

BORAH'S OPPONENT HAS MIND CHANGED

Tannahill, After Deciding Not to Run for Senator, Swings About.

ELKS' CONVENTION CAUSE

When Democratic Aspirant Reaches Portland He Meets Idaho Friends Who Insist That He Should Stay in Race for Toga.

BOISE, Idaho, July 12.—(Special.)—Having filed an acceptance to his nomination as a candidate for United States Senator on the Democratic ticket, George W. Tannahill, of Lewiston, made a sworn statement withdrawing from the ticket, and now he follows with a request to withdraw his withdrawal, reaffirms his acceptance and asks to have his name properly certified to by Secretary of State...

Attorney-General McDougall, who has been asked for advice by the Secretary of State, has advised that the Secretary of State will rule that the Secretary of State will have to reach his own decision about what provisions of the statute governing Tannahill's action.

The sudden and surprising change of heart of Tannahill was experienced in Portland this week while Mr. Tannahill was enjoying the festivities of the "Best People on Earth"—the Elks.

A letter received today from him explaining that on his arrival in Portland he conferred with many prominent men who insisted upon his remaining in the race, and he had yielded to the pressure.

Many Democrats declare that a principle had been established through the withdrawal of Tannahill, in that they stood for an expression by the people, and believed the party's candidate for United States Senator should be the one who received the largest number of votes at the primaries.

They are opposed to the programme of the Hawley people, who control the party, and who are endeavoring to place a plank advocating this principle for no other reason, declare many party leaders, than to prevent Tannahill from securing the party's nomination, thereby leaving the Senatorial gate wide open for Governor Hawley, so that he could become a candidate for re-election for Governor, and if successful, also be the successful aspirant for United States Senator.

Questions Are Important. The questions that confront the legal department of the state with reference to Tannahill's present decision to remain in the race are many. Can a candidate who has been properly nominated and filed an acceptance within the time prescribed in a suit to compel him to go to withdrawal and ten days later wishes still to remain in the race, can he have his withdrawal nullified? Is he entitled to reconsideration? Shall the Secretary of State, in face of the facts, consider only that the candidate has been legally nominated and legally accepted, and after purchasing supplies, he withdraws and decides to remain a candidate, consider he is still a candidate? The Attorney-General believes there is reason to all the contentions.

Unless Secretary Gifford certifies Mr. Tannahill's name as a candidate for United States Senator, he probably will be made the defendant in an action before the Supreme Court on an application for a writ of mandate to compel him to act. If he does he may be made the defendant in a suit to compel him to keep Tannahill's name off the ticket, on the grounds he had abandoned all right to have it placed there. The question is looked upon as one of the most interesting and complicated that has come up under the primary law since its adoption in this state.

EXPLOSION WRECKS AUTO

Four Cylinder Demonstrating Car, Valued at $3000, Blows Up.

ELLENBURG, Wash., July 12.—Exploding with roar that could be heard for miles around and scattering flaming gasoline over the road, a four-cylinder roadster, driven by E. Schneider, of North Yakima, was completely destroyed Wednesday night in the Umtanum Canyon.

Schneider, who is the North Yakima agent for the Hudson car, was returning to North Yakima from Seattle, having shipped the car to Eaton at the summit. He arrived in Ellensburg yesterday, and after purchasing supplies, started on the trip to the lower valley. While passing up the Umtanum, the car suddenly exploded, and in less than 15 minutes was a charred ruin.

Local automobilists who saw the machine yesterday say that it was an unusually fine car. It was valued at $3000 and was used for demonstrating purposes. Schneider walked back to Ellensburg and took the train for the lower valley.

prano, late of the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York, and of Covent Garden, London, and known throughout the world as "The Swedish Nightingale," was the leading entertainer at the Albany Chautauqua today.

Dr. William House, of Portland, was the speaker at the forum hour this morning and gave an interesting address on "Social Hygiene." The Summer Bible School, in charge of Rev. W. E. Hinson, D. D., pastor of the White Temple of Portland, was attended by a large number this morning, and each of the classes of the Chautauqua Summer School attracted many people.

Tomorrow will be the last big day of the Chautauqua. The assembly closes July 14 and the last day being Sunday.

EDITOR OF NATIONAL ELKS' HORN ISSUES SOUVENIR OF CONVENTION.

Norman M. Vaughn, editor of the publication and the creator of the special edition, has been in attendance at the convention from start to finish, and has added much to the pleasure and enjoyment of many Elks. He is a typical Elks himself, a typical newspaper man, and one of the best of a whole city full of "good fellows," which is evidenced by the fact that his souvenir edition was issued without thought or intention of profit.

Valuable publicity was given, not only to the Elks' National convention now drawing to a close, but to the City of Portland and to the entire Northwest, by the recent souvenir edition of the National Elks' Horn of St. Louis, 100,000 copies of which were circulated among the Elks attending the festivities here this week.

There will be no classes or other programmes except lectures in the afternoon and evening.

MOTHER SUES FOR BABE

SPOKANE WOMAN ASKS COURT TO GIVE HER AID.

Habeas Corpus Writ Sought as Means to Gain Possession of Child Left at Orphanage.

