

The Oregonian

Entered at Portland, Oregon, Postoffice as Second-Class Matter. Subscription Price—In Advance (BY MAIL) Daily, Sunday included, one year, $4.00...

Portland, Thursday, July 11, 1912. The early days of a beautiful Spring saw Oregon in the midst of a stirring primary campaign.

But where, oh, where are the Roosevelt Democratic newspapers now? Where are the papers that disinterestedly...

THE VOICE OF LAFFERTY. Mr. Lafferty, describing Mr. Roosevelt as the greatest man since Gladstone...

BERNARD SHAW IN PARIS. The multitudinous admirers of Bernard Shaw will be gratified to learn that he has achieved something of a dramatic triumph in Paris.

INSANITY AND CRIME. If the present trial of Thaw's sanity should be decided against him, there is nothing to hinder his obtaining another and after that another.

FROM ELECTRIC LIGHT TO CANDLES. How easily a failure of any modern convenience throws our affairs and habits out of adjustment!

Such incidents as that at Baker recall to mind how much more rapidly the world moves by means of modern invention. A volume of business is now done in a day which formerly would have occupied many days.

as the Republican ticket, but with a declared purpose to vote for Roosevelt, if he should be elected. His adherents who are running for Senator, Representative or State officers will retain the advantage of being the regular Republican candidates...

There is no greater expenditure of energy for modern facilities have enabled us to accomplish infinitely more with the same amount of effort. This fact is largely due to the more rapid accumulation of wealth and the huge size to which individual fortunes have grown.

On another page of The Oregonian today will be found an article relating to Independence, Polk County, Or., and the country thereabouts, and there is one subject dealt with that seems of importance sufficient to have special attention called to it.

THE PARADE OF THE ELKS. Many a year will elapse before Portland will see the like of the parade of the Elks. Other cities may have seen it, but Portland has not.

THE SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN (IND.) quotes a Boston speaker, Arthur D. Hill, at a Roosevelt meeting as saying: Apart from the merits of the particular controversy (of the contested delegates)...

There is the whole case, well put and truthfully. In line with the plank in the Republican platform favoring the establishment of agricultural credit associations...

There seems to be an inevitable connection between the safety of the public and the safety of the individual. A living is so easy to make near the tropics that perhaps brute force alone will make the natives work.

comes upon every man when he loses his temper or bears a grudge. These are the same processes of lawlessness by which any person who shows a disposition to make himself dangerous can be shut up and kept confined until his character changes for the better.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

WHY TURN TO NEW EXPERIMENTS. Panacea Providers in Government Scored as Mountebanks. PORTLAND, July 4.—(To the Editor) On this, the fifth birthday of our American Republic, it seems fitting that we should stop for at least a moment and review the past, consider the future, and learn, if possible, whether we are drifting politically.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

EFFECT OF BALLOT ON WOMAN. Equal Suffragist Discusses Present Day Coddling of Her Sex. ANTELOPE, Or., July 3.—(To the Editor) There is one phase of the suffrage question that has not been commented on freely. That is its effect on woman herself. The paramount question of the issue is not, it seems to me, what women will do with the ballot, but what the ballot will do for women.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

There are just as many better off than our fathers as the electric light is better than the candle, the telegraph and telephone than the messenger afoot, the steam and electric car and the automobile than the stagecoach.

Half a Century Ago. From The Oregonian of July 12, 1862. New York, July 3.—The Herald has detailed reports of the battle of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from which it appears that the right wing of our Army, consisting 20,000 men, was attacked on Friday by a rebel force of not less than 50,000 men and after a severe fight our troops crossed the Chickahominy in good order.

Washington, July 4.—The President has decided to call into service an additional force of 300,000 men. Chicago, July 2.—Letters from Fort Benton, 8th of June, say the expedition under Lieutenant Mullan reached there that day from Oregon, having been engaged four years in opening an immigration and military road from the Columbia River to the Missouri.

Smallpox—There are several cases of this loathsome disease within our city limits at this time, and our city officials are taking prompt and effective measures to strictly comply with the law.

HUMAN SOUL IS ETERNAL. A Belief That It Has Purposely Been Denied. CORVALLIS, Or., July 9.—(To the Editor) It is refreshing to read in The Oregonian of last Monday such sound and trenchant condemnation of spurious generation as opposed to "youth."

MRS. E. R. SPICER. NEW SHIP. I see not the waters that gently lie. Nor flag that peacefully meets the breeze.

Asiatic Flora and Fauna. London Tit Bits. A Norwegian expedition headed by Erian Ulsen, a scholar of Christiania University, intends starting soon to study the flora and fauna and the nature inhabiting Northern and Middle Asia.

SUNDAY FEATURES. Pictures of the Herd—Whole pages of live photos that tell of the greatest of grand lodge conventions in Portland during the past week. Apron-String Secrets of Edward VII.—In the biography of the late King, just issued, it is revealed that he was the victim of a "sheltered life."

Washington, July 4.—The President has decided to call into service an additional force of 300,000 men. Chicago, July 2.—Letters from Fort Benton, 8th of June, say the expedition under Lieutenant Mullan reached there that day from Oregon, having been engaged four years in opening an immigration and military road from the Columbia River to the Missouri.

Smallpox—There are several cases of this loathsome disease within our city limits at this time, and our city officials are taking prompt and effective measures to strictly comply with the law.

HUMAN SOUL IS ETERNAL. A Belief That It Has Purposely Been Denied. CORVALLIS, Or., July 9.—(To the Editor) It is refreshing to read in The Oregonian of last Monday such sound and trenchant condemnation of spurious generation as opposed to "youth."

MRS. E. R. SPICER. NEW SHIP. I see not the waters that gently lie. Nor flag that peacefully meets the breeze.

Asiatic Flora and Fauna. London Tit Bits. A Norwegian expedition headed by Erian Ulsen, a scholar of Christiania University, intends starting soon to study the flora and fauna and the nature inhabiting Northern and Middle Asia.

SUNDAY FEATURES. Pictures of the Herd—Whole pages of live photos that tell of the greatest of grand lodge conventions in Portland during the past week. Apron-String Secrets of Edward VII.—In the biography of the late King, just issued, it is revealed that he was the victim of a "sheltered life."

Order Today from Your Newsdealer. The Oregonian is published every day except Sunday and holidays. It is published at the Oregonian Building, 1000 Broadway, Portland, Oregon.