

FAIRCHILD CHOSEN TO LEAD TEACHERS

Brooklyn Woman Beaten After Bitter Fight Before Education Association.

DAY IS WON BY STRATEGY

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young Declared to Have Favored Cause of Western Man—Alderman, of Oregon, One Vice-President.

CHICAGO, July 10.—E. T. Fairchild, of Topeka, Kan., was elected president of the National Education Association today.

Mr. Fairchild's election was attended by what the members said was the bitterest contest in the history of the association. Supporters of Miss Strachan, of New York, charged that the election was controlled by the Chicago teachers "through secret caucuses and influences of trickery."

The supporters of Fairchild won the day in the nominating committee. The vote in the committee stood: E. T. Fairchild, 35; Miss Grace Strachan, 7; Stratton D. Brooks, president of the University of Oklahoma, 4. The supporters of Miss Strachan blamed Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, who, they said, was in favor of the Western man as against the Eastern.

East Renews Fight on Floor. When the report was presented to the association, Miss Strachan's name was presented by Eastern members as a substitute for the nominating committee's report.

Mathilde Coffin Ford, educational expert in the department of finance of New York City, charged that Mr. Fairchild's name was selected by a caucus held behind closed doors, from which the Eastern delegates had been excluded. Cries for Miss Strachan brought her to the platform to explain her position. She deprecated the idea that the members should be divided into so-called "progressives" and the "old guard," saying all teachers were progressive.

Thomas Bicknell, Providence, R. I., then argued the motion to elect Fairchild, declaring he represented the progressive element.

Miss Strachan Beaten. A vote to elect Miss Strachan as a substitute was lost. The vote to elect Fairchild then carried.

Other officers also elected were: Treasurer, Grace M. Shepard, of Idaho; vice-presidents, Carroll G. Pearce, of Wisconsin; Guy Potter Benton, of Vermont; Miss Mary Stromberg, of California; W. T. Barbee, of West Virginia; B. W. Torreyson, of Arkansas; Mrs. Helen M. Wilson, of Colorado; W. R. Alderman, of Oregon; Agnew E. Howe, of California; Ada Van Stone Harris, of Virginia; Amelia C. Fruchte, of Missouri; and Cornelia Hulse, of Michigan. Directors from the states also were elected.

Woman Suffrage Indorsed. The association adopted resolutions favoring:

- Woman suffrage, "because women teachers realize the responsibility of training youth for citizenship."
- Promotion of international peace.
- Investigation of teachers' salaries throughout the country with reference to the high cost of living.
- Uniform Federal law for marriage and divorce.
- Promotion of plans for a National university.
- Extension by Congress of plans for training in agriculture, domestic economy and other industrial work.
- Greater attention in public schools to the health of pupils.
- Extension by Congress of the work of the National Bureau of Education, so as "to embody a group of competent men and women to study thoroughly the problem of rural education, city school administration, vocational education, hygiene and higher education, including the training of teachers."
- That school playgrounds provide at least one square rod for each pupil.

SHERIFF BOWN IS INJURED

Lane County Official in Critical Condition.

EUGENE, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—Harry L. Bown, for four years Sheriff of Lane County, was probably fatally injured when he was thrown from R. C. Keeney's automobile, four miles north of Corvallis today.

Deputy Sheriff Parker, who took Mrs. Bown and sons to Corvallis as soon as news was received, returned here with the word that the Sheriff's condition is critical. He sustained a fracture at the base of the skull and may have internal injuries.

The car at the time was running slow, to pass some new road, when a pin in the steering mechanism broke, allowing one wheel to turn, break off and then turn the car against the embankment. The sudden stop threw Mr. Bown out into the roadway onto his back. Joe Delaney and a boy named Morrison, also in the car, were thrown out, but not injured. The Sheriff was taken to the Corvallis Hospital at once, and late in the afternoon there appeared to be slight improvement.

Sheriff Bown, a Democrat, has been twice elected in a strongly Republican county, and is exceedingly popular. He is a man of strong vitality, which gives him his only chance. Deputy Parker declares there can be no blame attached to anyone for the accident. Bown was one of a party going from Eugene to the Elks' convention.

30 IN SALOON ROBBED

Holdup Man Captured by Policeman After Exchange of Shots.

CHICAGO, July 10.—George Rodgers, 23 years old, alias George Cook, was taken by the police to a convict, attempted a daring holdup in a South State street saloon early today, when he compelled 30 men drinking at the bar to throw up their hands at the muzzle of a revolver. He then called them before him, one by one, and commanded them to give up their valuables.

Patrolman Look arrested the holdup man after an exciting struggle, in the course of which he was the target for several bullets fired by Rodgers.

Bay City Election Authorized.