SPOKANE, Wash., July 12.—(Special.)—Charging that William Rosebrook will not give up her 24-year-old child, Beatrice Lenz, Mrs. Emma Lenz today applied for a writ of habeas corpus for the girl, who has been in the possession of Rosebrook for nearly two years.

In the application for the writ Mrs. Lenz alleged that she left the infant July 25, 1909, at the orphanage maintained by Mrs. L. M. Day for care. The next day, July 26, she alleges the child was given to Rosebrook.

Mrs. Lenz alleges that she has attempted to regain the custody of the girl, but that the Rosebrooks refuse to give her up unless the mother pays them $27.50, which they say is due for the care of Beatrice at the rate of $15 a month.

The writ was issued by Judge E. H. Sullivan and was made returnable July 13, at which time the issues will be tried out.

VEHICLE TAX IS FOUGHT

Astoria Draymen Say City License Is Unjust and Discriminates.

ASTORIA, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—A suit was filed in the Circuit Court today by several vehicle transfer men and others operating trucks, express wagons and automobiles for delivering goods, to restrain the city from collecting a license tax on any auto or other vehicle owned by either of the plaintiffs.

The grounds on which the complaint is based is the allegation that the license ordinance is unjust in that auto no matter of what size or weight, are charged the same license and that no license is collected on autos owned by physicians or on vehicles used by persons, firms or corporations in connection with their private business.

Falls City to Get Big Plant. FALLS CITY, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—There are good prospects for the establishment of a vitrified brick factory here, to use the shale rock found in abundance in the hills. An option has been taken on 40 acres by a Washington concern, and it is planned to begin operations in a month or two. If the plans mature, two or three hundred men will be employed.

Oregon Electric Traffic Tied Up. SALEM, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—Traffic on the Oregon Electric was delayed several hours tonight because of a derailment 14 miles south of here on the new Albany extension. According to the report received at the local offices two cars of a work train went off the track.

QUEEN AND KING REIGN AT SALEM

Mayor Lachmund Gracefully Abdicates to Rulers of Cherryland.

PARADE IS BIG SUCCESS

Polk County Man Wins Grand Prize for Second Time, Taking Trophy Which May Become His Permanent Property Next Year.

SALEM, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—Good Queen Anne and Jolly King Bing came into their own today, when in the midst of regal splendor they were crowned as queen and king of the cherry kingdom.

As the main feature in a long parade, which exemplified the industrial greatness of the kingdom in which they reigned until Saturday night, they were greeted by applause from the thousands along the line of march.

At Marion Square, where the parade disbanded, they were greeted by Judge D'Arcy, master of ceremonies, and Mayor Lachmund, who gracefully abdicated as head of the city in favor of the beautiful queen and the jovial king, and the reign of the latest royal couple is on in Cherryland.

The parade was a decided success. In numerous floats which covered many blocks were shown what is being done in the "Made-in-Oregon" way. One of the features was a collection of several floats from the Chemawa Indian School. There were also a detachment of Chemawa Indian cadets. Products of the fields and farm were in the first float, followed by a float showing the work which is being done by the Indian boys at the school.

The parade started late, but was witnessed by large crowds all along the line of march. Governor West did not reach Salem today, and as a result probably will march at the head of the parade tomorrow, although according to the programme, he was scheduled to be at the head of the parade today.

Large Crowds Arrive. Large crowds of people came into Salem today from Portland and other points along the Oregon Electric. S. P. Kimball, of Polk County, won the grand prize in the cherry awards. This is the second time that he has captured the magnificent cup, and if he wins a third time the cup becomes his permanent property.

K. B. Kugel, of Polk County, took the second grand prize and C. A. Clarke, of Polk County, third. The grand prize was for 30 or more boxes of cherries.

In fact, with but a very few exceptions, Polk County took away all of the cherry prizes this year. Following are the other awards made today by V. R. Gardner, of Oregon Agricultural College, who acted as judge:

Commercial pack, class 1, not less than 20 boxes—First, Salem Fruit Union; second, A. Vercler, Polk County; third, E. J. Ferguson, Polk County; fourth, Eos Freshfruit, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 2, not less than 10 boxes—First, C. W. Crawford, Polk County; second, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; third, A. Vercler, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 3, not less than 5 boxes—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 4, best seedling of merit—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 5, best seedling of merit—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 6, best seedling of merit—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

lodge was awarded second prize and the Rebekahs third.

Tonight at the Armory the Rev. Albert Ehrhott, of Portland, and ex-Mayor Rodgers, of Salem, spoke on various phases of Oregon's industrial work. Mayor Lachmund made the opening address.

CAPTAIN HIRSH IS HAPPY

Dedication of New Cottage at Bayocean Causes Merriment.

BAYOCEAN, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—The dedication of the new cottage recently completed here by Captain Hirsch, of the United States Navy, one evening last week, caused a good deal of merriment among the guests here.

The crew from the Bayocean was piped to quarters early in the evening and the "doctor" was soon busy providing "food" for the guests. The forecastle deck, proved an attractive place, being utilized for the purpose of serving the guests.

