

GLADSTONE PARK BREAKS RECORDS

Despite Hottest Day of Year
4500 Attend Chautauqua
Pacific University Day.

FATHER CLEARY TO SPEAK

This Is Willamette University Day.
Tomorrow Will Be Shakespeare
Day—Mitchell Will Be Saturday's Speaker.

GLADSTONE PARK, July 17.—(Special.)—The attendance for the 1912 session was broken today at Gladstone Park, despite the fact that it was the hottest day of the year. Over 4500 were on the grounds, a large part of the attendance being from Portland.

It was Pacific University day and the college did itself proud in bringing to the park hundreds of its students and alumni. Both programmes were by the Cambridge Players, an excellent company of readers, vocalists and instrumentalists.

Their performance in the afternoon was preceded by a glee club chorus by the Pacific Glee Club. Preceding the evening entertainment, Miss Goldie Peterson, of Portland, gave a delightful solo. The scene from "The Rivals" in the afternoon and evening feature, the scene from "Henry V." were the best numbers of the Cambridge players. The auditorium was crowded at both sessions.

Willamette Has Day.
Tomorrow is Willamette University day. The forum hour at 11:00 A. M. will be filled by Dr. E. H. Todd, vice-president of the institution. As "Patriotic Day" is also to be observed tomorrow, Dr. Todd's address on "The Coming Citizen" will be appropriate. All old soldiers wearing the little brown button will be admitted free for the whole programme tomorrow.

In the evening at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father J. M. Cleary, of Minneapolis, will lecture on "American Citizenship." Father Cleary is one of the best known Roman Catholic priests in America today, and has won the general esteem of the non-Catholic public for his broad-minded philanthropy and his independence of thought. He is a typical American man of affairs. At present, he is in Portland, the guest of Archbishop Claitor.

The Oregon Reserve band of 30 pieces is another feature for Patriotic day, and under the leadership of Colonel Dumont will be on the grounds for a patriotic concert from 6:45 to 8 o'clock P. M. During the evening Mrs. Pauline Miller will sing "The Star Spangled Banner." Another feature for tomorrow is Frederick Emerson Brooks, who at 3 o'clock P. M. will give as a farewell reading his famous "Pickett's Charge" and "Sherman's March to the Sea," two of his historic papers which have helped to make him famous.

Friday's programme will be a "Shakespeare day with Professor Lee Emerson Bassett, of Stanford University, occupying the morning forum hour at 11 o'clock and the evening platform, when he will read Shakespeare's famous "Hamlet." Impersonation of the characters, S. Platt Jones will give a recital.

John Mitchell Coming.
It plans work out all right, Saturday will be the greatest day in years for the Chautauqua. John Mitchell, America's foremost labor leader, who is in Portland, will give his lecture on "The Philosophy, Purpose and Ideals of the Trades Union Movement" at 2:00 o'clock P. M. The Portland Trades Council and union men generally are taking a keen interest in Mr. Mitchell's appearance at Gladstone, and a committee representing almost every branch of the labor movement in Portland will honor their leader by appearing on the platform with Mr. Mitchell. C. O. Young, general organizer of the Oregon Federation of Labor; Councilman Ralph M. Clyde, W. H. Fitzgerald, R. O. Reeder, of the Carpenters' Union, and other representative labor leaders. Noninterested campers on the ground have taken up the banner for "Mitchell day" and it is expected that over 6000 people will pack the auditorium. There will be a meeting of the general Trades Council at Portland Friday evening to arrange for a big excursion to Gladstone Park for those interested in Mr. Mitchell's work, and the special will probably leave the depot at 12:30 o'clock P. M. Saturday, if arrangements are completed.

Gladstone Wins Ball Game.
Gladstone today shut out the Portland Colts by the overwhelming score of 13 to 0. Rankin's pitching for the locals was the feature. He allowed but two hits and was backed up by errorless support. The outlook now is that Gladstone will win the Chautauqua pennant, as the local team has a record of three straight victories and no defeats. Batteries were: Gladstone, Rankin and Coshaw; Portland, Colts, Kiddie, Tucker and Scott.

Rev. Mr. Wolf, of Okanogan, who was on the grounds, was struck by a foul ball during the game and this coupled with a slight sunstroke which the aged clergyman suffered a few minutes before, left him in pretty serious shape for a short time. Physicians worked with him for three hours before he regained consciousness.

Programme for Thursday.

11:00—Address, Dr. E. H. Todd, vice-president of Willamette University, on "The Coming Citizen."

FARMER WEDS BEAUTY, SAD
W. E. Burke and His Pretty but "Useless" Wife Will Part.

A settlement of property rights was effected privately yesterday afternoon between W. E. Burke and Alameda May Mills, the trial of whose divorce suit has been proceeding in Judge Gates' court for several days. Both insist on a decree, however, and it will be allowed today, the property settlement merely relieving the Judge of that responsibility. According to Jay Bowman, attorney for Burke, the woman will receive the equivalent of between $4500 and $5000 in real estate and cash. W. E. Burke, a prominent farmer of Yamhill County, formerly a real estate dealer in Portland and at one time a member of the Legislature from Multnomah County, married Alameda May Mills, noted for her beauty, in 1910. He took her to his Yamhill County farm, but they failed to get along with each other. Burke declared on the stand that she was useless as a farmer's wife. She complained in turn that he was possessed of an ungovernable temper. The testimony, in short, was such that it was left to Judge Gates to decide which has the worse temper. Mrs. Burke declared that Burke had led her to believe that she was to live by a standard far above that which governs the average farmer's wife and that he had failed to make good in this regard. Neighbors called by the husband testified that Mrs. Burke was in the habit of lying in bed till 9 or 10 o'clock in the morning, much to the scandal of the neighborhood. There was also evidence that dishes were ruthlessly smashed when the quarrels were on.

