

STATE FAIR GIVES DAY TO SHRINERS

Board Attempts New Idea and Fixes September 2 as Date for Masonic Men.

TRAP SHOOTING PLANNED

Tourney of National Scope Conceived by Directors—Baby and Industrial Shows as Well as Races Are Given Attention.

SALEM, Or., July 16.—(Special).—That the Mystic Shriner will be awarded Saturday, September 2, the last day of the Oregon State Fair, as Shriners' day, was one of the items tentatively made at a meeting of the State Board of Agriculture held here today.

Shot Tournay Planned. Secretary Meredith announced at the meeting that prospects are excellent for county exhibits from Clatsop, Multnomah, Marion, Columbia, Benton, Coos and Clackamas counties, while every State in the state will be represented in the industrial exhibits of the school children.

One of the big new features which was definitely decided upon by the State Fair Board will be a trap-shooting tournament on Monday and Tuesday. This will probably be National in the range of its entries. It will include seven events and possibly eight for each day. There will be two events of 10 targets each, two of 15 targets, two of 20 targets each and two of 25 targets each, with a possible additional set of 25 targets if there is sufficient time.

A purse of $25 will be given for the first average for amateurs with a second prize of $15 and a third prize of $10. There will also be five honor medals for the five highest averages including traps, representatives of the Dumont trophy will be awarded and probably a Dumont cup. A $2 entrance fee will be charged and the Fair Board will add $20 to the purse, which will be divided 40, 30, 20 and 10 cents a target deducted. Those competing for high averages must shoot through all targets, both large and small, representatives for awards will be confined to trophies only.

The State Game and Fish Commission announced that it will furnish a beautiful exhibit and the State Fair Board has agreed to furnish the coops. The board has also agreed to furnish extra fish tanks at the grounds for the State exhibit and the Fish Commission to make a fish exhibit at the Pendleton fair.

Children to Have Playground. The State Fair Board is making arrangements to have the grounds policed this year by members of the Oregon National Guard, the guard to camp at the fair grounds and furnish details for policing. Frank Odell, of Lincoln, Neb., known as the "Bee Wizard," has been secured to make demonstrations daily. J. J. McCarthy, of Oakland, Cal., has been secured as starting judge of the races, has again been secured as starting judge and judge of light harness horses.

The board decided to locate the children's playground which will be an added feature, in the grove north of the band stand, within the enclosed portion of the grounds, and the grove of the stock barns, hitherto not enclosed, will be enclosed for benefit of teams and picnickers. Arrangements were also made for roofing and improving the machinery hall to protect the exhibits from possible rains, which have proved damaging in the past few years.

The board also decided that this year an orchestra of musicians who are residents, can furnish music in the fair, consequently they will receive competitive bids from Oregon organizations, who are also to furnish the vocal music.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 16.—(Special).—Chris Schuebel, of the law firm of U'Ren & Schuebel, today filed amended complaints in his suit for $10,000 damages against the Morning Enterprise, alleging libel. A demurrer to the original complaint was sustained by Judge Campbell, the plaintiff being given leave to amend. The Enterprise is represented by George C. Brownell and J. D. Hedges and the plaintiff by C. D. & D. Latourrette.

OREGON TAXES WATCHED

Assistant Commissioner of New York Says East Observes State.

SALEM, Or., July 16.—(Special).—E. L. Heydecker, assistant State Tax Commissioner of New York, was in the city today as a guest of Charles V. Galloway, member of the State Tax Commission of Oregon. He declined to discuss the tax situation in Oregon, although he declared it is being closely watched in the Eastern states, because of the peculiar phase which has been placed upon it by the county tax amendment of 1910 and all of the possibilities which may arise from that amendment.

There is a possibility that the State Tax Commission of New York may issue a statement as to the possibility of the graduated single tax bill in Oregon before the campaign in this state is over.

BARRACKS ARE LAUDED

BRIGADE POST IS HOPE OF VANCOUVER BUSINESS MEN.