Everything about the "house warming" was done in true nautical style, and the snug craft erected by the Captain for his comfort when ashore will be put into commission immediately upon the completion of the new cottage. He is accustomed to refer to as "his executive office."

IRRIGATION WORK IS DONE

Two Big Systems in Hood River Valley Now Complete.

HOOD RIVER, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—The first of this week marked the completion of two big systems of irrigation in the Hood River Valley.

One, the district of Hood River, owned by the company, furnishes water to the orchards and strawberry patches of the West Side in a community comprising 5000 acres of the apple valley, and the other will water a fertile area of 2000 acres west of Dea, between the West Fork of the Hood River and the stream proper. Three miles of the detour was cut through the soil to reach a point where water is drawn out of Green Point Creek, and according to Engineer C. M. Hurlburt, conducted by the most expensive irrigating work ever done in the valley.

The section west of Dea is being hurriedly improved. The territory is one of the most fertile in the valley, and so well adapted to all kinds of fruit. A number of orchards have been planted here and the community is one of the most thriving in the apple section.

BARTLETT PEARS GO EAST

One of Earliest Pre-Crop Sales Recorded Bring $2 a Box.

MEDFORD, Or., July 12.—(Special.)—The Rogue River Valley Fruit and Produce Association sold its first crop of Bartlett pears for the 1912 season today at $2 a box, f. o. b. Medford. The crop will be consigned to Eastern markets and is one of the earliest pre-crop sales ever made in Southern Oregon.

Last year the first sale was made in August and the average price for Bartlett was $1.45 a box. Although the price was not as high as last year, it will be far above the average and all conditions point to a record-breaking price.

Following are the other awards made today by V. R. Gardner, of Oregon Agricultural College, who acted as judge: Commercial pack, class 1, not less than 20 boxes—First, Salem Fruit Union; second, A. Vercler, Polk County; third, E. J. Ferguson, Polk County; fourth, Eos Freshfruit, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 2, not less than 10 boxes—First, C. W. Crawford, Polk County; second, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; third, A. Vercler, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 3, not less than 5 boxes—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 4, best seedling of merit—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

Commercial pack, class 5, best seedling of merit—First, Eos Freshfruit, Marion County; second, S. P. Kimball, Polk County; third, W. F. Crawford, Polk County; fourth, K. B. Kugel, Polk County.

GLADSTONE LOSES BY ELKS' PARADE

2500 Attend Sessions and Approve Efforts of Chicago Operatic Company.

AGRICULTURE GOOD CARD

Dr. Spurgeon Lectures to Large Audience on Religious Topic—Domestic Science Class Is Growing Every Day.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 12.—(Special.)—Though the Elks' big parade slightly interfered with yesterday's attendance at the Chautauqua, a large crowd that ever assembled to hear the famous Chicago Operatic Company in its first of a series of four concerts this afternoon. The work of the company exceeded the anticipation of the 2500 Chautauqua lovers who have awaited their appearance since the 19th session began. Tuesday's grand opera scenes in costume, sung by a company of well-known American artists, is a novel scheme for Chautauqua assemblies, but their high-class rendition of solos, duets and quartets from world-famous operas, with lighter encores, met with popular favor and a still larger attendance witnessed the evening entertainment.

Arthur Middleton, generally recognized as the leading basso in the oratorio, concerto and grand opera work throughout the country; John E. Miller, a well-known tenor; Rosa Lutzger Gannon, soprano; and Edgar A. Nelson, pianist, comprise the star company. The quartet feature of the work alone would be a great drawing card, but even better were the solo numbers. Arthur Middleton, not known in Oregon, was at his best in the famous "Toreador" song. He gave as an encore "Mother o' Mine." The tower scene from "Il Trovatore" was also given. The quartet consisted of Miss Allen and Mr. Miller, and the latter's "I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby" and "The Bohemian Girl" selection, more than did justice to his voice. Mrs. Gordon and Miss Allen maintain the high standard.

Agriculture Is Interesting. "Back to the Farm" was the theme that attracted several hundred to the forum hour this morning. The growing interest in agricultural work, as taught in the public schools and which is at present interesting about 60,000 Oregon school children in competitive work was discussed.

"Mary Arden" is the name of the Shakespeare camp, a comfortable little place in one of Gladstone's parks most picturesque look. The camp is named after the mother of Shakespeare, and today was the scene of a delightful luncheon given by Mrs. Herbert G. Reed, Mrs. Julia C. La Barre, Mrs. E. Fred and Mrs. Ellen Todd, all of Portland. The guests included Mrs. Catherine Oliver McCoy, a Scotch reader; Professor Lee Emerson Bassett and Dr. Spurgeon.

Miss Leah Slusser again pleased as the soloist at the Chautauqua Orchestra concert this afternoon and evening.

Dr. Spurgeon Pleases. Of unusual interest this morning was Dr. Spurgeon's lecture at the Bible school. His theme was "The Bible and Dogmatism in Religion." The Britisher's talk was a treat for an unusually large summer school class, several hundred being present. Classes in the growing fast, particularly in the Shakespeare department, where Professor Bassett, of Stanford University.
