

TENER PROPHECIES TAFT'S RE-ELECTION

Pennsylvania Governor Says Roosevelt Should Fall in Line With Old Party.

COLONEL POORLY ADVISED

Keystone State Republicans Will Support Nominee of Regular Con- vention Declares Big Elk Who Is Visiting City.

Governor Tener, of Pennsylvania, a big Elk and a big man, is attending the grand lodge, and has with him a committee of his state to select a site for the Pennsylvania building at the San Francisco exposition. He presided the re-election of President Taft, and speaking of National political conditions said:

"We have general primaries in Pennsylvania, with opportunity on the part of the citizenship for the freest expression of opinion and choice. The Republican organization itself was favorable to the re-nomination of Mr. Taft, but Roosevelt delegates were chosen by the voters. There was no constraint exercised by the dominant political organization and the result was accepted in good faith and in good humor as the expression of the will of the Republican voters. If Mr. Roosevelt had been nominated at Chicago he would have received the hearty support of every man in Republican politics who had favored Mr. Taft at the primaries. Now that President Taft has been re-nominated by the Republican convention he will, I am confident, receive the support of the overwhelming majority of Republican voters and will carry the state by a splendid majority."

Third Party Talk Weak.

"What about a third party movement in your state?" was asked.

"There was some talk of that kind, in uncertain tones," replied the Governor, "but after the Chicago convention, but it never was strong or definite and even if put into effect, in the form of a new party, I do not believe that such a third party would gain any foothold among Republican voters. Why should it? Pennsylvania is loyal to Republican principles and to the Republican standard. They are not likely to desert their party, with its splendid record for good, without some deep reason, some overwhelming facts that appeal to their intellects. They are a strong, self-controlled body of people and will not be overcome by impulsive shared with all other states of the Union in the prosperity that has marked the whole Nation under Republican rule. There is always in something to correct in every party, just as there is something to correct in every family. That seems to go along with active progressive human nature. But the party in the past has managed to correct what needed correction, without going to smash or calling in outside help, and it will do so again. I do not think of a family that could not compose the differences that might arise among its members, but would insist on breaking up the whole because one or two members wanted to have his own way? The Republican kind in the United States is not that kind of a family, and events will prove this as the campaign goes on. Mr. Taft will grow in the esteem of the country the more his character and his record are examined. He is a splendid type of American manhood—sincere, just, sober-minded. He does not know how to play to the galleries, but he does know how to deal with fairness and justice among his fellow-citizens. He has not tried and will not try to set one American citizen against another, under any pretense that classes and masses exist in our country. He knows that there is no such thing as classes and masses in the United States, but that we all of us stand upon the common ground of American citizenship with fair and with equal opportunity for advancement in honor and wealth."

Chicago Convention Regular.

"The rich and distinguished men of our country today, the poor and struggling of yesterday, and the wealthy and honored of tomorrow will be chosen from among those men of brains and energy who are fighting for their chance today."

"The Chicago convention was the property and legally organized representative assembly of the Republican party, conducted according to the established rules of the Republican party. In all these respects, it was precisely similar to the convention which nominated Colonel Roosevelt. If Colonel Roosevelt had been nominated by this convention, he would have received my hearty support, as I did when he was put in nomination by a similar convention, governed by similar rules."

"It is surprising that the heavy burden of the party which has so signally honored him in the past, and this in spite of the fact that it is impossible to show in what manner this constituted Republican desert him in any injustice. He made a strong fight and was fairly defeated for the nomination. The Colonel has been badly advised. Whatever he personally may finally decide to do, I am confident that those Republicans who freely expressed their preference for him as a candidate will refuse to desert his party. The fact that most of the men in public life who were among Colonel Roosevelt's most distinguished supporters at Chicago have absolutely refused to consider any question at a third party gives us assurance of what the rank and file of Republican voters will do when this matter presents itself to their minds on election day. I have faith in the sober sense of the American people and I have no doubt of the re-election of President Taft."

COUNCIL ELECTS BAKER

Maguire Refuses to Make Choice of President Unanimous.

"I object to having my vote counted for Mr. Baker," was the statement of Councilman Maguire at the meeting of the City Council yesterday morning, when the vote was taken for president of the Council. George L. Baker received 10 votes, Ralph C. Clyde four and William Schmeer one. Both Councilmen Clyde and Schmeer asked that the vote be made unanimous, at which Councilman Maguire made objection.

"I am glad to know where Mr. Maguire stands," commented Mr. Baker. He then made a short speech, in which he thanked the members of the Council, and promised to give them impartial treatment.

Redfern Corsets---They're Boned With Whalon

THERE'S a sense of satisfaction for the woman who knows the Corset she wears is boned with Whalon. Then it means for you a degree of flexibility, a relaxed appearance of the figure, a degree of comfort seldom enjoyed in a Corset that is at the same time figure-building. All styles, priced from $3 to $10.

AT $8—The superb model as illustrated. No. 9898, for full, tall figures, is unequalled, with its full hip and bust measurements. Beautifully made of silk brocade and fine batiste. Attached are six horse supports.

AT $6.50—Model No. 7070, for medium, tall and average figures. A popular style with unusually graceful lines, giving slightly defined waist and long, natural curves. Long skirt and medium long bust. Of plain batiste. Eight supporters attached.

AT $3—Number 5353, a splendid Redfern for slender and medium figures. Ideal for Summer, since it is of lightweight batiste, and lightly boned. Splendid, too, for wear when at golf, tennis and horseback riding.