General Maus Authorizes Statement Which Declares Columbia River Fort Is Well Adapted.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 16.—(Special).—Instructed by President Lloyd Dubois, of the Commercial Club, Secretary J. M. Shaw yesterday sent telegrams to the five members of the Washington delegation in Congress urging that their influence be used in the selection of Vancouver Barracks as a brigade post. Keen interest is being taken by the citizens in the project, many of them writing personal letters to Washington setting forth the advantages of the Columbia River fort over its rival, Fort Lawton on Puget Sound.

The following statement, authorized by General Maus, is included in the letter from the Commercial Club: "From a standpoint of a brigade fort, Vancouver Barracks is ideally located. It contains 440 acres of land within the post proper, and in addition a target range located at Probstel 16 miles from the post, which has been adjudged by Army experts one of the finest in the United States. A sidetrack from the North Bank line has also been run into the barracks, facilitating the loading and unloading of troops, and large vessels can be anchored within a short distance of the barracks."

ELKS FLOCK TO VANCOUVER

More Than 240 Lodge Members Pay Visit to City on the Columbia.

VANCOUVER, Wash., July 16.—(Special).—More than 240 visiting Elks, representing 39 states and the territory of Honolulu were guests last week in the new Elks' temple of the city. Including the women of the parlors, about 200 people were entertained by the local lodge. California was the banner state, 50 families being represented, and members from 11 cities being present.

Elks from every state west of the Mississippi were registered, and from many of the Eastern states. The greatest mileage was made by three Pennsylvania men, who traveled over 2000 miles. Jeanne Vander Daller, of San Francisco No. 3, represented the oldest lodge, and Dalton Reed, of Covis, New Mexico, the youngest.

Automobiles met every train and ferry, and the guests were shown Vancouver Barracks, much of the surrounding fruit country, and points of interest around the city. Buffet luncheon was served in the club rooms, and souvenir cards, booklets and badges given away. Members of the California delegation inspected the new home of the Elks with a view to incorporating some of the plans in Elk temples of the South. "I just wish we had a women's parlor like that in the temple at home," exclaimed one woman from Santa Barbara.

During the week many pieces of property changed hands here, with the assurance from the purchasers that they would return to make their home on the Columbia River.

SUFFRAGE CROWDS POSTPONE DINNER

Chautauqua Discussion More Alluring Than Well-Filled Lunch-Baskets.

"VOTES FOR WOMEN" TOPIC

Miss Helen Varick Boswell, of New York, and Mrs. Mary Wood Are Speakers—Dr. Wilson Talks Against Movement.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 16.—(Special).—Lunch baskets were abandoned, Chautauqua restaurant men waited in vain today, for "Woman Suffrage" absorbed the attention of all. The forum hour for "Women's day" started "suffrage" on a free and unrestricted course, at 11 A. M. and the meeting lasted until 1:30 P. M. Then there was a rush for lunch baskets and within 40 minutes the 1500 friends of the movement again were in the auditorium to hear the speaker of the afternoon, Miss Helen Varick Boswell, the young woman chosen by President Taft for Women's Club organization work in Panama.

Suffragists, anti-suffragists and a few "non-committants" thronged the auditorium, and though it was a "suffrage day," those opposed to the movement and who dared to face the "Votes for Women" contingent, were permitted to voice their reasons why women should not be allowed the privilege of the ballot. Among those who dared was Dr. Clarence True Wilson of Portland.

Mrs. Coe Presides. The morning hour beginning at 11 o'clock was in charge of the state league, of which Mrs. Abigail Scott Dunaway is president. In her absence Mrs. Henry Waldo Coe presided. Under the leadership of Mrs. Rose Courson Reed, the woman's chorus of Washington High School gave two well received numbers, one being the "Votes for Women" chorus. Helen Miller Senn read an original poem from the pen of Mrs. Dunaway.