TILLAMOOK, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—The County Court has ordered a special election on the petition to enlarge the Port of Bay City, which adds about $4,000,000 of assessable property to that port, which was formerly in the Port of Tillamook. The special election is to take place August 31.

visitors from the "home town" and elsewhere.

Seattle Wants Grand Lodge.

From their headquarters in the Multnomah Hotel, the Seattle delegation is making an aggressive campaign for the grand lodge in 1915. Incidentally, refreshments are dispensed to all visitors and a protracted stay is not necessary if one would acquire the "Seattle Spirit."

In charge are William Hickman Moore, ex-Mayor, T. J. Ivers, exalted ruler, Dr. Arthur Burns, Ernest Herald, Roy Hodson and Frank Ryer.

Albany, the second largest herd in the state, has its headquarters in the Woodmen of the World Hall on Eleventh street, in charge of Fred Dawson. Of the 700 members of this lodge 450 have signed up for uniforms and expect to participate in today's parade.

Idaho Praises Entertainment.

Dr. T. A. Mackintosh, chairman of the Idaho delegation, which occupies parlors G and H, at the Portland, is effusive in his praises of the entertainment provided by Portland. He has called a meeting of the Idaho delegates at the headquarters in the Portland at 8:30 o'clock this morning so as to be in readiness for the parade.

Although the smallest lodge in the order in point of numbers, the Heppner delegation lacks nothing in enthusiasm. They have headquarters at the Perkins, where every visitor meets with a cordial welcome by the entertainment committee, which consists of Thomas Brennan, Will Spencer, H. A. Duncan, Andy Bond and T. J. Mahoney.

This lodge will have a float in today's parade. Both the float and the costumes of the members of the lodge will be suggestive of the sheepgrowing industry for which Eastern Oregon is famed.

One of the liveliest groups of entertainers is the delegation from Salem, which has headquarters at the Imperial. Aside from his interest in the order, every member there can talk against time in telling of the beauties of the capital city and the prolific cherry crop produced in that section of the Willamette Valley. They also are boosting their annual Cherry Fair, which will be held in Salem Friday and Saturday. Liquid refreshments are served under the direction of a committee consisting of M. L. Meyers, Dr. W. C. Smith, A. G. Magers, Arthur Moore and Alex Cornoyer. The Salem Lodge expects to have at least 200 uniformed members in today's parade.

Dr. George Wall, past exalted ruler, and M. J. Durvea, publicity manager of the Eugene Commercial Club, are in charge of the Eugene Elks' headquarters in the Imperial Hotel. In addition to souvenirs of the university city, which are given each visitor, several pictures of the university buildings and prominent business blocks, giving an idea of the solidarity of the city, are used for decorating the walls. Mineral specimens from the Bohemia mining district are also exhibited and punch is served.

Tacoma Entertains Hundreds. The Tacoma delegation has its headquarters in two of the large parlors on the main floor of the Portland Hotel, where several hundred visitors are entertained daily. George J. McCarthy and a corps of live Tacoma boosters are in charge, and delicious punch, abundant as the ice water shed from Mount Tacoma—not Rainier, if you please—is served. Among the Tacoma women who assist in the entertainment are Mrs. McCarthy, Mrs. W. D. Read, Mrs. L. C. Cover, Mrs. Clarence Parker, Mrs. D. N. Allstrum and Mrs. D. J. Williams.

A large representation from the Tacoma Lodge will participate in the parade this morning, hopeful of winning a prize. Their costumes will consist of silk hats, black Prince Alberts with gray-striped trousers. Each man will carry a cane and the colors of the order. The lodge also will enter the float that received the first prize in the recent Montanara Feste at Tacoma.

W. L. Alfred, one of the Tacoma delegation already in Portland, and party came by auto, making the trip in eight hours, which he regards a record, in view of the muddy condition of the roads.

Lemonade Is Served.—

Mayor J. S. Fish, Claud Knight and Dr. B. E. Olinger are in charge of the headquarters of the Dalles Lodge at the Imperial Hotel. With true Elk hospitality they make the visitor feel entirely at home. As at other headquarters, they serve refreshments, and if you insist they will mix a lemonade.

The Pendleton Lodge also is largely represented at headquarters in the Imperial. Their ranks will be increased with the arrival at 5 o'clock this morning of a special train of 12 Pullmans that will bring 350 persons. A special freight arrived yesterday with 280 head of horses that will be used by the delegation in the parade this morning. The headquarters is in charge of a committee consisting of Judge Thomas Fitzgerald, P. C. Sperry, R. W. Rittner, Carl Cooley and F. W. Lemplin. One of the rooms is elaborately decorated with the collection of Indian curios owned by Major Lee Moorhouse, of Pendleton, and contributed for the use of the delegation.

JONES PLEADS FOR SENATOR LORIMER

Washington Member Says He Changed Mind Because He Heard Witnesses.

