterly Paper, Will Be Published and an All-Year Manager Probably Will Be Chosen Soon.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 10.—(Special.)—McCormick and his beautiful Scotch collie, Bronte, captivated the large audience this afternoon, as the "children's day" feature for the second day of the assembly. Over 2000 boys and girls ranging in age from babies in arms to "Dad" Burgess, Gladstone's 55-year-old kid, gathered in the main auditorium from every corner of Clackamas County and were royally entertained. "Bronte" is a beautiful Scotch collie with a logical understanding and is perhaps the most famous dog in the United States. She's not a circus dog in any way; neither does she cavort about like a "houn dog" at a National convention. Instead she gives a puzzling exhibition of animal mentality, and yesterday easily convinced the most skeptical that her work was entirely different from that of the ordinary trick dog. Mental suggestion is the real secret of the dog's wonderful work, according to her master, Mr. McCormick. The pair proved a great feature for Chautauquan; the man, an imitator of the speech of animals; the animal an imitator of the minds of men.

Judge Sadler, for five years judge of the Criminal Court in that hotbed of crime Chicago, told his own experiences in his lecture "Criminals in Making" at the evening's session. Personal and intimate relations with this great class of unfortunates furnished a thrilling evening for a large audience. Judge Sadler will give a heart-to-heart talk to boys at 11 A. M. tomorrow, occupying the forum hour, and will give his sequel lecture "The Criminal in the Saving" tomorrow afternoon.

Improvement for 1913 Considered "Chautauquan's Own Hour" occupied the 11 o'clock session this morning. The annual love feast of patrons, directors and stockholders was replete with optimism. They talked of the next year's work, in matters of park and other improvements, were outlined by the management. Most important was the plan for the publication of a Willamette Valley Chautauqua paper, to be issued quarterly and to be known as the "Chautauquan." The idea, as suggested by the "Father of Gladstone," was met with popular favor and at the conclusion of the meeting subscriptions poured in. Another idea, necessitated by the growing movement, was the plan for a year-round manager for the Gladstone triennial institution, and in all probability this officer will be chosen soon. Arrangements for the next year's annual stock will be completed soon as a result of today's enthusiastic forum hour.

Chautauquan's chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

GLADSTONE PARK'S AMUSEMENTS GROW

Scotch Collie With Capacity for Mental Suggestion Delights 2000 Spectators.

JUDGE SADLER MAKES HIT "Chautauquan," a Quarterly Paper, Will Be Published and an All-Year Manager Probably Will Be Chosen Soon.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 10.—(Special.)—McCormick and his beautiful Scotch collie, Bronte, captivated the large audience this afternoon, as the "children's day" feature for the second day of the assembly. Over 2000 boys and girls ranging in age from babies in arms to "Dad" Burgess, Gladstone's 55-year-old kid, gathered in the main auditorium from every corner of Clackamas County and were royally entertained. "Bronte" is a beautiful Scotch collie with a logical understanding and is perhaps the most famous dog in the United States. She's not a circus dog in any way; neither does she cavort about like a "houn dog" at a National convention. Instead she gives a puzzling exhibition of animal mentality, and yesterday easily convinced the most skeptical that her work was entirely different from that of the ordinary trick dog. Mental suggestion is the real secret of the dog's wonderful work, according to her master, Mr. McCormick. The pair proved a great feature for Chautauquan; the man, an imitator of the speech of animals; the animal an imitator of the minds of men.

Judge Sadler, for five years judge of the Criminal Court in that hotbed of crime Chicago, told his own experiences in his lecture "Criminals in Making" at the evening's session. Personal and intimate relations with this great class of unfortunates furnished a thrilling evening for a large audience. Judge Sadler will give a heart-to-heart talk to boys at 11 A. M. tomorrow, occupying the forum hour, and will give his sequel lecture "The Criminal in the Saving" tomorrow afternoon.

Improvement for 1913 Considered "Chautauquan's Own Hour" occupied the 11 o'clock session this morning. The annual love feast of patrons, directors and stockholders was replete with optimism. They talked of the next year's work, in matters of park and other improvements, were outlined by the management. Most important was the plan for the publication of a Willamette Valley Chautauqua paper, to be issued quarterly and to be known as the "Chautauquan." The idea, as suggested by the "Father of Gladstone," was met with popular favor and at the conclusion of the meeting subscriptions poured in. Another idea, necessitated by the growing movement, was the plan for a year-round manager for the Gladstone triennial institution, and in all probability this officer will be chosen soon. Arrangements for the next year's annual stock will be completed soon as a result of today's enthusiastic forum hour.

Chautauquan's chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

Chautauquan chorus with 50 voices, under the direction of Miss Thompson, began daily work on "In God We Trust" at 9 A. M. The chorus, of 50 voices, of all ages, of all nationalities, and of all professions, is a most interesting history of the great people's life, pointing him out as being long not only one age but all ages in his wonderful intuition, his delineation of character, and his human sympathy. According to Professor Basset, the great genius lives at a time when the world was breaking away from dogmatic fatalism, and brought out human sympathy for mankind, making the whole world love him.

PASCO CHAMBER ELECTS

Nine Trustees Named and Board Chooses Officers.

PASCO, Wash., July 10.—(Special.)—For