MAZAMAS ENJOY CAMP
TRIP TO CLOUD CAP INN DE-LIGHTFULLY DUSTY.

Location Excellent, Food the Best and All Are Satisfied—Another Chance Given to Visit Camp.

CAMP SHELTON, Mount Hood, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—After a hot, dusty tramp lasting more than six hours, the first of the party of 51 Mazamas reached camp just before 6 o'clock Monday night. It was after 9 o'clock before the last of the stragglers arrived. Not a single mishap occurred. Owing to the heat and the dust, which was particularly bad out of Parkdale, the tramp was one to satisfy even the most enthusiastic. Long before the hikers reached the shade of the heavy timber where the grade is more marked there was a good deal of speculation as to the distance of the camp. Toward the end, the members of the party were obliged to rest frequently, as the rigors of the early stages of the tramp began to tell upon them. Everybody is agreed, however, that the delights of the camp are worth the discomforts of the tramp. The train arrived at Parkdale shortly after noon and the walk was commenced almost immediately. The heat was excessive and the dust that the party stirred up was annoying. Later it was decided to split the party up into squads to lessen the dust and to enable persons to walk slow or fast as they chose.

An incident of the tramp was the halt at the Homer A. Rogers ranch in the Upper Hood River Valley. Here the earlier squads rested and filled up on what was declared to be the best water in Oregon from the Rogers well. The Rogers ranch house is a rambling affair, with wide verandas that command a view of the entire Hood River Valley and Mount Adams, while at the rear of the house is an unobstructed view of Mount Hood. The hikers spent some time at the Rogers house, inspecting the host's fine collection of mountain pictures. The next halt was at the Rush homestead, just inside the Oregon National Forest.

Camp Sheldon Well Located.
Camp Sheldon is located in a picturesque grove of dwarfed firs and pines, a quarter of a mile below Cloud Cap Inn. No other camping ground could be desired. It was established by Francis W. Benefield, chairman of the outing committee, and is only one of the many evidences of that young man's ability as an organizer and administrator. There is an abundance of wood for camp purposes and the water comes from a glacier only a short distance away. There are numerous open places in the trees, so that the camp proper is sunny and warm at all times. The women have been furnished with tents, but they prefer to use these shelters for dressing rooms, having their beds out in the open, the same as the men. Chief Weston comes up to the specifications in the Mazama leaflet. In fact, the section of that document pertaining to him ought to be printed in red. The hungry bunch that devoured his Irish stew, cocoa, hot biscuit and chocolate cake Monday night were unanimous in his praise.

Party Is Training.
Tuesday was passed in the cutting of boughs for beds. No trips farther than Cloud Cap Inn were made, as it is the desire of H. H. Prouty, chief guide, that all should be free from stiffness before any extended hikes are undertaken. To satisfy those persons who were prevented from joining the party at the start, an arrangement has been made for the Mazamas for a special outing of four days, from Saturday until Tuesday. They will thus be able to participate in the official climb, Monday, July 22. Leaving Portland Saturday morning at 7:30, members of this party will be met by the automobile at Hood River, arriving here the same afternoon. They will spend Sunday and Monday in camp, returning to Portland Tuesday morning. A rate of $13.50 for the entire outing has been made. Bedding is to be brought by the members. The arrangements are in charge of Dorsey B. Smith.

"HIKING NELL" IN TOWN
FEMALE HOBBO PASSED ON BY OREGON CITY SHERIFF.

Woman Claims New York as Stamping Ground and Boasts of Tim Sullivan's Friendship.

OREGON CITY, Or., July 17.—(Special.)—"Hiking Nell," probably the best-known hobo of her sex, was arrested in Oreg. City Monday. She was thought to be insane. When brought to this city by George Ogle, Sheriff Mass at once discovered that the woman was not only not insane but was one of the shrewdest panhandlers operating in these parts. "What's your name?" asked the Sheriff. "Hiking Nell," was the reply. "I mean your real name." "I have no real name—only 'Hiking Nell' and you bet I know my business." "Where are you going, Nell?" asked the Sheriff. "Oh, any old place. I never have no destination. I just drop off the cars in any place they put me off." The woman said she was 32 years of age and had been a tramp ever since she was 15. She said she had beaten her way across the continent six times and intended to start for New York at once. "I'm at home in Gotham," said "Hiking Nell." "Broadway? Why that is my habitat when I am in the big town. What you keeping me here for anyway? Why if 'Slim Pete' and 'Handy Mike' down on the Bowery knew about this outrage there would be something doing somewhere in the neighborhood of Rivington, and 'be-

ANNUAL TOUR TIME FIXED
University of Oregon Glee Club to Enjoy Thanksgiving Vacation.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, July 17.—(Special.)—The University of Oregon Glee Club will take its annual tour this coming season at Thanksgiving instead of just before Christmas, which has been its custom. Negotiations are being made now to have the concert in the Heilig Theater on Thanksgiving evening after the annual game between the university and the Multnomah club eleven. If the Heilig concert is secured on Thanksgiving evening the Portland concert will be held at some other date in the same week.

There is a double purpose in having the tour of the town of the state early in the school year. The Glee Club members are inclined to allow their practice today along in a listless way until the time of the annual trip approaches and it is felt that if the trip is taken at Thanksgiving that the same amount of actual training will be done and the time of the students and the instructor will not be wasted by half-hearted practicing.

Graduate Manager Geary is at present in search of a director for the club. The University of Oregon Glee Club was trained by Melvin Ogden, of Portland, last year and in the 12 preceding tours it was under the direction of Professor Glen, now in Seattle. The Glee Club will visit the principal towns of Eastern Oregon this Fall and probably the Southern Oregon towns as well.