CLAMOR IS DEPRECATED

Perjury on Both Sides Admitted and Mr. Jones Is Inclined to Think Lee O'Neil Browne Handled Whisky Fund.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—When the Senate took up the Lorimer case today it was indicated that a vote would be reached tomorrow. Senator Johnson, the first speaker, condemned as "un-Christian and un-American" Colonel Roosevelt's course in declining to sit with Senator Lorimer at the Hamilton Club's dinner at Chicago.

Senator Jones, of Washington, who opposed Lorimer at the first trial, but who supports him now, said he had changed his conviction because he had personally heard the witnesses against Lorimer. He complained of public clamor in the case and charged it was having too much influence in determining the votes of Senators.

This statement aroused William Alden Smith, of Michigan, who confessed to irritation as to what he characterized as covert and insinuating intimations in the press in support of Mr. Lorimer that those in opposition are lacking honesty and courage and subject to influence by public clamor.

Public Sentiment Affected. Senator Jones denied any intention of criticizing the attitude of others, but asserted there had been too much effort to control public sentiment in opposition to Lorimer. He admitted there also had been perjury on both sides.

The two Senators discussed the evidence at some length, and Mr. Smith finally referred to the recent lawsuit brought in Chicago by John Henning against Clarence Funk, general manager of the International Harvester Company, in which Henning charged Funk with alienation of his wife's affections.

Henning lost his case and his wife is said to have confessed that the charge was a conspiracy to injure Funk for his testimony against Lorimer. Senator Smith said he thought the suit had been brought to affect the Lorimer case.

Jones Suspects Whisky Interests. References to perjury brought out a vigorous statement from Senator Jones. He expressed the opinion that the money distributed by Lee O'Neil Browne had been contributed by "whisky interests."

"There is no positive evidence, but from the record it is the most probable theory as to where the money came from," he said.

"I don't think so," replied Mr. Jones. "It was a legislative fund and there is nothing in the record to indicate that the money was used for any other purpose."

MAYOR AND WOMAN CLASH

Salem Suffragist Takes Issue on "Votes-for-Women" Flag.

SALEM, Or., July 10.—(Special.)—Mrs. Olive England Enright, one of the leading exponents of woman's suffrage here, and Mayor Lachmund clashed today over the question of raising a banner carrying "Votes for Women" on it to float during the Salem Cherry Fair.

Mayor Lachmund was insistent that the banner should not be raised, while Mrs. Enright was just as insistent that it should fly for the benefit of the Cherry Fair crowds here.

Mrs. Enright declared to the Mayor that in event he did not allow the banner to fly for the women, she would insist on a welcome sign to the Elks, which is flying across the street from the Elks' clubhouse, should come down.

Mayor Lachmund left for Portland before the battle between the two had waged itself out and it is probable that Mrs. Enright will put up the sign, and as the Mayor will be in Portland there will be no one to interfere with it, so the victory seems tactically to lay with the suffragists.

ELKS TREAT PUBLIC

Orange Belt Products Distributed to All Corners.

HEADQUARTERS ARE OPEN

Oranges, Lemons, Walnuts and Wine Shipped Here With Descriptive Literature to Advertise Resources of Rich District.

Sometimes, when a sign appears outside the door of a shop "Nothing to Sell," people immediately begin to grow suspicious. There was nothing of that sort in connection with the sign hung up at the entrance of the shop on Fifth street hired for the week by the delegates from the California orange belt.

The stream of people, steady all the day long, entering the shop empty-handed and coming out with pockets bulging and mouths munching some delicacy or other, grown in the paradise down south, why, that was sufficient to tell the world at large that here was no fake sale or advertisement. It was merely a body of generous-hearted men, who were proud of their state and who wanted everybody else to taste the good things which it was their good fortune to enjoy at home.

Enormous yellow oranges, luscious, juicy and sweet and fresh from the trees were there in carloads, one and more for everybody who could take the trouble to walk into the shop. Lemons that looked like pumpkins and sour enough to appeal to an Olympic games competitor at the end of a tiring race, walnuts by the ton and wine by the wagon load, all were there and all were free for the asking. Rather, one should say, that as far as could be seen, no one got a chance to ask.

The minute anyone was inside the store, or even on the threshold he was seized by an Orange Belter. Even when one had had enough, it was not sufficient for the hosts. No. Each and every guest had to go out laden with the fruit of the south. And then they had the audacity to remark, "Now, don't forget us." As if it were possible, one got a chance to ask.

There were 250 Californians with their wives and their daughters, their sisters and their sweethearts, all as delicious as the fruit they came from. Pasadena, from Riverside and from Whittier, Santa Ana and Pomona, Redmond and San Bernardino and all they ask is, "Come and see us when you're down our way."