Following Mrs. Mary Wood, one of the visiting club delegates from New York, spoke on the legal aspect of suffrage. Mrs. Senn gave a satire of the anti-suffrage speakers taking occasion to criticize the school system in Panama, which she investigated for the Government a few years ago. She set forth woman's progress in this country, adapting her talk especially to the industrial conditions in America today. She argued that through equal suffrage these conditions would be effectively remedied.

Dr. Wilson Takes Opposition. Mrs. Sarah Evans then called for the opposition—or the "antis"—and Dr. Wilson heroically responded to the call, laying especial stress on the old idea that woman's sphere is the home and not the ballot. He especially answered the argument that woman should not vote because they cannot fight, and then responded to the counter-argument that women fight too much, particularly in England. Miss Breckenridge told of the suffrage movement in Kentucky and pointed out particularly the improvement in the school system of her own state, after women were allowed to vote.

The evening programme was in charge of Mrs. Unruh of the state Women's Christian Temperance Union. A musical programme preceded the lecture of Mrs. Florence Atkins, of Nashville, Tenn., on "Temperance."

Another feature of the evening was the discourse given by the Shakespeare Club, at 4 P. M., on "King Lear." Professor Bassett gave a talk at the same hour on "A Comparison of Shakespeare's Men." Tomorrow the club will give a picnic luncheon for a large number of their friends interested in the Shakespeare study.

Made My Life Worth Living

"I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me," writes Mrs. L. Dunlap, of Oak Grove, Mich. "I have suffered with pains in my back and under my shoulder blades for a number of years, also with a poor appetite and constipation. I tried all of the remedies that I heard of, and a number of doctors, but got no relief. Finally a friend told me to try Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. I got a bottle of them and they soon helped my stomach; by their gentle action my bowels became more regular. Today I feel like praising them to all who suffer as I did, for they have cured me and made my life worth living."

day, in honor of Pacific University day, the concert at 1:15 P. M. will consist of glee club work by the collegians from Pacific, and the usual orchestra programme. Several hundred Pacific alumni and students will arrive on the morning cars.

DAIRY CHIEF ON VISIT

DR. B. H. RAWL COMES TO MEET WITH D. O. LIVELY.

Head of Bureau at Washington Promises Aid for Exhibits at San Francisco Fair in 1915.

Dr. B. H. Rawl, chief of the dairy division of the Bureau of Animal Industry, arrived in the city yesterday and is at the Portland for a few days accompanied by Mrs. Rawl and his secretary. With headquarters in Washington he has entire supervision of the dairy inspection of the country and has under his direction a large force of deputies who have roving commissions as the exigencies of the business may demand.

In speaking of his visit to Portland he said: "It is primarily to meet D. O. Lively, vice-president of the Union Stockyards Company and livestock commissioner of the Panama-Pacific Exposition. It has been the custom in the past for the Government to assist in the management of expositions in their dairy exhibits and after I discuss the matter with Mr. Lively and learn of his plans some scheme will be formulated to assist as far as the money may be available.

"The Pacific Coast has wonderful dairy possibilities that are still only developed in a small way in the aggregate but some districts, through scientific and co-operative action, have reached the highest-known development.

"My division purchases all the butter for the Navy and recently closed a contract with the dairymen of Humboldt County, California, for 200,000 pounds of its butter at a price above the regular market quotation. This is entirely as the result of the excellence of the article produced and I have heard so much of the Tillamook cheese in the East that I propose to visit the county in the next few days to study their processes and methods.

"Equal possibilities exist in different parts of this state and while taking dinner this evening with Dr. Kent, of the Corvallis College and secretary of the Oregon Dairymen's Association, we discussed the starting of a dairy experimental station in this state such as the Government has directed in other states. A thoroughly competent man is sent among the dairymen to study the system used by each and explain to him how it can be improved upon and when a few dairymen in a district show results from such teachings others will inquire into the methods and adopt them. This has been the case in a number of the Eastern States with much success and it should be tried here where the opportunities are so much greater on account of the richness of soil and climatic conditions."
