FAMOUS OREGON SETS SAIL

Officers of California Naval Militia Entertain Visitors on Man-'o-War Which Took Part in Spanish

It apparently made little difference to hundreds of strangers in the city that the battleship Oregon departed about 8 o'clock yesterday morning for Astoria and to proceed to Seattle tomorrow, for in her stead was the Callfornia Naval Militia cruiser Marblehead, a vessel that also took part in the campaign along the Cuban coast in 1898 and was at the opening of the Riel Canal on behalf of the United BOYD DENIES FRAME-UP

Captain Bauer and brother officers Captain Bauer and brother officers of the California organization permitted a free inspection of the ship, and in spite of the fact the Elks' parade was in motion until 3 o'clock and afterward visitors largely headed for cafes and restaurants, there was a crowd at the foot of Stark street and other launch landings that kept the mosquito fleet busy.

Lieutenant Barthalow, U. S. N., assigned aboard as inspector, and who is particularly keen on ordnance and gunnery, had a crew busy all of yesterday nery, had a crew busy all of yesterday constructing a floating target that will be towed by the Marblehead to Port Angeles. Every shell aboard the ship has been tried in the guns to forestall any mishap in the way of jamming and there have been blank shells fired at sea on the way from San Fran-cisco to break in new men and get rid of "gun shyness," so if there are not some records made for Naval Militia practice the officers will be disappoint-

With Pilot Archie Pease on the bridge, the battleship Oregon made a good run down the river yesterday. The steamer Ocklahoma, of the Port of Portiand fleet, assisted in turning the Oregon about so her nose was headed down stream. She accompanied the big vessel down the Willamette, so she could be on hand in the event the Oregon displayed more of her cranky curves and headed for the beach. The trig Oneonta, which was ordered to Astoria to resume service, also steamed in company with the battleship. The Oregon will be at Astoria today and sail tomorrow for the North, as she is due at Seattle Sunday.

Naval Militiamen Will Compete for State Rifle Trophy.

To assist men of the Oregon Naval Militia in small arm proficiency, the Navy Department has forwarded 50 of the new model Springfield rifles and 20,000 rounds of ammunition. Beginning Sunday the men of the Boston will inaugurate target practice on the Clackamas range, which is used by the National Guard, and they feel that they will get a place in competition for the state shoot, and they feel that they will get a place in competition for the state trophy. Men have been enlisted who formerly served in the National Guard, and besides being familiar with the Springfield arm have qualified as markamen, while there are ex-service men in the organization who are being counted on to make a showing. The Oregon men expect to take up sub-caliber practice in the Fall, and Completion.

Frank Waterhouse, of the Waterhouse line, which will cease operating to Portland from Oriental ports after September I. unless an arrangement is made with the Harriman interests, has reached the city from Seattle for another conference with the O.-W. R. & N. officials at which he hopes to settle the matter.

Oliver J. Olson, of the widely-known steamship firm of Olson & Mahony, is due in Portland Monday, en route East on business.

Inspector Beck, of the 17th Lighthouse District, has been informed that black buoy No. 3, established at Desdemona Sands, went adrift Tuesday.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Trading in stocks today was characterized by declines and rallies, with hesitation at the end. Business was light except in the first hour, when prospects of money stringency—call loans later went to 3½ per cent—induced some flquidation.

Sentiment largely was bearish, based in part on monetary uncertainty and the apparent lack of buying power. There also is a general helief that the so-called big speculative interests have abandoned the market until political conditions become defined.

And from weakness in coppers, foreign news was encouraging, although anxiety is felt at the heavy liquidation in Pars. There are intimations that the selling is related to tension in the European political situation, which is intensified by the efforts of Italy and Turkey to make new war loans in France.

Big Three" fleet away from Ainsworth dock sailing day, but such was the case yesterday when the steamer Bear was assisted by the steamer Diamond 0, as Captain Nopander did not wish to swing into the stream with the cruiser Marblehead lying so close to the Broadway bridge piers and the west channel through the piers being closed with piling, as the steel work is to be hurried there. The Bear lost 15 minutes in sailing.

The steamer Rose City did not arrive until late last night, having been detained in the south through going to the assistance of the steamer City of Panama. She will not be numbered with the vessels used for Elk excursions today, but will no doubt carry many of the delegates to California on her return next week.

Author Read Composition.

ALBANY. Or., July 11.—(Special.)—
While Fred Emerson Brooks, the California poet and humorist, who gave the programme at the Albany Chautauqua Tuesday night, was reading his poem on Pickett's charge at Gettysburg, one man who participated in this famous charge was in the audience. He was F. S. Doughton, who resides on a farm north of Lebanon. He is attending the Chautauqua while visiting his children, Mrs. R. K. Ohling and I. M. Doughton, of this city.
